Lewis & Clark Elementary School's second grade students and teachers will dress up as Santa's helpers for Elf Day on Friday and transform their classrooms into the North Pole.

The second grade elves will put their workshop skills to good use as they rotate through various stations throughout the day to create holiday crafts. The students will be able to take their crafts home next week after they dry over the weekend and feel the joy of creating and gifting a handmade and personalized item to their family or friends.

Crafts that students will be creating to gift to their loved ones include a photo puzzle wreath ornament, a tree ornament, a stocking cap ornament, and a pine cone ornament.
