Performance and learning opportunities will take center stage as students from around the Fargo-Moorhead-West Fargo metro area converge at South High School for the Fargo Area Theatre Festival. Students from South High School, North High School, Davies High School, and Horace High School will participate in the festival.

The festival includes performances of one-act plays, competitive performance events, musical production numbers, joint performance opportunities between schools, and educational workshops on a variety of performance and technical disciplines.

Students and teachers have the opportunity to display their acting and technical achievements in front of peers and theatre professionals. Each theatre troupe will perform their play and receive critique, comment, and supportive feedback from a panel of professionals to help the students grow.

This event helps to bring students from multiple schools together to help foster supportive relationships and create a feeling of community between theatre students throughout the area.
