

University of Lynchburg

Masters of Education (MEd) in School Administration and Supervision Virtual Information Sessions

The University of Lynchburg Masters of Education in PreK-12 School Administration and Supervision (MEd) prepares students for certification as a Virginia school leader. Through a focus on innovation and inclusivity, students gain a full understanding of how schools and school districts operate today and how leaders can collaborate to meet the needs of the future.

Program highlights:

- Cohort model with 2 classes per semester (fall, spring, and summer)
- Virtual, synchronous schedule
- 36 credit program including 6 credits for the culminating internship
- Internship experiences beginning in the first semester
- Interaction with leaders around the state on key topics
- More information about the program can be found at this link.

Join us for an information session with the program director and a current student on any of the following dates:

- Thursday, February 1, 2024, 4:30 pm (Meeting Link)
- Tuesday, February 20, 7:00 pm (Meeting Link)
- Tuesday, February 27, 8:00 am (Meeting Link)

Questions? Contact Program Director Mac Duis at duis_m@lynchburg.edu or 434-544-8284.

University of Lynchburg

Doctor of Education (EdD) in Leadership Studies Virtual Information Sessions

The University of Lynchburg Doctor of Education in Leadership Studies (EdD) is an interdisciplinary doctoral program that prepares candidates for a wide range of leadership roles. Graduates include leaders in the K-12 and higher education, non-profit, mental health, medical, and business sectors. The rigorous coursework, practical experiences, and dissertation research blend principles and theory of leadership with practice. Students in the program develop a close-knit network of support that lasts well into the future.

Program highlights:

- Cohort model with 2 classes per semester (fall, spring, and summer)
- Virtual, synchronous schedule
- 14 leadership courses and 12 credits for dissertation research
- More can be found about the program at this link.

Join us for an information session with the program director and a current student on any of the following dates:

- Tuesday, January 30, 2024, 4:30 pm (Meeting Link)
- Tuesday, February 13, 2024, 7:00 pm (Meeting Link)
- Thursday, February 29, 2024, 8:00 am (Meeting Link)

Questions? Contact Program Director Mac Duis at duis_m@lynchburg.edu or 434-544-8284.