Greetings,

I hope all is well today. It's time again for "What Will I Be" Wednesday. Do you like kids? Do you like explaining subject content areas to your friends? If so, you may want to consider a profession as a teacher. A teacher's job is to use innovative strategies to help students learn a variety of subjects such as: math, science, art, music, PE, social studies, reading, and language arts. In order to become a teacher, you must graduate from high school and receive at least a bachelor's degree from a college or university. Is this a career you would enjoy? This week is Teacher Appreciation week. Take some time and thank your teacher in a creative way. Thank you, Dr. Sutherland, for bringing more career awareness to us! Have a remarkable day!
