SECOND GRADE EXPLORERS

November flew by in Second Grade! We can't believe it is already December! The highlight of the month was building rollercoasters in science class. The students had a wonderful time exploring force, motion, gravity, and friction while working together to design and create a rollercoaster that would allow a marble to travel freely from the start to finish. It was such an awesome experience to see the students working together and sharing their creative sides. In writing class, we've begun working on our family tradition projects. Students are writing paragraphs in school and making a poster at home to accompany it. They are super excited to share their traditions with classmates. We are all looking forward to the upcoming holiday break!

THIRD GRADE EXPLORERS

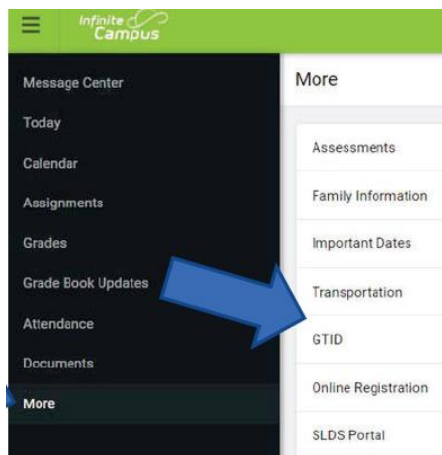

What could be more appropriate to get in the Thanksgiving spirit than a celebration of the turkey?

Third grade spent the week before Thanksgiving busy with turkeys! They enjoyed making little turkeys out of apples or cookies. We hope it was used as a fabulous table decoration. Speaking of turkeys, we wrote a story and created a turkey disguise. The students are really getting the hang of adding good hooks and dialogue into their writing to make it more interesting. To round out the week, we practiced math facts with hidden turkey multiplication puzzles and riddles.

Northwood Loves to Read!

Our Book Fair was a great success - thank you to all our volunteers and shoppers. Sales totaled over $20,000 in the 5 days of sales! Huge thanks to Lauren Caldwell, Jennifer Hazelwood, and Andrea Vandervort for stepping up and heading this year's fair. We truly appreciate your dedication and enthusiasm for Northwood's media center. We also greatly appreciate the parents and grandparents who gave their time to help throughout the week. We could not have been successful without your support.
