Anderson Island Elementary

Dear Eagle Families,

We've had an exceptional week at Anderson Island Elementary, filled with celebrations and opportunities for growth.

Firstly, I'm thrilled to announce that we celebrated all our February reading success with a delightful doughnut party today! Seeing our students' dedication to their reading goals is truly inspiring, and I commend them for their hard work and enthusiasm. Let's keep the momentum going as we continue to foster a love for reading throughout our school community.

As we look ahead, I want to remind everyone that we have a well-deserved three-day weekend approaching for our students. It's the perfect opportunity to recharge and spend quality time with family and friends. Whether exploring the outdoors or simply relaxing at home, I hope you make the most of this time to rejuvenate and prepare for the weeks ahead.

Our dedicated teachers will also attend an in-service tomorrow at Chloe Clark Elementary. They'll engage in valuable discussions about our Mystery Science curriculum and the Next Gen Science Standards. These professional development opportunities are instrumental in ensuring our educators are equipped with the latest tools and strategies to support student learning effectively.

In closing, I encourage our Eagles to take care of themselves this weekend. Remember to get plenty of rest, spend time outdoors, and, of course, continue reading! Your well-being is paramount, and I look forward to seeing you all refreshed and ready to tackle another fantastic week ahead.

I wish you all a wonderful weekend filled with joy and relaxation. I look forward to seeing you all next week.
