"Your name here."

Arriann Custer, director of Family School Partners, was thrilled with donor recognition plaque created by the Graphic Design (Mr. Metz) and Precision Machining (Mr. Foley) departments. Over time, the plates will have donors' names engraved on them and the plaque has a place of pride in the BCSC Administration building. The house logo is composed of translucent acrylic pieces, inset in the wood plaque.

This week Business Management students had another opportunity to present business proposals for the Maverick Challenge. Students in Radio and TV assisted with the presentations. Above, East senior Malachi Parks uses a new "shotgun mic," which allows for safe social distance without compromising sound quality.

Great collaboration and safety practice within C⁴!

C⁴ Provides Holiday Cheer!

Load up your family and drive over to Columbus North High School to view the holiday lights from dusk to dawn. All donations go to Love Chapel. C⁴ Networking and Construction students worked together on the display. At left, CNHS senior Savannah Hacker, Networking II, hangs more lights.
