Mrs. Huber's Adult Roles and Responsibilities class created a giant game of Life and played it using random game pieces from around the classroom. They used a bottle of lotion, a stuffed bulldog, a marker, and a giant apple as they made their way through the game. Players did their best to budget for the unexpected things "life" (aka their classmates) threw at them.

BNN students worked alongside BCSC Communications Coordinator Josh Burnett and BCSC Digital Media Coordinator Dustin Lowman at several North vs. East sporting events this past week. They covered girls' soccer, boys' soccer, and football. Six different BNN students were involved in learning how to live stream these events. They plan to cover more community events this school year.

Mrs. Steinwedel & Mrs. Marolf's students in Principles of Biomed are well on their way to solving the mysterious death of "Anna Garcia." Photos (R) show their first day of exposure to the scene of her death. Is it a crime?
