

Gravis Law

Special Needs Planning in Spokane

Congratulations on taking an important step in creating your legacy!

Your family and your estate are unique. Creating an estate plan is your opportunity to provide a road map for how your wishes should be carried out both during your lifetime and in the future. A complete estate plan should address the possibility of incapacity for yourself or a loved one, asset administration, and what happens after death. The Gravis Law estate planning team in Spokane will help you create an effective and efficient plan that reflects your goals and wishes – in language that you can understand!

We gather information about your family, assets, and wishes and intent to make informed and appropriate recommendations for a plan that best achieves your goals. In many cases, at the initial consultation, we can quote a flat fee for preparing your estate planning documents, so you know in advance how much our services will cost. For more complex estates, we may need to bill hourly for complex assets such as a business, tax planning, and other special issues.

We will make sure you have the basics covered:

Social Security Disability

Guardianship

Special Needs Trusts

In our approach to estate planning, special needs planning is a crucial component focused on securing the long-term care of our loved ones with disabilities or special needs. It's more than managing and distributing assets; it involves creating strategies to ensure they continue receiving necessary care and resources. A key element is establishing a Special Needs Trust (SNT), which manages assets without affecting eligibility for benefits like Medicaid or SSI. The SNT covers expenses enhancing quality of life, often not included in public assistance. We understand the importance of correctly structuring and administering the trust, including selecting a knowledgeable trustee and integrating the plan into our overall family estate. This gives us peace of mind, knowing our vulnerable loved ones are cared for and financially secure.

Whatever may come, we are here to help you create the map for how your wishes should be carried out both during your lifetime and further down the road.

We gather information about your family, assets, and wishes to make informed and appropriate recommendations for a plan that best achieves your goals. In many cases, at the initial consultation, we can quote a flat fee for preparing your estate planning documents, so you know in advance how much our services will cost. We are happy to meet with you in and around Spokane, and we have assisted clients from the San Juan Islands to the deserts of the Tri-Cities.

We Can Help

GravisLaw.com | estates@gravislaw.com

We also assist our clients with:

- Wills & Trusts
- Charitable Giving
- Taxes
- Family Limited Partnerships
- Other Business Entities
- Elder Law
- Special Needs Trusts
- Durable Powers of Attorney

Randi Johnson
(509) 241-3705
rjohnson@GravisLaw.com

After building her own law firm, Randi joined Gravis Law as Chief Engagement Officer, focusing on attorney development and leading marketing efforts. A committed servant leader, she has roles with the WA State Developmental Disabilities Endowment Trust Fund, National Association of Women Business Owners – NW Chapter, ConnectHER Idaho, and serves on an Executive Committee.

Now is the perfect time to solidify your final wishes and uncomplicate the process for your loved ones after you pass. Get in touch with a Gravis Estate Planning attorney to put your plan into action.

Visit Estates.GravisLaw.com or call (509) 241-3705.