

Dear Families/Caregivers,

Life is not meant to be a solo act. People are designed to work and play together. Cooperation is essential for getting along with others. Working together benefits everyone!

We have been learning how to incorporate the opinions and ideas of others in a group activity. When working with a group, it is important that each group member:

- Gets along.
- Respects each other.
- Offers ideas and opinions.
- Uses positive talk.
- Participates and contributes.

Here are a few ways you can help your child learn to incorporate the opinions and ideas of others in a group:

- Play games as a family. When deciding what to play, help your child to practice listening to family members' opinions.
- Encourage your child to help you cook. Help your child notice how helping each other and contributing helped you to create a delicious meal.
- Praise your child when you see him or her listening to the opinions and ideas of others while playing with siblings or friends.

Sincerely,

Your Child's Teacher
