Greetings,

I am the president of the Ann Arbor Chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Incorporated, a national membership organization dedicated to nurturing future African American leaders by strengthening children through leadership development, volunteer service, philanthropic giving, and civic duty. I am writing to share an exciting scholarship opportunity available to your students.

The competitive academic incentive, the Jack and Jill Ann Arbor Future Leader Community Award, will be awarded to graduating African American seniors who stand out amongst the candidates who meet the criteria listed on the attached flyer and complete the attached application. The application period is open from February 12 – April 30, 2024. All materials must be received by this date to be considered. The winner will be notified by mid-May.

We appreciate your assistance in sharing this opportunity with your senior students who meet the criteria. Should you or they have any questions, please contact our Academic Incentive Award Foundation Chair persons at ija2foundation@gmail.com.

Also, you may find more information on our website: <http://jackandjillannarbor.org>

In service,

Brandy Merritt, President
