

BUILDING OUR FUTURE

CELEBRATING THE COMPLETION OF THE FIRST PHASE OF THE COMMUNITY'S MASTER PLAN

GRAND OPENING CELEBRATION

AUGUST 2021

THIS IS TRULY A GREAT TIME TO BE A GOLDEN BEAR!

This fall we celebrate an incredible milestone for the Upper Arlington community—the completion of the first phase of the facilities master plan for our schools—on schedule and on budget!

The master plan was a labor of love for so many volunteers from across our community. We came together and took the necessary time to identify facilities needs and develop a financially responsible, student-centered plan for moving ahead. Now, six years after our first facilities meetings, we have five fully renovated or rebuilt elementary schools and a state-of-the-art high school unlike any other in the Midwest.

Instead of letting the costs of maintaining aging buildings continue to grow and having to defer funding from educational operations, our community faced the financial issue head-on and found a solution that will benefit students for generations to come. These new flexible, light-filled learning spaces are designed to support students as they develop the skills necessary to serve, lead and succeed.

There are so many people to recognize for making this vision a reality. Hundreds of people donated their time to one of our financial committees, building teams or the levy committee. Hundreds more took the time to become informed and share feedback by attending our community meetings. Thousands more shared their thoughts through surveys. Nearly 400 more showed their support through donations to the Legacy Campaign. All of Upper Arlington came together to shape the master plan, and now all of Upper Arlington's children will benefit from the result of that work well into the future.

I must also recognize the staff members who have played such a critical role in making the first phase of the plan a reality. They took part in committees and user group meetings. They spent hours packing and unpacking. They smiled through the stress and kept their focus on what was best for students. Our maintenance and operations teams rose to the herculean task of moving entire schools over and over again. I am so honored to work with such a dedicated team.

Thank you for taking the time to celebrate the grand opening of these amazing new spaces for our students. We look forward to many, many more opportunities for you to come inside these buildings as they serve our community for generations to come.

Thank you, and, as always, GO BEARS!

Sincerely,

PAUL IMHOFF, Ed.D.

Oh Arlington, dear Arlington,
Our hearts will ne'er forget.
The care-free ways of high school days,
we leave with deep regret.
The days of yore will be no more,
but through the coming years,
the thought of you and friends so true,
will bring us joy and tears.
Oh Arlington, dear Arlington,
Our hearts will ne'er forget.
The Gold and Black will bring us back to Dear Old Arlington!

BUILDING OUR FUTURE

LOOKING BACK AT THE COMMUNITY'S MASTER PLAN

Beginning in the fall of 2015, the Upper Arlington community came together to craft a long-term facilities master plan for the district's aging schools. Throughout the process, thousands of residents, students and staff members shared their thoughts on the best path forward for our aging schools – by volunteering on a building team, attending a community meeting, taking an online survey, or hosting or attending a small-group coffee chat.

After nearly three years and more than 8,000 touch points in the process, Upper Arlington voters endorsed building a new Upper Arlington High School and renovating or rebuilding all five elementary schools on the November 2017 ballot. The $230 million bond issue was supplemented by the historic Upper Arlington Legacy Capital Campaign that successfully raised $7.5 million toward construction costs and project enhancements to further the daily student experience in Upper Arlington Schools.

Following the passage of the bond issue, Upper Arlington Schools then again went out to the community to engage in a design process for all six projects in the first phase of the community's master plan. Following a year-long design process, Upper Arlington Schools began BUILDING OUR FUTURE in the spring of 2019 for the Upper Arlington students and community of today and for generations to come.

The Barrington Elementary School addition, the new Greensview Elementary School, the Tremont Elementary School renovation and addition project and the new Wickliffe Progressive Elementary School were all completed on schedule and on budget in August 2020. The new Upper Arlington High School, the Barrington renovation project and the new Windermere Elementary School reached this milestone – also on schedule and on budget – with a grand opening in August 2021 for the start of the 2021-2022 school year. The new Tremont athletic fields, also part of the first phase of the community's master plan, were completed earlier, in 2019.

These new and renovated schools provide additional space – approximately 200,000 square feet across all six projects – to meet the needs of our growing school district. They also offer modern and flexible learning environments that will better prepare our students for their futures. In the event that growth exceeds projections, each project has been designed to have a logical place for a classroom addition, if needed.

After completion of the first phase of the master plan, the Upper Arlington Board of Education and the community will revisit the second phase, including the two middle schools and Burbank Early Childhood School.

HISTORY OF THE UPPER ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL SITE

Goodbye to 1650 Ridgeview Road

At the end of the 2020-2021 school year, the current Upper Arlington High School was decommissioned to make way for the opening of the new school – at 1625 Zollinger Road – in August.

Upper Arlington High School opened the doors of the Ridgeview Road building to students in September of 1956, and a few months later, in February 1957, the new school was officially dedicated at a community-wide ceremony in the gymnasium.

This building was a hub of the community for many years, and whether you're an alumnus, a current UA Schools student, a parent or a grandparent, or a resident of this community, you most likely have memories of the old high school building.

Jack Graf, the 2021 president of the Upper Arlington Alumni Association (UAAA), was among the first decade of classes to graduate from the building - in 1965. By then, the school was in the process of expanding a second time and would eventually grow from the original 107,000 square feet to the nearly 294,000 square feet.

"As alumni, this building is a big part of our memories of high school," Graf said. "We performed and created, practiced and competed, and learned and grew as students and young adults – all in this building. We'll never forget this school or those memories."

The Pleasant Litchford Family

Pleasant Litchford was a master blacksmith who had been enslaved in Virginia, bought his freedom and settled in the area that is now Upper Arlington, purchasing the land that is now home to the high school as well as Northam Park and Tremont Elementary School. He made great contributions to the area, including donating land for a school for African American children.

In the 1950s, the school district acquired part of what had been Litchford's land to build the Ridgeview Road high school building. At that time, approximately 30 bodies were exhumed from the Litchford family cemetery and moved to other cemeteries in the area. Recent archaeological investigations found that human remains were left behind – discovering one fully intact grave and three partially exhumed graves adjacent to the school.

Work to demolish the old building is being done with great care, especially in the area built on the site of the Litchford family cemetery. Archaeologists have been on site during the demolition process, doing additional research.

The district is continuing to work with Litchford family descendants and community members to determine how to properly commemorate the contributions and legacy of Pleasant Litchford and the history of the site as the Litchford family cemetery – acknowledging and honoring our past as we celebrate our future.

NEW OR RENOVATED ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

It has been an exciting time for all of our elementary schools! Construction wrapped up in August of 2020 on the new and different learning spaces in the Barrington addition, the new Greensview building, the Tremont renovation and addition project, and the new Wickliffe. Construction continued through the 2020-2021 school year to renovate the original parts of the Barrington building and build the new Windermere to open August 2021. The grand opening celebrates the completion of all of these projects – on budget and on schedule.

ALL OF THE NEW AND RENOVATED ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS FEATURE:

- A much-needed increase in educational space – approximately 100,000 square feet across all five projects
- Learning neighborhoods with flexible classroom spaces, small group and commons areas
- Updated and centralized media centers – learning spaces at the heart of each school
- All new building systems – mechanical, electrical and plumbing
- Safety enhancements such as secure entrances and other updates

BARRINGTON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ADDITION AND RENOVATION

The new Barrington addition totals 22,824 square feet of learning space and features a bright two-story media center that opens to an outdoor learning courtyard. With the highest enrollment in the district, the completed Barrington project features 36 classrooms in six learning neighborhoods, a renovated cafeteria and kitchen, fully updated building systems and a renovated main entrance in the original tower along Barrington Road.

UPPER ARLINGTON LEGACY CAPITAL CAMPAIGN

For the first time in the history of Upper Arlington Schools, a capital campaign was brought to the forefront to support the monumental task of building state-of-the-art, comprehensive academic facilities. Private donors joined together, with the Upper Arlington Board of Education and Upper Arlington Legacy Capital Campaign Committee, to raise $7.5 million to augment the $230 million bond-levy endorsed by Upper Arlington voters in November of 2017.

THE LEGACY CAMPAIGN HAS FULFILLED ITS GOAL OF RAISING $7.5 MILLION TO FUND:

$5 million

As promised to the community throughout the bond-levy campaign, toward the construction costs essential for the completion of the facilities project to renovate or rebuild six school buildings

$2.5 million

For "The Honor Project," which goes beyond the construction costs to enhance students' academic journeys in all facets of their academic and co-curricular experiences, including music, arts, and athletics
