SOPHOMORE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT 2024

EDUCATION

Nicolle Bradshaw '96
History Teacher
Sage Hill School

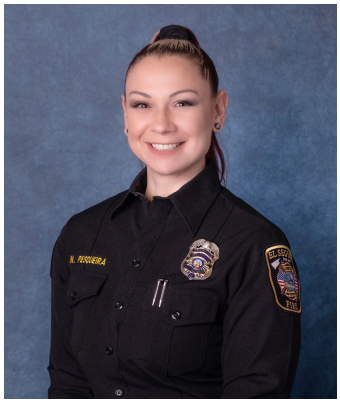

Carly Lee '98
Co-Principal
Los Angeles Archdiocese

LAW & GOVERNMENT

Carrie Nocella '95
Director External Affairs
Disneyland Resort

Nicole Pesqueira '03
Fire Marshal
Brea Fire Department

BUSINESS & FINANCE

Christina (Kina) DeSantis '13
Founder/Realtor
Reframe

Lisa Kasten '87
Director of Financial Services
The California State University

Seema Sharma '93
Director of Global Corporate
Real Estate & Planning
Pinterest

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Natalia Baeza '14
Marketing Manager
Skydance Media

Ella Parlor '07
Founding Partner
Ella Parlor Consulting

SOPHOMORE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT 2024

CREATIVE & FASHION/MAKEUP

Macy Cendejas '14
Senior Talent Manager
MVE Management

Nisha Govind '91
Designer
Reform

Gabrielle Jordan '07
Motion Picture Costumer
current: Marvel

STEM

Stephanie Kolbusz '16
Lead Hardware Engineer
Raytheon Technologies

Angela Valadez '10
Sales Leader
Google Cloud

MEDICINE / HEALTH & WELLNESS

Isabella Kearns '14
NICU BSN, RN II
NICU Nurse
CHOC

Brooke Miller '03
MSN, RNC-OB, RNC-IAP
Nurse Manager, Surgery
Providence St. Joseph Hospital

photo of panelist not presented*

SOPHOMORE

Professional Development Day

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Jacqueline Sarkissian '07

Jacqueline Sarkissian couldn't be more excited to be back home working for KTLA as a general assignment reporter. It's at this very station where her career in broadcast journalism started more than 10 years ago. Jacqueline was born and raised in Diamond Bar. She went to Rosary High School in Fullerton (Go Royals!) and graduated with honors from USC with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication from the Annenberg School of Communication and Journalism. While at SC, Jacqueline was co-captain of the world famous Song Girls. FIGHT ON!!!! Jacqueline first started at KTLA as an intern before accepting a position on the assignment desk. In 2015, she made the move to small town Tyler, Texas to report and anchor for the city's CBS affiliate, KYTX. She was a "one-man-band" journalist where she shot, edited, and wrote her own stories in addition to being in front of the camera. From there she moved to Austin, which was tough at first living in Longhorn Country since she's a proud Trojan and still slightly bitter over the 2005 National Championship loss to Texas. Jacqueline was the morning reporter for FOX 7 Austin's morning show "Good Day Austin." Her last stop before coming back to KTLA was the station's sister station KSWB in San Diego. She was waking up America's Finest City dark and early starting at 4:30am as the station's morning news reporter. Jacqueline is ecstatic to return home and tell the stories that impact the community she grew up in. She is especially proud to serve as a voice for the Armenian community.