About The Yawp

“Now, for those of you who don't know, a ‘yawp’ is a loud cry or yell,” actor Robin Williams proclaimed in the famous 1989 movie, Dead Poets Society. In the film, Williams played the role of English teacher John Keating who inspired his students through his teaching of poetry to make their lives extraordinary. Shortly after the movie, in the early-1990s, a student newspaper named The Yawp was developed and existed for several years at Pacelli High School. When creating this magazine, The Yawp seemed to be a fitting name due to both its meaning and history on campus. We are so excited about what's happening at St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School, we're ready to shout it from the rooftops! So, today, The Yawp is one of many opportunities to help you stay connected with St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School.

Mission Statement: St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School, through Catholic formation and academic excellence, is committed to the spiritual, intellectual, and physical development of the students entrusted to our care.

PRESIDENT'S NOTE

We have so much to celebrate this year, including the diamond anniversary of our high school! Pacelli High School opened its doors 60 years ago on September 2, 1958. Through the years, this faith-filled place has made a positive impact on thousands of lives. Read more about our school's rich history and the pioneers known as "The Pacellians" in an article on page 3.

Before I was a school leader, I walked these halls as a student. This place of opportunity has grown in many ways over the years. This past summer, our entire campus underwent phase one of a major transformation thanks to early donors of our Building on Tradition: A Vision for the Future Capital Campaign. Learn more about exciting changes happening here as a result of our $7 million capital campaign on page 14.

More people are experiencing the value in our curriculum, smaller environment, and emphasis on faith and service. St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School is enjoying a 14 percent increase in total enrollment over last school year; in our high school, enrollment is at an 18 year high. Academically, we introduced STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics) courses for our 4th-8th graders at the start of the current school year; our Lower School students are benefiting from "Being a Writer," a new program that integrates social-emotional development with writing, grammar usage, and mechanics instruction; and our middle and high school students are making music in new Chorus and Band classes.

Our students are encouraged to participate and have an opportunity to play a sport in every season of the academic year. Viking Athletics begins in elementary school, as young as 3rd grade. Middle and high school athletes compete in 12 sports. More than 84 percent of our middle and high school students participate in at least one sport. Over the past four years, 17 athletes signed to play sports at the collegiate level in six different sports.

All of our pillars – faith, honesty, loyalty and respect – are so embedded here that you can see it in the cafeteria, in the halls, and in speaking to our students. I think that's our biggest blessing – God is surely in this place. I deeply appreciate your continued support of St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School and for being a part of a proud family that daily we proclaim, "Every Day is a Great Day to Be A Viking!"

Faith in Education,

The Pacellians

By Tara Pepper

Prior to September 2, 1958, when Pacelli opened its doors to students for the first time, the idea of a Catholic high school in Columbus, Georgia seemed implausible to many. Not so to Monsignor Herman Deimel, a native of Fitzgerald, Georgia. As a ringleader of sorts (by all accounts), and against odds, Monsignor Deimel instilled in the Catholic community, in parents and in future students of Pacelli hope and inspiration – enough to make what would become Pacelli High School a reality. Even the purchase of the property at Kay Circle a few years before required coordination of circumstances and timing that some believe would not have happened without much prayer and the help of the Holy Spirit.

Those early classrooms were filled with students who in the moment perhaps did not realize that they were pioneers. Many of them admit today that at the time they did not comprehend the great sacrifices their parents, clergy members, the Sisters of Mercy and other members of the local Catholic community made to secure their opportunity for a Catholic education. From the beginning, parents contributed what they could. They cooked and baked to raise money and labored to develop and improve the campus. Several families bought homes across the street from the school and were ‘on call’ for anything at any time. They formed a community that today the alumni (and some of the parents) from the early years call “family.”

Those early “Pacellians,” as they referred to themselves, also did not realize at the time the significance of their not only holding their own, but winning academic, athletic and charitable fundraising competitions (e.g. the March of Dimes Walkathon) against larger well-established schools in the community. They didn’t know - or maybe accept - that they weren’t expected to compete, but they did so with confidence born of faith. Comparatively, enrollment numbers alone stacked the odds against them and without question the examples they witnessed in the faithful, caring, determined adults who surrounded them gave them the courage and motivation to accomplish the unexpected.

Today with the benefit of retrospection, our pioneers balance humility with pride as they recognize their contribution to the extraordinary legacy of Pacelli. It is their story and gift to us. We are the grateful and proud benefactors of that legacy. It is legacy, first and foremost, of faith and also that of community, persistence and excellence.

In September this year at the Go Big Red Gala, an event held to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the school, Bishop Emeritus J. Kevin Boland beautifully expressed the sentiments and appreciation felt by so many who appreciate the sacrifices and examples set by those who made Pacelli a reality. He said (in that Irish accent so familiar to long-time parishioners of St. Anne where he was pastor before he moved to Savannah to become our Diocese’s 13th bishop): “Congratulations on your Diamond Jubilee. A jubilee gives us the chance to say, ‘Thank you,’ to all who made this occasion possible. The presence of the Holy Spirit is evident in all that went before. We pray that the Holy Spirit will continue to nourish your tomorrows. It is impossible to measure all of the gifts of faith, love and education from yesteryear, but these gifts are the stepping stones to all of your tomorrows. Peace and blessings on this special and sacred occasion. Amen.”

Amen, indeed. We are grateful and recognize our responsibility in instilling in today’s students the same values held by the “Pacellians” of yesteryear. In so doing we will honor and continue the legacy.

Q & U Say, "I Do!"

Each February, around Valentine's Day, St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School Pre-K-4 students celebrate the Wedding of Q & U! This special event is a memorable way to teach students the spelling pattern of "qu." The wedding reinforces the idea that every time we write a word with a "q," we always follow the "q" with a "u."

St. Anne-Pacelli President and High School Principal Ms. Ronie Collins, Assistant Lower School Principal Mrs. Angel Cash, Vikings Football Head Coach Mark LeGree and Lower School Principal Mrs. Jocelyn Smith had important roles in the wedding of Q & U!

Early Childhood Educators

By Heather Dalelio, Kindergarten Teacher

Our Primary Hall teachers have always been strong, confident, Early Childhood educators. These eight teachers have been working together for many years and strive to teach the curriculum in the best manner possible. However, what we love and what drives us the most is the development of the children. Over the years we have been able to create a faculty morale that displays a sense of belonging and team spirit which in turn increases student performance. It is important for us to begin our day by making each student feel at ease by greeting them in the hallway as they walk to their classroom. We aim for each child to feel a strong sense of belonging not only to the school and their friends but also in the classroom environment where they begin to develop both from an educational and social perspective each day.

Former U.S. Secretary of Education William J. Bennett recently said, “We – all of us, but especially the young – need around us individuals who possess a certain nobility, a largeness of soul, and qualities of human experience worth imitating and striving for.”

Leveled Book Room

By Mrs. Terri Townsend, Lower School Media Specialist

St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School is excited to announce that our Lower School teachers will be using the Scholastic Leveled Bookroom 4.0, a whole school solution for small-group guided reading. Teachers are supported with 24/7 access to easy-to-use comprehensive teaching materials through the Leveled Bookroom Accelerator digital tool. These resources help simplify instruction, helping teachers make the most out of small group time. Students get access to acclaimed, authentic, leveled books that keep them engaged and provide rich reading opportunities to help them progress and excel in their reading journey.

Rooted in Sacred Tradition, Growing in Catholic Faith

By Emily Miller, 5th Grade Teacher

The intermediate grades (3rd, 4th, and 5th) embarked on a prayerful routine last year to share the power of prayer, tradition and faith. The students and teachers gather once a month to share “Shout Outs” and pray a decade of the rosary.

The “Shout Outs” are simple slips of paper filled out by a student that recognize another student for a good act. These simple slips pack a powerful punch in that they promote recognition of all the ways students work as disciples of Christ and share the Good News. The look on a child’s face when they are recognized for a good deed is priceless and goes a long way to show how we live Gospel values.

The rosary is a rich practice of prayer that allows us to strengthen our school group as a family in Christ as we meditate on the saving mysteries of our Lord’s life and the faithful witness of our Blessed Mother. Sharing this prayer monthly allows the children another opportunity to share their faith together and become champions for peace.

The monthly gathering holds true to our school mission of promoting Catholic development and the spiritual growth of all students. The students are truly growing in wisdom and grace!

How Are You Smart?

Mrs. Gabrielle Bryant's 6th grade Grammar and Literacy classes enjoyed examining all the ways they learn/process information by completing a Multiple Intelligences Assessment sponsored by Edutopia.org. The theory of multiple intelligences, developed in 1983 by Harvard University professor Dr. Howard Gardner, proposes eight different intelligences to account for a broader range of human potential in children and adults.

Mrs. Bryant's students recorded their results in Google Forms and determined their top three pathways to learning, or the ways they are "smart." All of the students enjoyed discovering their strongest intelligences, and discussed whether or not the results mirrored their predictions. The benefits of identifying their strongest intelligences can be found in collaborative grouping opportunities and choice boards. Students are paired with like-minded classmates to maximize their working relationships on projects and performance tasks.

Let's Make Music!

St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School students in grades 6-12 are making music through new instrumental and choral music classes being offered this year. Mr. Dan Adams, a new member of the Viking faculty family, has over 15 years of professional experience in the music industry as both a performer and educator. He is providing students with varied opportunities to participate in musical activity in an effort to learn about and enjoy musical experiences as a performer and/or a listener, as well as planning activities that support the St. Anne-Pacelli educational community. Band & Chorus students' next quarterly performance is December 20, 2018. In addition, Mr. Adams is launching an after-school Viking Pep Band and Drumline Club for middle and high school students this year.

Finding a Home in St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School

Noreen Rodriguez shares her St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School experience during the Go Big Red Gala.

The following speech was written and delivered by Noreen Rodriguez for our Go Big Red Gala – a celebration of 60 years of Pacelli High School – on September 20, 2018. Also known as N Rod, Noreen graduated from St. Anne School in 1988 and Pacelli High School in 1992. She currently teaches Pre-AP Pre-Calculus, AP Calculus AB, AP Statistics, AP Calculus BC and Dual Enrollment Math through St. Anne-Pacelli's partnership with Georgia Military College. She also serves as coach to the High School Vikings Cross Country Team.

I stand before you today as a product of Catholic schools and St. Anne Church, because of a decision my parents made for me when they moved our family from Augusta to Columbus, Georgia in 1982.

"Father Boland" had just finished building his new church. Visitation Hall would not be around for another 11 years. I had just received my First Holy Communion from Fr. Boland. My parents tried to get us enrolled right away at St. Anne School, but there was a long waiting list. Instead, I had to attend a local public elementary school, where one of my "best friends" stole my birthday watch, and if you didn't finish your classwork by the end of the day you got a spanking by the principal. I still remember the day when I was running back from the playground to the school at recess and a kid pushed me from behind intentionally. I fell to the ground. As I was dusting off my bruised knees and my bruised ego, I remember looking back at him. He was laughing. I still remember his name. Second grade was not my favorite year in school.

A year later, I found myself at St. Anne School, sitting in Mrs. Pat Nobes' 3rd grade classroom. I was terrified and ready to cry on the first day of school, not because someone might steal my watch or bully me on the playground, but because Mrs. Nobes asked us to recap our summer vacation with a paragraph. And this paragraph was to be written in cursive. I was having an internal panic attack as I saw everyone excitedly writing down their summer memories in perfect cursive handwriting that they had learned in 2nd grade last year, but my 2nd grade teacher at the other school had not taught me how to write in cursive. I quickly realized that my new Catholic school peers were more advanced, and I had to catch up with them. I dug deep, studied every cursive letter displayed above the chalkboard, and wrote each letter down as best as I could (holding back tears because I felt like a total failure). I will never forget the name of the boy sitting right across from me at my table: Brian. He sensed my distress and said, "Hey, don't worry, you're gonna be fine. I promise, you're going to like it here." This was the first day of school, and I had not been there for more than two hours, but right away, I made a friend who changed my whole educational experience.

I share this memory with you because this was my very first impression of how a Catholic school was different than any other school. The difference was dramatic. This was the first of countless experiences that would help shape my mind, body, heart and soul.

I have been taught and ministered by the example and wisdom of many of the great legends in this community, including:

- Mrs. Max Nolan, my 5th grade teacher, who taught me never to pass the tabernacle without genuflecting (knee to the ground). She also instilled in me a love for the rosary.
- Mrs. Kathryn Jackson, who I still sit behind at the 8 a.m. Mass today, taught me 2nd grade CCD.
- Sister Philomena cultivated my love for singing in the choir. She also gave the most time consuming Social Studies projects, which I waited until the last minute to accomplish.
- Coach Nathan Rustin showed me that having physical toughness and a gentle, merciful heart are not mutually exclusive. They can co-exist in the same person and with the same action.
- Coach Lonny Arrington taught me not to take myself so seriously and how to maintain a positive attitude no matter what circumstances, excuses or unexpected surprises might bring.
- Mrs. Kay Agnew, my Cross Country coach, showed me how discipline could exist outside the classroom on a Cross Country course, and how running could teach you mental strength that would help you in other areas of your life.

I was taught by these legends, and eventually desired to teach alongside them.

Today, in this school, I see Vikings embracing each other the same way my first classmates embraced me – the way my teachers and coaches lifted me up. This school and parish have nurtured every part of my life like an extended family. We have prayed for one another, supported one another, leaned on one another and learned from one another.

My best friends on this planet are my Viking classmates and my current Viking colleagues. In this extended family, I have been called to be a godmother of one of my classmate's sons, as well as the maid of honor alongside my fellow coach.

In the last two years, I have met my same classmates at five funerals. In the past two years, I have also witnessed three couples, all my students, committing themselves in holy matrimony to one another. Sharing these life events with my Viking family made me realize how sacred a space our campus can be – to be the launching pad not only for careers but for families. What a privilege and a huge responsibility it is to be a part of that. We are not just raising future scholars, we are raising future saints.

This Viking family has not only given me the gift of academics and athletics growing up, but the gift of life, love and faith. I know you are here because you experienced that gift as well.

Throughout the years, I started to realize the investment my parents made in me, and the thought crossed my mind: How am I ever going to repay my parents for my education, for raising me, for giving me the best they could? This is seriously an impossible task. In fact, the Holy Spirit heard this prayer, and made sure I had an answer at the next Mass.

I found myself pondering that thought at 5:30 p.m. Mass listening to Fr. Gerry Schreck preach. In his homily, Fr. Schreck said, "We will never be able to give back to our teachers, our parents, our mentors, what we have been given in love by them. Their sacrifice is so great...we were never meant to return it. God's intention is for us to pass on that love, to pass on that gift. Gratitude is returned in the very act of sharing. This is how we build the Kingdom of God.”

His words hit me like a brick, and hearing his wisdom planted seeds of my calling to become a teacher. I chose to answer the call to build the Kingdom of God in the same way my Viking family cultivated His love for me.

I realize that I stand on the shoulders of giants who have gone before me - whether those legends are my former teachers who offered me their patience; my pastors who nurtured my soul; my parents who sacrificed everything for me; or those parishioners who believed in our school, sponsored us on a World Youth Day trip, or faithfully contributed whenever their church asked. I am who I am today because of them, and I am grateful for each of them.

I know that many of you are part of that group, and many of you have benefited from the love and leadership of your parents, your educators and your priests, and those who have shaped your faith and your education, as well.

I encourage you to search in your heart, for the way that God is calling you to continue to Build His Kingdom.

My parents chose to do this by gifting us with a Catholic Education.

I chose the vocation of teaching to pass on the gift I received from them.

As you sit in this room, among this special group of alumni, parents, parishioners, faculty, staff, and supporters, you also stand on the shoulders of giants who have gone before you. How will you pass on your gift?

Two-hundred thirty people attended the Go Big Red Gala, a celebration of the 60th anniversary of Pacelli High School. The elegant event was held inside the school's Gym on September 20, 2018.

Flipping with Excitement

Exciting changes took place this summer across our campus, and we were so excited to start this new school year! Our PK4-2nd grades have moved to Mercy Hall; our 3rd-5th grades have moved to Harrison Hall; and, our 6th-8th grades have moved to Deimel Hall. Our high school classrooms also moved so subject-area teachers are located in the same area. In addition to relocating classrooms, we moved lockers; swapped white boards for interactive projectors; renovated all restrooms; replacing water fountains; upgraded hallway lighting; painted the entire interior of the school; stripped and waxed classroom and hallway floors; replaced rectory and school roofs; added several new air conditioning units campus-wide; upgraded technology, to include better Wi-Fi reception; and, purchased a new custom-wrapped Blue Bird school bus.

As we complete the close of the first year of our three year capital campaign, we realize we have truly been blessed by the generosity of over 400 donors who have given $5 million. These improvements would not have been possible without them!

We still have so much to do to enhance and grow our school! We will be adding an early learning center; a new athletic facility, which will incorporate a football/soccer field, a new field house, concession stands, bleachers, and bathrooms; a baseball complex; a softball complex; and practice fields. After all these enhancements have been completed, our school will have a generous endowment for a scholarship fund! But, in order to complete these exciting and necessary projects we MUST reach our $7 million goal. Will you please consider investing in the future of St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School by making a gift to this very important capital campaign?

Through your generosity and the generosity of others, your child and every St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School student will benefit from the gifts we receive. Every dollar counts! As we remain committed to your student's spiritual, intellectual, and physical development, we thank you for entrusting them to our care!

We sincerely thank you for the support you offer to our school and to our capital campaign!

In Their Words

"Life at Georgia Tech is great! Classes are rigorous and challenging, but St. Anne-Pacelli has prepared me well for this next phase of my life. I plan to major in Mechanical Engineering with a minor in Aerospace Engineering. I am grateful for the academic excellence I received at St. Anne-Pacelli and look forward to many new amazing opportunities in the future. Once a Viking, Always a Viking."

- Justin Bates, St. Anne-Pacelli Class of 2018
Valedictorian

"I am currently pursuing a degree in Nursing and have been excelling in my courses so far at Columbus State University. The teachers at St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School really prepared me for college life, and I am so thankful! Once a Viking, Always a Viking!"

Significance of Our Sundial

By Rene McEvoy, Volunteer Organizations Coordinator

Each day hundreds of people pass the flag pole and the sundial between the main school office and the friary on Kay Circle at St. Anne Church and St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School. Some may wonder the significance of the sundial. Others may feel a sense of patriotism as they notice the flags fluttering in the wind. Few probably know how they got there or how they are so beautifully maintained. In the early-1990s both the flag pole and the sundial were installed in memory of Master Sergeant Charles Edgar Holmes by friends and coworkers throughout the Fort Benning and Columbus communities.

Master Sergeant Holmes was born and raised on a farm in Tylertown, Mississippi where he joined the Army and left to fight in World War II. He served in World War II with General Patton, following him through Europe. He also served twice in the Korean Conflict. At the end of World War II, he met his wife, Hildegard Katharina (Neudeck) Holmes in Germany. Together Charles and Hildegard (Hilde) had three children: Charles Thomas Holmes, Robert Holmes, and Tina Maria (Holmes) Swanson. In addition to living in Germany and France, the family was stationed in Columbus several times. All three children attended St. Anne-Pacelli at different times throughout their elementary and high school education. When Charles retired from the military in 1968, the family settled in Columbus. Charles worked for the Muscogee County School District until 1988 and Hilde continues to be a St. Anne Church parishioner today.

The following is a quote from one of Hilde's books:

"We both helped build Deimel Field at Pacelli. I remember pulling staples out of old telephone poles they were going to use for something else. I also remember painting bleachers and cleaning up in general. I sold tickets at football games and Charles worked in the concession stand. At Pacelli's carnival we were in charge of the money. I was room mother for somebody. It was work but we enjoyed every minute of it."

Charles loved to travel and to garden. He was such a successful gardener that he would supply the whole neighborhood with produce and even tried to grow German vegetables that his wife could not purchase in the United States.

Charles also loved clocks. He was fascinated by their precision and enjoyed maintaining them. He collected them throughout his travels and loved that they are unique to every part of the world. At the time of his death, Charles had 52 clocks. He staggered the settings on the clocks so that the first one would begin chiming two to three minutes before the hour and they would stop about two to three minutes after the hour. His children joke that they missed the end or beginning of many television shows because of the volume of the chiming.

Above all, Charles and Hilde Holmes raised a loving family that continues to have deep roots in the St. Anne Community. The flag pole stands tall as a representation of Charles' patriotism and the sundial represents his love for clocks. To ensure that the flags that wave for all to see are always maintained the family has set up a fund which purchases new flags whenever they are needed. This is a representation of their love and admiration for a special husband and father.

Grains for Brains

During an all-school Grains for Brains celebration on February 2, 2018, boxes of cereal donated by St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School families were presented to St. Anne Community Outreach. The 1,000 boxes of cereal were then distributed to clients who visit Outreach as well as shared with several other food pantries and agencies in Columbus for distribution to the less fortunate in our community. Thanks to everyone who contributed to our Grains for Brains campaign to help in the efforts to eliminate childhood hunger!

Students presented cereal boxes collected during a special Grains for Brains pep rally held in our gym.

Viking Volunteers

“Ongoing research shows that family engagement in schools improves student achievement, reduces absenteeism, and restores parents’ confidence in their children’s education. Students with involved parents or other caregivers earn higher grades and test scores, have better social skills, and show improved behavior.”

- National Education Association, 2014

At St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School there are many ways for parents to get involved! Most of these opportunities come from one or both of our two main volunteer organizations: Home & School Association and Vikings Booster Club.

The Vikings Booster Club helps raise funds and provides support for St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School’s middle and high school athletic programs.

Our Home & School Association supports St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School by sponsoring many events throughout the year for parents, students and teachers. The group also raises funds for school enhancements.

For more information on how to get involved with one of these volunteer organizations, please visit BeAViking.com/volunteer-opportunities.

GRACE Students with a Catholic Education

By Tiffany Trucks, Director of Advancement

Help us continue to grow our enrollment by donating to GRACE Scholars and provide the gift of Catholic education to new students at St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School!

GRACE Scholars (GRACE) is a designated student scholarship organization (SSO) in Georgia which allows Georgia taxpayers who donate to GRACE the ability to receive a 100 percent tax credit on state income taxes by telling the state of Georgia how to spend their tax dollars. Donations to GRACE Scholars designated for St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School are used for tuition assistance for families who demonstrate financial need and meet the state guidelines for SSO awards.

Every year we have more requests for tuition assistance than we have funds available to award. GRACE funds help more families be able to afford St. Anne-Pacelli. Since GRACE Scholars was established in 2009, over $665,604.00 in contributions have been designated to help students attend St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School. There are currently 26 students ranging from 3rd grade to 12th grade who are receiving GRACE Scholars awards at St. Anne-Pacelli. Increased enrollment means St. Anne-Pacelli can provide more courses, programs and activities for all of our students!

Thanks to the Georgia State Legislature, the statewide cap on tax credits has increased to $100 million in 2019 from $58 million in 2018! We have the opportunity to contribute and receive more tax dollars to support students attending St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School!

There are three easy steps to give:

1) Get pre-approved by the state of Georgia for your contribution. To get pre-approved, visit www.gracescholars.org and pre-register for your 2019 tax credit online or via the link to the paper form. When completing the pre-approval form, remember to designate your contribution for St. Anne-Pacelli!

2) In January, you will receive an approval letter from the state. You will then have 60 days to make your contribution to GRACE Scholars.

3) When you file your 2019 state income taxes (in early-2020), you will receive a dollar-for-dollar credit on your taxes for your contribution.

Pre-register today for 2019! To learn all of the details about the law, the pre-registration process, making a contribution, and GRACE Scholars, Inc., please visit www.gracescholars.org or contact St. Anne-Pacelli Catholic School Director of Advancement Tiffany Trucks at 706-561-8232 or ttrucks@sasphs.net.
