"This remarkable collection recounts Europe's descent into war from the vantage point of Alma De Luce, the adventurous wife of an AP reporter, and a photographer and writer in her own right. Her letters home detail societies being drawn into the maelstrom of conflict from Budapest to Beirut, and many places in between. This latest product of the Park Tudor Legacy Initiative brings to life a fascinating woman's adventures and observations during a critical moment of history." Ian Ona Johnson, P. J. Moran Family Assistant Professor of Military History, The University of Notre Dame Author: Faustian Bargain: The Soviet-German Partnership and the Origins of the Second World War (2022)

"I have read with great fascination the letters of Alma De Luce concerning her travels with her correspondent husband, Dan, in the days preceding the outbreak of World War II. From the voyage on the SS Normandie to Europe, to the escape from Calcutta to the United States on the USS President Madison, her eye for detail is phenomenal. Her descriptions are great even down to the details of the caique escape from Athens in 1941. If you want a great read about Europe as it descends into war and chaos, this is a great book for your library."—Dean Armstrong, VMI graduate, WWII historian and leads WW2 tours to Pacific and Normandy
