Lexonik

www.lexonik.co.uk | phil.luke@lexonik.co.uk

Lexonik is an award-winning company based in the North East of England, working with teachers globally to raise attainment through transformational literacy programmes, teacher training and whole school vocabulary teaching to supercharge literacy skills.

Lexonik's intervention programmes teach students a methodology which allows them to decode and deconstruct meaning from language independently, leveraging metacognition and repetition to lead to reading and comprehension automaticity. Integral to our approach is teacher training and a whole school vocabulary solution which lessens teacher variability and ensures students can connect intervention learning to the classroom.

Lexonik's flagship intervention programme rapidly improves reading, spelling, vocabulary and comprehension, with average reading age gains of +27 months in just six one-hour sessions. Additionally, Lexonik Leap, effectively resolves phonics gaps for all learners at any age, including those for whom English is not their first language.

OxEd and Assessment

www.oxedandassessment.com | LinkedIn

OxEd & Assessment (OxEd) is a University of Oxford spinout company launched to take the world-leading research of Professor Charles Hulme's research group on early language and how children learn through to practical application in schools.

Our research-led, early years oral language programme consists of:

- LanguageScreen, an assessment to track progress of students' oral language skills and identify those who would benefit from interventions or specialist support.
- Nuffield Early Language Intervention (NELI), a 20-week intervention focusing on children's vocabulary, narrative and listening skills through small group and individual sessions.
- NELI Whole Class, providing enrichment activities for all children and opportunities to further boost the skills of children receiving the intervention.
- Comprehensive training around language fundamentals and delivering the NELI programme.

Research is at our core, everything OxEd does draws on the science of learning and includes rigorous evaluations of our assessments and interventions. We are proud that several independent evaluations have been completed of the solutions we provide, consistently demonstrating their effectiveness in improving children's educational outcomes.

These have shown NELI brings about meaningful improvements in children's language skills, with children making 3-5 months' additional progress in language with gains in language and word reading still seen two years later. EAL children have also been shown to make the same progress as children speaking English at home. This strong evidence of the impact NELI has on children's outcomes is what sets it apart.
