Reese Corbin

Reese comes into dance focused and ready to learn. She often tries to redirect peers to stay on task and participates in the activity regardless of what is happening around her.

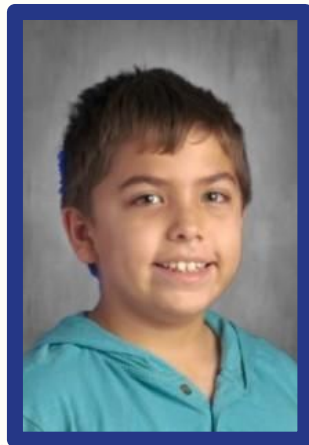

Linnea Davis-Hahlantera

I'm so proud of how well Linnea has adapted to the King Arts community this school year! Linnea shows up everyday with a giant smile on her face and is

- o eager to learn, explore, and interact with peers. Keep up the tremendous work Linnea and have a wonderful summer! :)

River Broderick

River Broderick is an incredible student! Every single day, River comes to school with a positive attitude and a willingness to learn. He always demonstrates curiosity and isn't afraid of a challenge! This year River really impressed me with his strong work ethic and focus on learning. In addition to that, River is an incredibly kind student. He treats all other students with respect and is someone everyone in the class enjoys working with. River helps to bring us together and thanks to him our classroom had more camaraderie. I was so lucky to be his teacher and I wish him all the best!

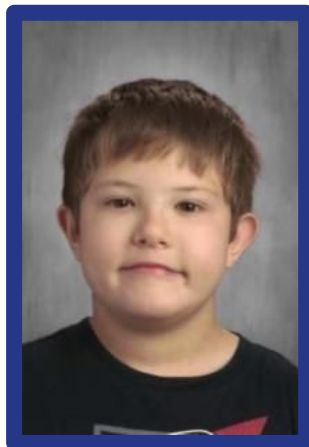

Keegan Broderick

Keegan is one of the heroes of the 7th grade. She quietly exhibits the King High 5 every day both in and outside of class. She is always respectful of her classmates and teachers, willing to both help others and partner with anyone. She brings her positive energy to each class, modeling for her peers how to be "all in". Keegan always goes above and beyond with her work without ever having to be asked. She seeks deep understanding in all her subjects and achieves at the highest levels. She is incredibly focused and sets the bar high for herself-and as a result her peers. Keegan truly deserves this honor because she models the King High 5 for her classmates and teachers every day.

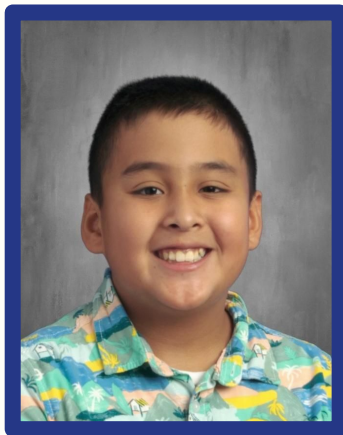

Vincent Squeo

Vincent excels with following the KING HIGH FIVE each and every Speech Therapy session by modeling respectful interactions with peers, being responsible for his work, being positive and flexible, being safe with his interactions, and being all in with WHOLE BODY LISTENING. He is patient with turn-taking and he is consistently trying to use new vocabulary and showing all the ways he is a smart and productive student! He demonstrates good attendance and I am so impressed with how much he has matured this year.

Rishi Cordero

Rishi has been very dedicated to band, playing the baritone and being the ONLY low brass student in middle school this year! He plays in both Concert and Jazz Band, and also played with the Elementary Band as a middle school mentor for the Spring Concert. He is responsible about attending rehearsals and lessons, learns and performs his music well, and never complains about all the extra playing he is asked to do. He is always up to the task when asked to take on any musical challenge, and I appreciate that Rishi is always ALL IN for our band program!
