Subject: Re: Fleet compliance question

Hello,

Please read the following information regarding Clean Truck Check.

Clean Truck Check requires non-gasoline (diesel, alternative fuel, and hybrid) trucks, buses, and other heavy-duty vehicles, such as California-registered motorhomes, with a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) over 14,000 lbs. that operate in California to report and undergo emissions testing.

Which vehicles are exempt, and do they need to be registered into CTC-VIS?

The Clean Truck Check Program does not apply to:

- Zero-emission trucks
- Military tactical vehicles California Vehicle Code section 165
- Authorized Emergency vehicles California Vehicle Code section 165
- Motorhomes registered outside of California
- Vehicles operating under an experimental permit
- Historical vehicles
- Gasoline vehicles
- Vehicles operating under Emergency Declaration

Planned Non-operational (PNO) CA DMV registered vehicles do not need to report to Clean Truck Check. You are not required to report vehicles that are exempted from the program.

You can report your vehicle(s) and pay your fees to the Clean Truck Check at <https://cleantruckcheck.arb.ca.gov>

I've also linked a helpful video on how to report your vehicle below:
