Essence Pilates

Pilates is a systematic exercise method designed to stretch, strengthen and balance the body. It was created by German-born Joseph H. Pilates in the early 1900s and brought to the United States in 1926. Practiced on the mat or on apparatus (such as the Reformer, Chair, Towers or Trapeze) with or without props (resistance bands, magic circle, blocks and light weights), it is for every body regardless of age and fitness level. Pilates has been proven invaluable not only as a fitness endeavor, but also as an important adjunct to all types of physical rehabilitation and professional sports training. Develop core strength, improve balance, flexibility, joint stability, bone density, coordination and body awareness through this gentle yet invigorating and challenging practice that emphasizes quality of movement over quantity, proper alignment and breath. Classes are held at Essence Pilates in Silver Creek (597 Parkway Drive, Suite C (upstairs) at Wasatch Physical Therapy. Instructor Dani LoFeudo, NCPT (Balanced Body/PMA) gives you individualized attention that gives you the best results.
