

LA PALOMA

1936

Ex Libris

THE STAFF

JOHN W. MEANEY
JOHN F. HEARD
RAYMOND GALLAGHER, JR.
ADRIAN ANDERSON
JACK HEARD
ROBERT GARCIA

LA PALOMA

1936

Published by THE STUDENTS of the
CORPUS CHRISTI COLLEGE-ACADEMY

FOREWORD

*"There are they who toil,
And they who strive, and they who feast, and they
Who hurry to and fro"*

All these the editors have sought to bring together in lasting comraderie within the pages of LA PALOMA. Their purpose was to fuse the spirit of the classroom, the emotionalism of the athletic field, and the sterling friendships that have bound them each to each. The editors have endeavored to chronicle the achievements and events of another year; to forge another link in the chain that represents the history of the school. They hope that the spirit of the Corpus Christi College-Academy is represented in their work, so that this volume will be worthy of her labors. They wish LA PALOMA to perpetuate for the students

*"A Present, in whose reign no grief can gnaw
The Heart, and never can a tender tie
Be broken."*

DEDICATION

What the College-Academy is and has it owes in great measure to the energetic leadership of its president. His vision and influence will be a dominant factor in the shaping of the future. It was he who broke the ground, and he who for eight years, figuratively, tilled the soil. A revered and respected school is his harvest. In recognition, therefore, of his leadership and of his influence, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Six with reverence and respect dedicate this volume of LA PALOMA to the Reverend Father Paul M. Nahlen, O. S. B.

REV. PAUL M. NAHLEN, O. S. B.
President
Religion, Commercial

CONTENTS

THE SCHOOL

THE CLASSES

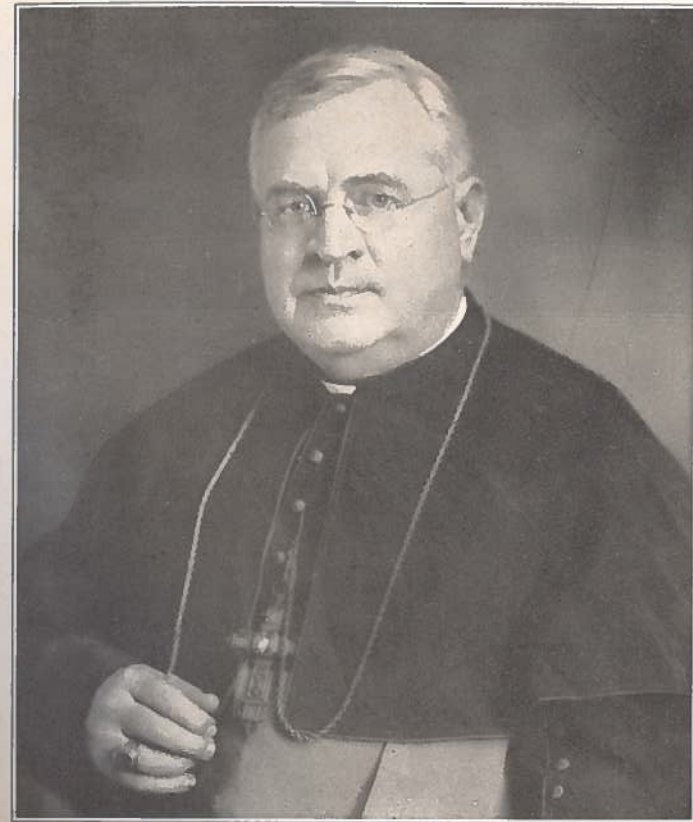

THE ORGANIZATIONS

ATHLETICS

PATRONS

The School Administration

MOST REVEREND EMMANUEL B. LEDVINA, D. D., LL. D.
Bishop of Corpus Christi

His Excellency, Most Rev. Emmanuel B. Ledvina, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Corpus Christi, is the Father of the College-Academy in more ways than one. The idea of the school was first conceived by him, and the execution of the idea was his from beginning to completion. His interest did not stop there. For eight years he has exercised a paternal solicitude for the school. His generosity has known no bounds. The school's every wish was his. Truly, a Father in every sense of the word.

RT. REV. MSGR. JOHN J. LANNON, PH. D., LL. D.
Rector, St. Patrick's Cathedral

He is Father Lannon to the students—to the school. The student's troubles and his problems have often found their solution in Father Lannon's counsel. That's why he is "Father" to the students. A great lover of sports himself, he is untiring in furthering and assisting in the athletic program at the College-Academy.

REV. JOSEPH P. FUHRMANN, O. S. B.
 Director of Studies
 History, Mathematics

Fitting the curriculum to the needs of the students is a difficult task—even in a small school. Maintaining the standards is another task—at any school. At the College-Academy Father Joseph has done both. He is admired for his resourcefulness in the classroom and for his understanding of the students' needs on the campus. In spite of his position he is a genial and congenial friend.

MAIN BUILDING

IN AND AROUND THE COLLEGE-ACADEMY

THE FACULTY

Rev. Vincent Orth, O. S. B.
Religion, Latin, Science

Rev. Philip N. O'Regan, O. S. B.
Spiritual Director, Religion,
English, Latin

Rev. Albert M. Schreiber, O. S. B.
Religion, English, Science,
Typewriting

Mr. Thomas E. Quigley
Director of Athletics,
Civics, Economics

Mr. S. H. Sauve
Director of Music,
Spanish

Mr. James C. Moore
Mathematics, History

The Classes

SENIOR

ADRIAN J. ANDERSON, JR.

On the campus "Pop" says, "Gentlemen, down with everything!"

Secretary; The Pilgrim; Art, La Paloma; Football

Autograph.....

LEONARD F. BARGANSKI

On the campus "Toughy" says, "I'm little, but so's dynamite."

Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

LEWALLEN BORDEN

On the campus "Senator" says, "The chair recognizes . . ."

Football

Autograph.....

JOSEPH E. CASON

On the campus "Gin-eye" says, "Oh, me."

Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

JAMES E. DECKER

On the campus "Microbe" says, "With a haughty and unfounded maliciousness, I am accused of being verbose."

Orchestra

Autograph.....

JOSEPH J. DIERSING

On the campus "Dutch" says, "So you think you're tough, eh?"

Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

RAYMOND E. GALLAGHER, JR

On the campus "Pee-wee" says, "There ain't no sense in that."

Business manager, The Pilgrim, La Paloma; Football

Autograph.....

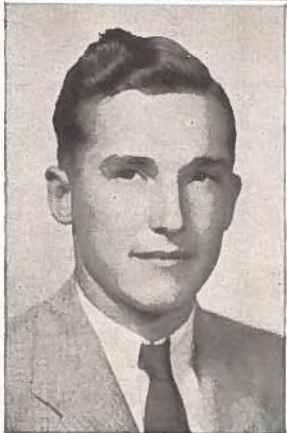

ROBERT LEON GARCIA

On the campus "Señor" says, "O. K. Yeah. Uhuh."

Photo editor, La Paloma

Autograph.....

FRANK W. HARTMANN, JR.

On the campus "Willie" says, "That's what the book says."

Baseball; Orchestra

Autograph.....

JACK F. HEARD

On the campus "Dolly dimples" says, "It's a whim-dilly."

Art, La Paloma; Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

JOHN F. HEARD

On the campus "Ray-fooh-hio" says, "Well, well, well."

President; Secretary, Sodality; Assistant editor, The Pilgrim, La Paloma; Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

HOWELL H. HUSBANDS, JR.

On the campus "Howl" says, "How about a cigar, coach?"

Treasurer; Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

GERALD J. McBRIDE

On the campus "Jiggs" says, "That couldn't be right."

Autograph.....

JOHN W. MEANEY

On the campus "Jawn" says, "Yeah, man."

Vice President; Treasurer, Sodality;
Editor, The Pilgrim, La Paloma;
Football; Baseball

Autograph.....

JOSEPH D. PRIOUR

On the campus "Banana" says, "Nertz!"

Vice President, Sodality; Football

Autograph.....

ECO F. SAMUELS

On the campus "Knee-action" says, "Gimme a sandwich."

Football

Autograph.....

FRANCIS B. SHELTON

On the campus "Telemachus" says, "These devilish books!"

Baseball

Autograph.....

JIMMIE J. TEFLOS

On the campus "The Greek" says, "That's ancient Greek."

Football

Autograph.....

J. CLAUDE WALLACE

On the campus "Pete" says, "It takes me and Lew to do things right."

Football

Autograph.....

ROBERT J. WEINZAPFEL

On the campus "Rube-inoff" says, "What was the question, Father?"

President, Sodality; Orchestra; Football

Autograph.....

MID-TERM 1937

FRAZIER CUBAGE

On the campus "Cabbage-top" says, "Aw, quit it!"

Autograph.....

SHERMAN EDEN

On the campus "Scorchy" says, "How do you spell . . . ?"

Autograph.....

WALLACE FRANKS

On the campus "West End" says, "I was sick, Father."

Autograph.....

PERRY GUION

On the campus "Guy" says, "Hello, yonder!"

Autograph.....

J. CLAUDE WALLACE

On the campus "Pete" says, "It takes me and Lew to do things right."

Football

Autograph.....

ROBERT J. WEINZAPFEL

On the campus "Rube-inoff" says, "What was the question, Father?"

President, Sodality; Orchestra; Football

Autograph.....

MID-TERM 1937

FRAZIER CUBAGE

On the campus "Cabbage-top" says, "Aw, quit it!"

Autograph.....

SHERMAN EDEN

On the campus "Scorchy" says, "How do you spell . . . ?"

Autograph.....

WALLACE FRANKS

On the campus "West End" says, "I was sick, Father."

Autograph.....

PERRY GUION

On the campus "Guy" says, "Hello, yonder!"

Autograph.....

OREN HUDSON

On the campus "Fire-top" says, "Eats! Where?"

Autograph.....

BILL LAWRENCE

On the campus "Tiny" says, "Slug 'em!"

Autograph.....

W. D. NOLTE

On the campus "Dub" says, "Yes, Father."

Autograph.....

THE SENIOR CLASS

- President JOHN F. HEARD
- Vice-President JOHN W. MEANEY
- Secretary ADRIAN ANDERSON
- Treasurer HOWELL HUSBANDS

In September, nineteen hundred and thirty-two, a class was born. The scene of its birth was the Corpus Christi College-Academy, and its cradle was the classrooms of the institution. The days of early youth were spent in the frivolities and escapades of freshman life. School was just an incident, a time for a little study and much play. There was no thought of the future—'twould be unbecoming not to say impossible. Upperclassmen seemed more serious, but the class was not sure of that.

The freshman year passed quickly and the class entered upon the second stage of its existence—the teens of life, so to speak. The advance was slight, but still it was a step in the right direction. The sophomore year retained the lightheartedness of the previous period, but slightly modified. There came a slight awakening, a slight discovery that the road was going to be rougher as the journey proceeded.

Such a discovery, of course, was unpleasant, but maturity in due time made its impression. And thus it was that the class entered the junior year, the third era of youthful expansion. The class had now become a fairly large group of students, each of whom had passed through the ordeal of the underclasses and had survived to look superiorly upon those below and to glory in the position which the junior year gave them. The confidence and ambition of early manhood were present in the hearts of all. This caused them to sally forth bravely to face the onslaughts of thick textbooks and severe instructors. New mysteries were unfolded to them as each book in turn was opened by the teachers. It was a jar to learn that the two previous years of school life were merely initiation ceremonies in comparison with the work in which they were now engaged.

The opening of school in September of nineteen hundred and thirty-five found a group of seasoned veterans ready for the last and final battle. It was no longer a group of frivolous youths but rather a class of experienced students who had awakened to the fact that the road was rough. The three years of high school life formed a suitable background, and we knew we could not fail! We steered securely past the whirling eddies and through the occasional scholastic squalls, and are now sailing gloriously into the sunset of our high school careers.

The journey is ended. The voyage has been long and hard. But there is a triumphant surge in our breasts—and our boast is rightful—as we fold our oars for the summer respite and then renew our voyage through life convinced that we have learned how to sail, how to live, how to work.

MARCH OF THE SCHOOLYEAR

September—

- 9—School opens. Father Paul addresses at first student convocation.
- 13—Highmass designates religious opening of scholastic year. Cavalier parade begins and Tivy High of Kerrville retreats 12-6.

October—

- 6—Texas Catholic Interscholastic League officially opens and Cavaliers take opener from Central Catholic High of San Antonio.
- 13—Dallas' Catholic representative, St. Joseph's High, returns to Centennial city defeated.
- 20—St. Anthony's of San Antonio lashed by Cavaliers.
- 21—Senior class elects officers.
- 25—Victoria Junior College wins by two touchdowns in a bruiser that hurt.

November—

- 7—Yellow Jackets from Port Arthur find the going too hard.
- 8—Academy celebrates victory over Port Arthur.
- 14—Cavaliers blow up and the Schreiner "B" captures the ball in a spectacular fourth quarter finish.
- 24—Kirwin High of Galveston, leaders in Catholic League, toppled from first place.
- 26—Seniors get class rings.
- 28—Thanksgiving Day. At home.

December—

- 2—School begins anew.
- 9—Work on Centennial project gets under way.
- 20—Christmas vacation begins and all is well.

January—

- 6—The Battle of the Books again.
- 23—The mid-term suspense.

February—

- 25—School attends Midsummer Night's Dream.

March—

- 2—Texas Independence Day.
- 17—St. Patrick's Day.
- 27—Goliad Centennial celebration. Holiday.

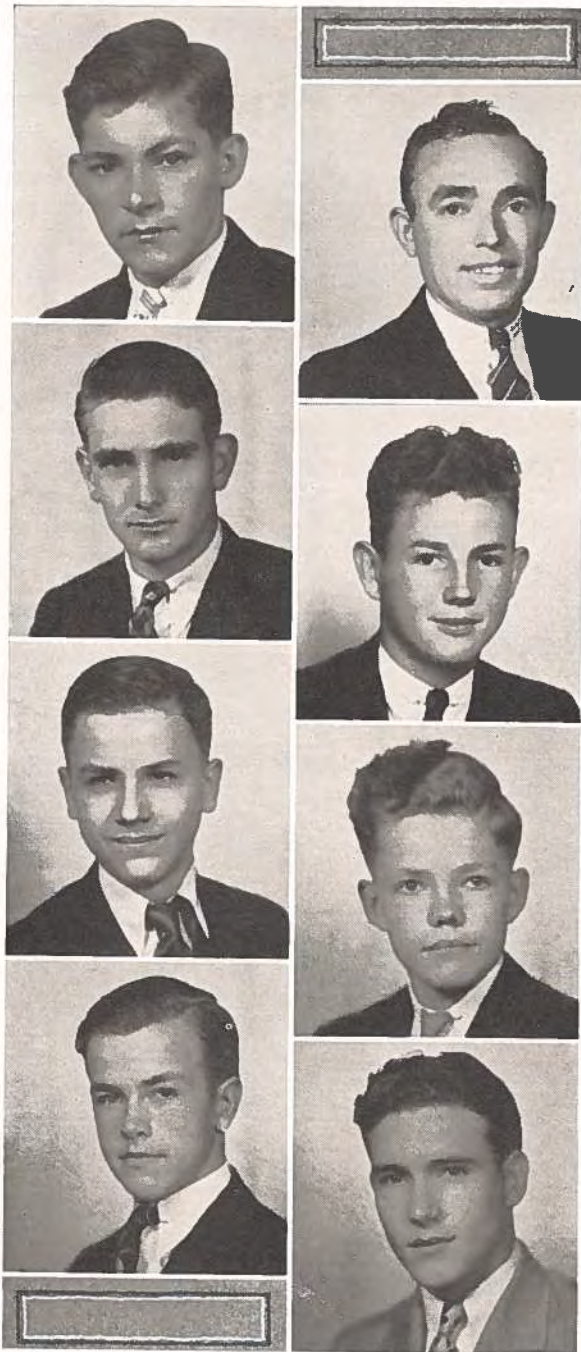

April—

- 8—Easter holidays begin at noon.

May—

- 7—Seniors and juniors attend district sing-song, and Jack Heard takes the microphone.
- 8—City-wide enchillada sale.
- 24—Joint baccalaureate services with Incarnate Word Academy at St. Patrick's Cathedral.
- 27—The end of it all at Senior High School Auditorium.

JUNIOR

FRANK ADAMS

PAUL FLUSCHE

BENEDICT BLUNTZER

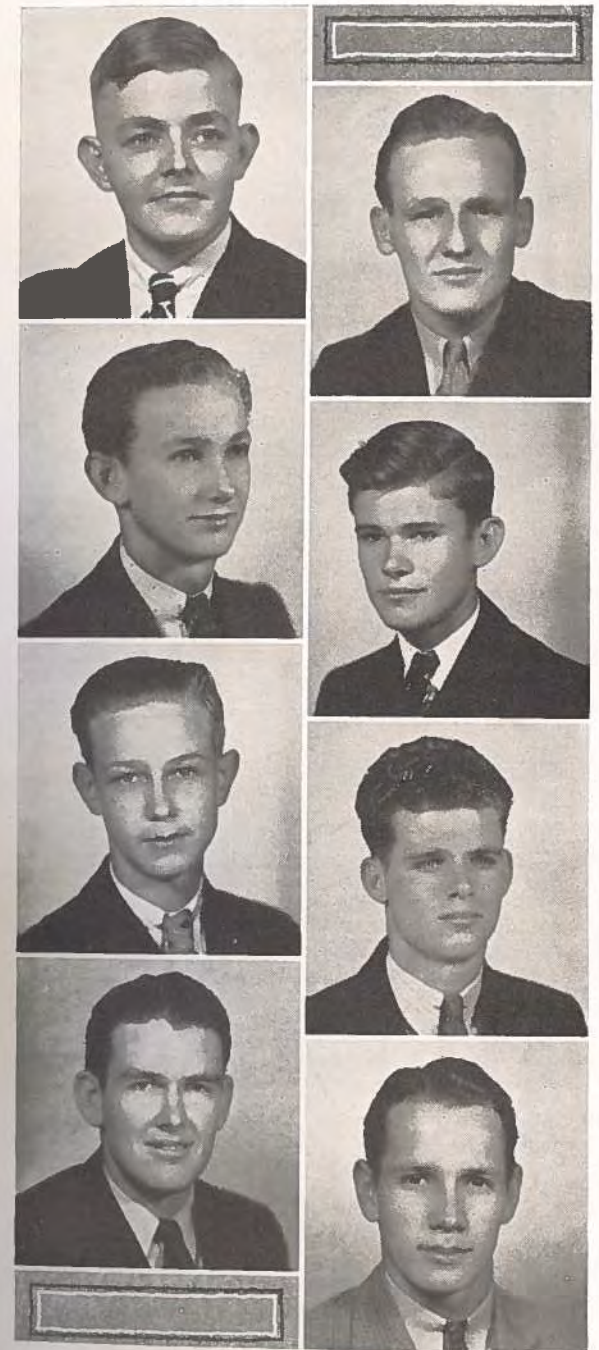

JOHN GOLLIHAR

ROBERT CLARKE

GEORGE HUBBARD

MEINRAD ENDRES

JEFF LOWRIE

JAMES J. MEANEY

FRANK VOESTE

CHARLES MEW

CARLTON WHITWORTH

FRANCIS ORDNER

JULIAN WHITWORTH

OTHA SALYERS

ALBERT WRIGHT

(Absent—Wilson Johnston)

THE JUNIOR CLASS

President CARLTON WHITWORTH
 Vice-President JAMES MEANEY
 Secretary-Treasurer FRANK ADAMS

It was a bright September morning three years ago when a group of young men just as bright found their way hesitatingly and falteringly into the Four Year Plan of the Corpus Christi College-Academy. Their usual freshman fancies and follies were tolerated. But they proved themselves to be a rather amiable lot. They were not too boisterous; in fact, they pursued an unusually even tenor. Accordingly, the usual burdens of freshmen were lightened.

The sophomore year passed in a hurry, and intermingled with the sophomore concentricity there occasionally cropped out a note of sobriety. It was the oft-repeated story; there was hope.

Then came the junior year—our present year—and a remarkable expansion of the intellectual horizon. It was a “brave, new world”, this leap from underclassmen to the upper shift of scholastic ranking. But the class was aggressive. The members distinguished themselves in all rounds of school activities. Voeste and Salyers represented the group on the football team. “Long” Ben Bluntzer landed first base; Gollihar grabbed the catcher’s mitt while Voeste came in for second mention by taking the “sun garden” on the diamond. Flusche qualified as bus driver and Meaney found a place on THE PILGRIM staff.

The class even furnished a notable part of the student-faculty orchestra, in which Gollihar, Flusche, and Endress held important positions.

In addition, the class has been very enthusiastic in supporting all school activities, LA PALOMA especially. This will all stand them in good stead, now that the duties of school leaders, of senior responsibility are about to be placed upon their shoulders. The class realizes that it has a mark to better and the members have officially served notice that they are going to be “tops” next year, for the achieving of which they will deserve the plaudits of the populace.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Freshman

Sophomore

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

First row—Joe Benson, Bobby Chapman, Louis Fenner, Joe Fritter, James Heard, Edward Hinson.

Second row—Francis McCarthy, David Odem, Charles Premont, Lawrence Shay, Charles Wright, John T. Wright, Jr.

(Absent—Albert Bright, Junior Giles, Norris Lee Moreman)

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

President JAMES POWER HEARD
Vice-President LOUIS FENNER
Secretary-Treasurer CHARLES L. WRIGHT

A whole long year ago a slightly leery group of freshmen broke into the institution with all the vim, vigor, and vitality inherited from the grammar grades. Theirs was a hard lot. A whirlwind year of domination by upperclassmen included the traditional formalities of ring-kissing and other acts of fealty and homage. It was a hard world; one had to battle for what he got. This little group, because it proved exceptionally wiry, met the difficulties bravely. In fact, they were known even to have retaliated on occasions—a procedure unheard of in the Book of Freshman Rules.

Thus the happy-go-lucky group crashed luckily and independently through their first year and elevated their heads a notch higher into the sophomoreic sphere. Here the air was sweeter and the atmosphere more to their liking.

But there were some difficulties. English II proved to be a daily battle, but battles are not won by sitting in an easy chair, and this class was never known to be idle. Consequently, that was mastered, if not completely, then at least partly to the satisfaction of the instructor. History and mathematics were intricate enough, but the one thing a sophomore likes to do and does do is to take a thing apart to find its inner working. Apply this to history and math, and our procedure is evident.

But as we said, there is no rest. True enough. An escape from homework in one class meant a double slam in another. Whether it happened to be Latin or Spanish, it did not matter

But, withal, it has been a happy year. The class is now fast sobering—and we are glad to admit it. We are prepared to take our place with the upperclassmen next year to carry on the traditions of the school and to make our mark a lasting one when the time comes.

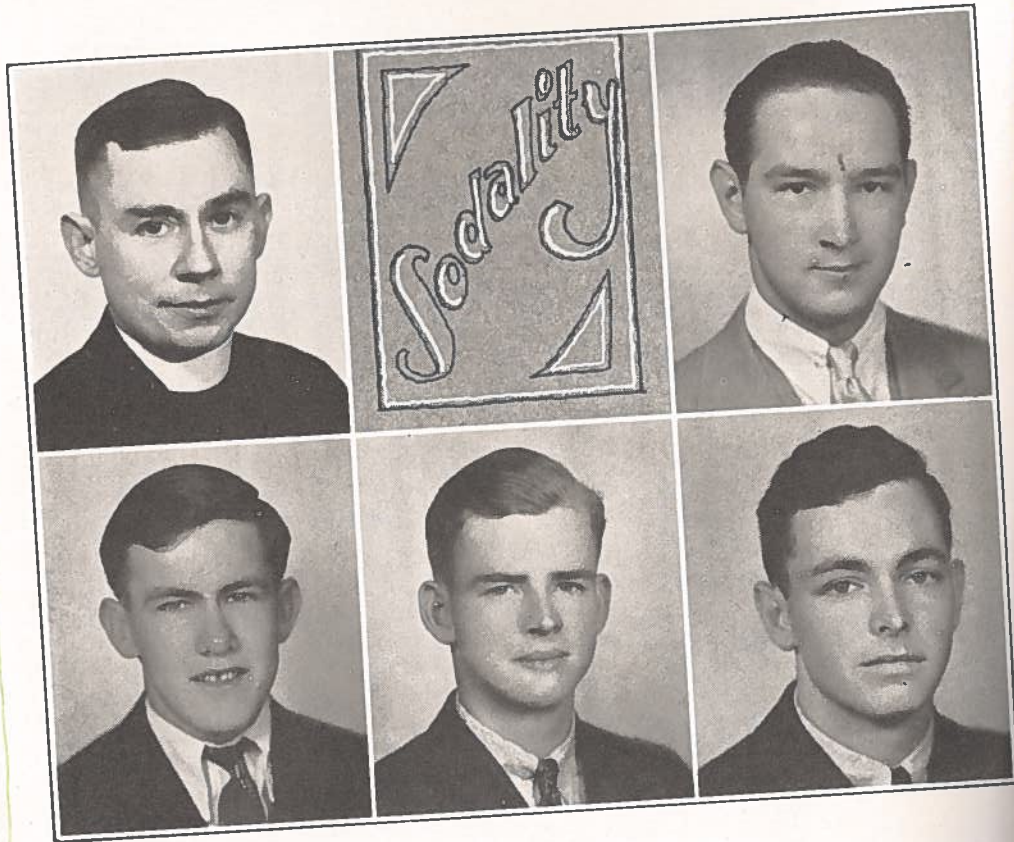

The Organizations

ORGANIZATIONS

Publications

Religious

Music

REVEREND PHILIP N. O'REGAN, O. S. B.
Moderator

JOSEPH PRIOUR
Vice-President

JOHN F. HEARD
Secretary

ROBERT WEINZAPFEL
President

JOHN W. MEANEY
Treasurer

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin is a traditional organization in every Catholic school. At the College-Academy it has provided a needed spiritual rallying point for all Catholic students. There have been weekly conferences and common prayer and the monthly communion, all of which has served to deepen the students' love for Our Blessed Mother.

THE STUDENT-FACULTY ORCHESTRA

Musical activity held its own during the year. A creditable orchestra was organized, consisting of faculty and students. The dearth of musical talent necessitated this combination.

Mr. H. S. Sauve, head of the music department and an instructor and conductor of long experience, directed. The personnel of the organization consisted of the following:

Violins: Robert Weinzapfel, James Decker, Mr. Sauve;

Double Bass: Rev. Father Paul;

Cornets: Mr. James C. Moore, John Gollihar; Frank Hartmann;

Clarinets: Rev. Father Philip, Meinrad Endres;

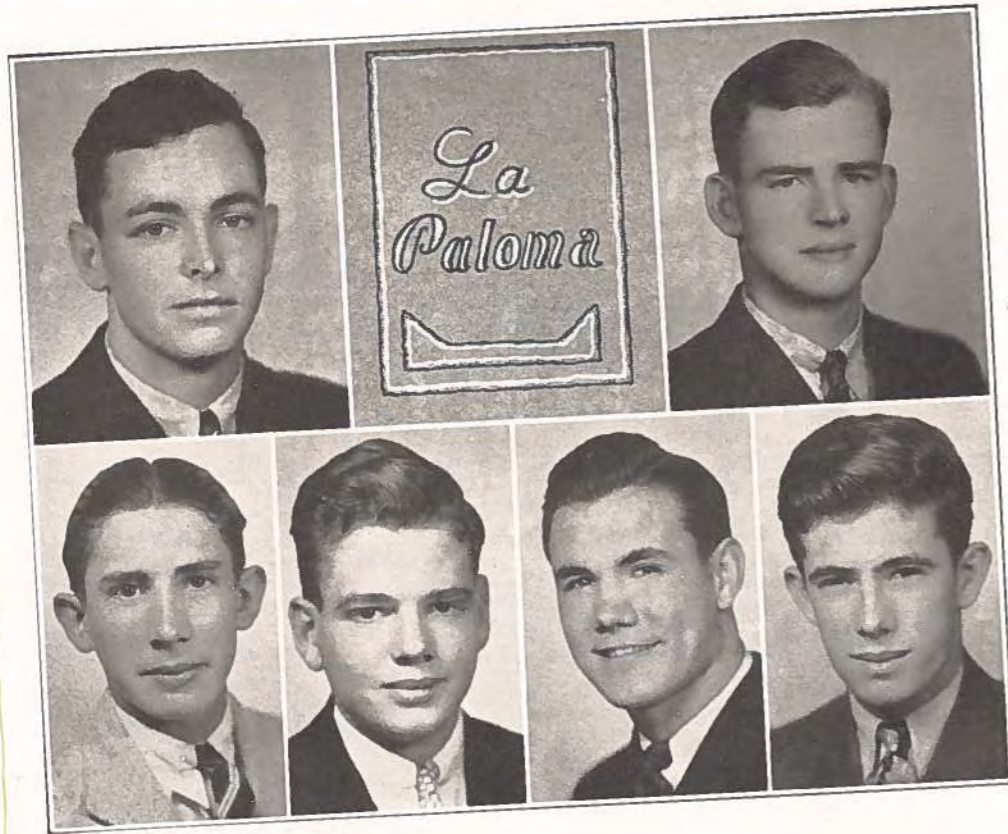

Alto: Paul Flusche;

Baritone: Rev. Father Vincent.

The Orchestra specialized in music of higher classification than that ordinarily played by high school musical organizations. Persevering rehearsals, however, brought the ensemble to a high degree of proficiency.

Once the orchestra became known, its services were in demand. The first call came from the Catholic Daughters of America who enlisted the organization's services for their benefit supper in the Charity Hall of the city. The Knights of Columbus followed with an invitation for an open meeting of the council in the early part of May. School functions brought further concerts, notably those on St. Benedict's Day at the College-Academy, on which occasion His Excellency joined the group, occupying the position of flutist, and Rev. Dan Lanning of Beeville gave the piano accompaniment.

Finally, the student-faculty orchestra closed a good season by furnishing the music for the commencement exercises at the Senior High School auditorium.

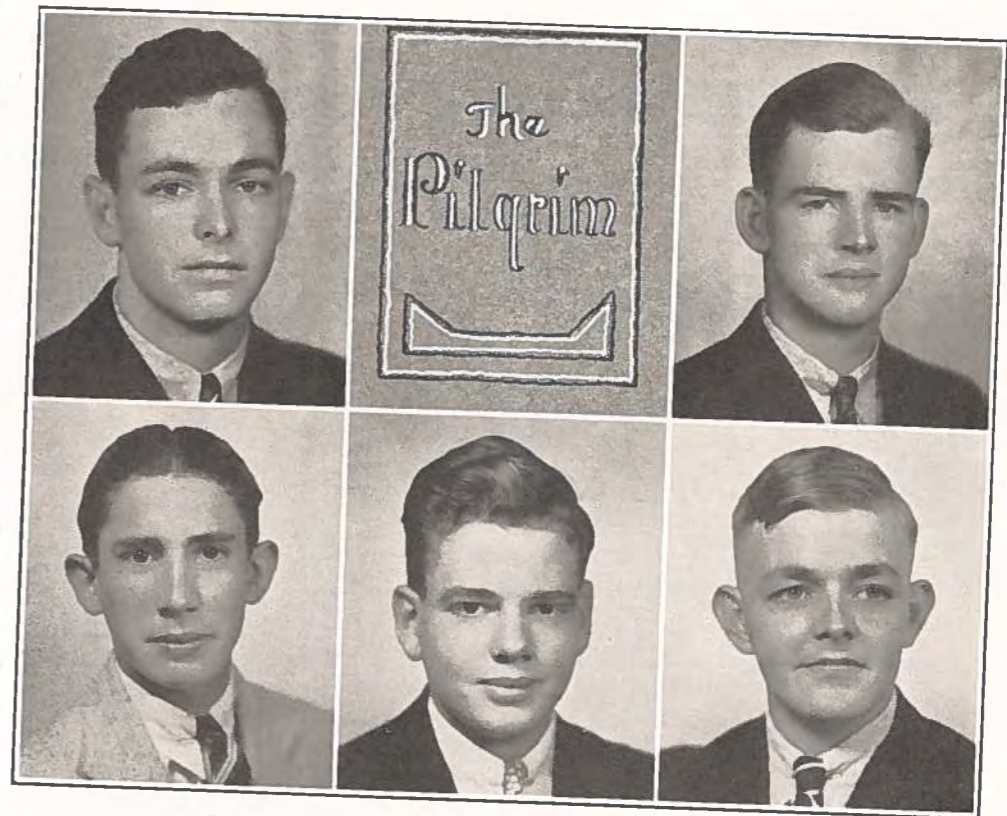

JOHN W. MEANEY
Editor

JOHN F. HEARD
Assistant Editor

Raymond Gallagher, - Adrian Anderson - Jack Heard - Robert Garcia
Business Manager Art Editor Art Editor Photo Editor

This is the third issue of the yearbook. It was conceived by the pioneer students of the school, but after the second issue, LA PALOMA was forced to fold its wings for a period of four years. The resumption of publication has marked the renewal of literary work at the school, and the end of a slump in senior leadership.

JOHN W. MEANEY
Editor

JOHN F. HEARD
Assistant Editor

RAYMOND E. GALLAGHER, JR.
Business Manager

ADRIAN ANDERSON
Reporter

JAMES MEANEY
Reporter

THE PILGRIM is the school's official publication. As has been the case in most schools, its life has been imperilled during the past few years. However, it has managed to eke out an existence during the past year, promising that when the storms have been completely weathered, it will again make its scheduled rounds.

Athletics

ATHLETICS

Football

Baseball

Intramural

CAVALIER SQUAD

Front Row—Joe Priour, John Heard, Joe Benson, Meinrad Endres, Charles Mew, C. Whitworth, John T. Wright, Jr.

Center Row—John Gollihar, Frank Adams, Bus. Mgrs., Frank Voeste, Eco Samuels, Norris L. Moreman, Albert Bright, Robert Weinzapfel, Leonard Barganski, Joe Cason, Albert Wright, Jimmie Teflos, Lawrence Shay, Bus. Mgr.

Back Row—Jeff Lowrie, Claude Wallace, Howell Husbands, Lew Borden, Jack Heard, Otho Salyers, Joe Diersing, James Meaney, John Meaney, Adrian Anderson, Tom Quigley, Coach.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Versatility, speed, power, and deception sum up the 1935 Cavalier squad. "The greatest in history," sports commentators have said, and that is a large statement.

This year's squad has done one thing which no other team had been able to do, namely, muster a convincing victory over the traditional foe, Port Arthur. The team likewise earned its first championship, the state championship in the Texas Catholic Interscholastic League.

Kerrville (Tivy High)

Friday the Thirteenth proved a charm as the Cavaliers defeated the Antlers from Kerrville, 12-6. Teflos and Wallace showed to advantage and gave promise of a spectacular season.

Central Catholic High (San Antonio)

The Texas Catholic Interscholastic League made its official bow and Sunday football was introduced to Corpus Christi; Tom Quigley brought the lateral pass into prominence, and the Cavaliers trounced the Buttons from San Antonio, 37-0. That's in brief the story of the game. With a wide open game the Cavaliers found little difficulty in taking the lead.

St. Joseph's (Dallas)

This time it was the powerhouse attack that crushed the Fighting Irish from the exposition city. The opponents lived up to their name, but the locals proved too much, and the second Catholic team went under 33-0. Once the touchdown parade commenced, it could not be stopped, in spite of the fact that the coach injected his entire squad into the fray.

St. Anthony's (San Antonio)

The victory march was on and it could not and would not be denied. The Yellow Jackets from San Antonio came and were swept aside and buried under an avalanche of touchdowns 65-7. Coach Quigley tried to stem the tide but the hopelessly demoralized opponents could not withstand although a spurt of power in the second quarter showed ability in the ranks of the Jackets.

Victoria Junior College (Victoria)

A break of the game and a fleet backfield ace registered twelve points against the Cavaliers, halting a winning streak and letting the home team down for their first defeat of the season, 12-0. It was a bruising, slam bang brand of football from the opening whistle to the final shot. The Cavaliers registered nine first downs to one for their opponents, gained twice as many yards from scrimmage as the Pirates, and repulsed three scoring attacks with stonewall defenses. But it was a case of a good man breaking loose twice, and the score won the game.

Port Arthur High School (Port Arthur)

Four years of competition and in the fourth game a victory. The Quigleymen squared off with the Dennismen of Port Arthur, 20-7, before approximately three thousand fans in the wildest game and before the largest crowd ever to witness a College-Academy game. The Cavaliers were primed for the occasion and literally "shot the works" with a dazzling exhibition of forward passes and laterals, and a strong running game that was faultless. In addition, the Maroon and Gold aggregation pulled one out of the storybook, a Frank Merriwell, that is still the talk of the town. The play came at the end of the second period. The closing seconds were ticking away and the Academy penetrated to the Jackets 42. Teflos tried the right side for a yard. Then as he again took the ball from center on the next play the gun sounded for the half. But Jimmy knew his rules. He shot a pass to Giammalva, who caught it on his thirty, reached the twenty and found himself closed in by the enemy. Giammalva heaved a perfectly executed lateral to Heard, who was trailing. The play clicked for a counter, and the Cavaliers took the lead at the half, which did much to encourage them in the second frame for a victory.

Schreiner "B" (Kerrville)

Out of the mountains came a hard and tough Schreiner "B" team and when the smoke of the fitful fourth quarter had cleared, the Cavaliers were on a very short end of a 37-0 score. The two teams fought a scoreless battle for three quarters and the game was headed for a scoreless tie. But superior weight and experience finally turned the tide. Worn to a frazzle, the Cavaliers weakened perceptibly in the last stanza, and the reserve power of the visitors took advantage of the weakness at the proper moment to break the knot. In an attempt to retaliate the Quigleymen lost their balance and composure, and as running plays failed and forward passes were intercepted, the Mountaineers ran up a total of thirty-seven points as the gun finally ended the slaughter.

Kirwin High (Galveston)

The final conference game with Kirwin High of Galveston netted a second conference victory. The victims were an easy mark, even though they played a game fight. The score: 41-0. This was the second victory over the Galveston team in two encounters.

The Conference Race

In the conference race, the chief contenders were Kirwin of Galveston and the College-Academy. The league awarded the southern district championship to the Cavaliers by virtue of their victory over Galveston. Dallas, in the northern district, forfeited, and the league again ruled, and again in favor of Corpus Christi.

Coach Thomas E.
Quigley

If not in point of service, then surely for his influence in the Corpus Christi area, Coach Thomas E. Quigley can be called the "dean of coaches" for this particular area. He has been twice president of the Gulf Coast Officials' Association, which shows the esteem in which he is held by the fellow members of his profession.

But that is scant praise; his ability as an athlete and as an athletic director merits more. There is reason for the record that has lived after him at St. Benedict's College of Atchison, Kansas, his alma mater. He has demonstrated his ability at Corpus Christi for eight years. He is a student of athletics; he loves it; he knows it; he teaches it. That is knowledge.

His practice has been to be unafraid of opposition. He has scheduled and met some of the outstanding athletic teams of the state. In football, particularly, no opposition was too much. That is moral courage.

In baseball, he has been a master of strategy. Ninth inning victories have been the rule rather than the exception. That is knowledge of the weaknesses of opponents.

It has been said before that he possesses an uncanny faculty for developing in a boy what on the surface seems not to be present. This may be repeated without losing any of its force when applied to Coach Quigley. He has been forced to develop and he has developed unusual athletic aggregations against overwhelming odds with a scarcity of material on hand.

It has likewise been said that a coach must be more than an athletic director; he must be a boy's father confessor. Coach Quigley has been that, which prompts the designation of Quigley as "an all-around coach". The problems of his boys have been his problems. He has advised and counselled, for which reason many a student owes his new start in life to Coach Quigley.

A COMPOSITE RECORD

Records are compiled from time to time. And in view of the fact that the Cavaliers have left no stone unturned to establish themselves as one of the great football organizations of the state, LA PALOMA is pleased to pay them a tribute in a composite score sheet, covering a period of eight years of participation.

1928
College-Academy	0	Aransas Pass 0
"	0	Alice 59
"	0	Beeville 58
"	0	Falfurrias 44
1929
College-Academy	0	Aransas Pass 13
"	0	Aransas Pass 6
1930
Alice	0	College-Academy 0
Rockport	6	" 33
Taft	7	" 6
Sinton	0	" 38
Beeville	0	" 6
Falfurrias	13	" 0
Aransas Pass	7	" 7
Hebbronville	0	" 45
Three Rivers	0	" 35
1931
College-Academy	45	Rockport 0
"	42	Hebbronville 6
"	81	Taft 0
"	19	Beeville 0
"	39	Aransas Pass 13
"	19	Kingsville 0
"	47	Peacock 0
"	27	Laredo 0
"	7	Alice 0
1932
Brownsville Jr. College	0	College-Academy 7
Alice	0	" 12
Port Arthur	31	" 0
St. Ed's Freshmen	6	" 19
Kingsville	6	" 13
Robstown	0	" 14
Laredo	0	" 19
Cisco	15	" 13

1933
College-Academy	25	Robstown 0
"	14	Port Arthur 18
"	7	Sam Houston High 6
"	19	Westmoorland College 13
"	14	A. & I. Fresh 6
"	50	Kirwin High 12
"	34	Beaumont 0
1934
Kingsville	3	College-Academy 31
Robstown	13	" 31
St. Ed's Freshmen	27	" 0
Victoria Jr. College	19	" 0
Thos. Jefferson	13	" 13
Port Arthur	44	" 0
Peacock	0	" 6
San Marcos		" 6
Teachers, Fresh.	7	" 6
A. & I. Freshman	19	" 12
1935
College-Academy	12	Tivy High, Kerrville 6
"	37	Central Catholic 0
"	33	St. Joseph's, Dallas 0
"	65	St. Anthony, San Antonio 7
"	0	Victoria Jr. College 12
"	20	Port Arthur 7
"	0	Schreiner "B" 37
"	41	Kirwin 0

A summary of the eight years reveals the following statistics:

Games Won	35
Games Lost	17
Games Tied	4

Total points:

By Cavaliers	1053
By Opponents	544

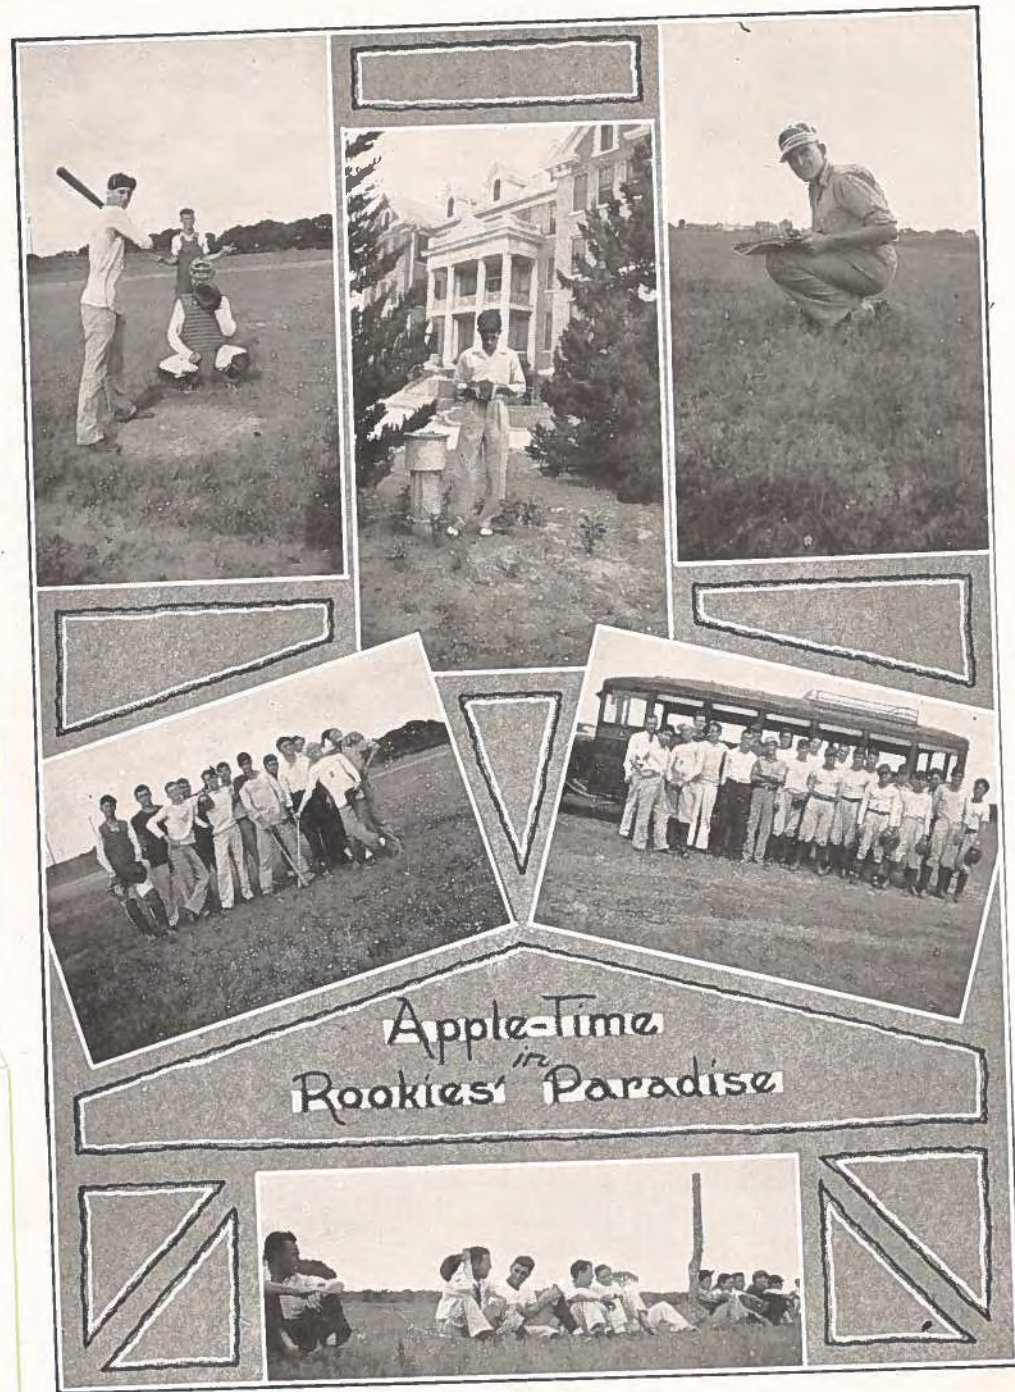

A review of the years further reveals that Falfurrias, Cisco, Victoria Junior College, and Schreiner "B" are the only teams which the Cavaliers have not defeated in any one encounter.

In only fourteen games has the school's team been held scoreless, and eight of these were in pioneer years.

Twelve games have been played with teams made up of super high school talent.

In the three years, 1931, 1932, 1933, the Cavaliers lost but three games; two of these went to Port Arthur. Out of twenty-four games in these years, the Cavaliers won 21.

Finally, the all-time average for the school is .650%.

THE BASEBALL SEASON

Spring again brought the old familiar crack of bats and pounding of gloves. The following boys answered the call of Coach Quigley:

Pitcher: Benson, John Heard.
 Catcher: Gollihar, Jack Heard.
 First base: Bluntzer, Diersing.
 Second base: Meaney, Endres.
 Third base: John Heard, J. T. Wright, Jr.
 Shortstop: Barganski, Shelton.
 Left field: Voeste, Mew.
 Center field: Lowrie, Husbands.
 Right field: Cason, Hartmann.

ROCKPORT 1 — ACADEMY 4

The opening game with Rockport on their home field developed into a pitching duel between "Zoom" Benson and Rouquette. Hits were few and far between and the fast contest ended 4 to 1 in favor of the Academy. The Academy collected four hits to their opponents' five but managed to bunch them in one deciding inning.

MATHIS 11 — ACADEMY 12

The second game saw the C. C. C. camp at Mathis go under in a typical slugfest. After piling up a large lead in the opening innings, the Academy witnessed a spectacular comeback by Mathis in the closing innings that fell only one run short in the final tally. The game, pitched by Johnny Heard, ended 12 to 11 in favor of the Academy.

ROCKPORT 10 — ACADEMY 0

In a "Comedy of Errors" the Academy received a drubbing at the hands of Rockport, and went down swinging 10-0. Rouquette, star Rockport hurler, was at his best and allowed but three hits, indication enough that the Cavaliers' batting eye, too, was blinded.

C. C. HIGH SCHOOL 4 — ACADEMY 7

In retaliation the Cavaliers defeated the local high school Buccaneers by a score of 7 to 4. Benson hurled a brilliant game for the Academy, keeping the opponents' hits to a minimum. Academy batters hit freely to capitalize on several passes issued by Kanipe, Buccaneer hurler, and by Shannon who relieved him.

C. C. HIGH SCHOOL 7 — ACADEMY 5

In the second game of the series the Buccaneers came back and won a close game, 7 to 5. Overcoming a two run lead, the Cavaliers stayed in front until the seventh inning when a bit of sleepy work on the part of the battery allowed the winning runs to cross the plate. Shannon and Kanipe shared hurling duties for the Bucs with Benson going the route for the Cavaliers.

The end of the season is not yet at hand. Consequently, an account of the complete season is impossible.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

In every school there is a necessity for athletic activities other than those of the major sports. Some find it impossible to participate in the latter; consequently, in order to bring physical education and training to all, other means must be devised. The intramural sports fill this bill at the college-academy.

The organization of this phase of the school's athletic program consisted of volley ball and indoor baseball under the direction of Coach Thomas Quigley. Six teams, the Daisies, Pansies, Petunias, Narcissus, Sweet Peas, and Violets played games daily.

The schedule for this flowery aggregation provided for the gradual elimination of the teams until a volley ball and an indoor baseball champion was left. During the football season touch football was substituted for indoor baseball, but the original schedule was not affected.

In the final check-up, the Pansies, captained by Ben Shelton won the indoor title, while the Daisies under the leadership of Captain Husbands, won the volley ball championship.

In addition, handball provided still more intramural competition for those not otherwise engaged and the noon recess always found the courts crowded.

OUTSTANDING IN THE SCHOOLYEAR

In every schoolyear in each school some few things will always stand out. The College-Academy and the current school year are no exceptions. No records have been broken, for each individual achievement is a record in itself. And those few records merit a recital here.

"THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN TEXAS, 1836-1936"

Centennial year brought its assignment to the school. "The Catholic Church in Texas, 1836-1936" was designated as the school's project by the chairman of Catholic exhibits for the central exposition in Dallas. The project was a matter for the history students and Father Joseph, head of the history department, promptly proceeded to work. Archives were searched, diocesan chanceries were consulted, and a mass of material assembled. The result is a chart measuring six by eight feet, containing nine graphic representations covering practically all phases of the subject. The work was neatly executed in colors by John Meaney and John Heard and stands as a tribute to the school and to the history department.

ENCHILLADA SALE, MAY 8

The publication of the yearbook tempted the resourcefulness of the student leaders. This became manifest from the city-wide enchillada sale sponsored by the senior class on May 8. There was a very noticeable lack of the usual newspaper publicity and house-top ballyhoo. It was a quiet affair, effectively executed by the senior class and by the school. The mothers of the students and members of the Altar Society of St. Patrick's Cathedral cooperated magnificently. The number of enchilladas sold in dozens reaches far above the hundred mark, and goes down as the largest of its kind in the history of the city.

T. C. I. L. CHAMPIONS

A silver trophy was added to the school's collection during the year. It crowns the Cavalier football team as official champions of the Texas Catholic Interscholastic League, and is the first one offered by the league. Its winning was not difficult; nevertheless, it places the school as a dominant figure in Catholic athletic circles of the state.

FROM A SENIOR TO THE SENIORS

While we're standing here demanding
 Recognition and a seat
 From a world that keeps commanding,
 "Forward, forward; no retreat;"—
 While we linger in the shadow
 Of that staid familiar place,
 We see dimly El Dorado
 That we wished for face to face.

Later when we're pitched and tossing
 On a troubled sea of life;
 When we've known its aches and sorrows,
 When we've had a hand in strife;
 Then we'll smile in recollection
 Of the times we knew back there;
 We'll recall in sweet reflection
 All those years that knew not care.

If this rings not true and tender—
 Wait a while and you shall see
 (When your thoughts despair engender,
 Ev'ry memory, hope, and glee
 Flower wildly and profusely—
 High fruition to full degree—.

—JOHN W. MEANEY

Patrons

PATRONS

The staff LA PALOMA appreciates those who have made this issue possible. It is true that the yearbook was a student project; nevertheless, the assistance, financial and otherwise, that was advanced proved in the final analysis to be the reason for ultimate publication. The staff therefore, expresses its appreciation by saying it in print, and gratefully acknowledges the following patrons:

- Msgr. John J. Lannon
- Mr. John Dunn
- Mrs. F. V. W. Heard
- Mrs. M. F. Woodworth
- Mrs. Thelma Heard
- All Advertisers
- The Altar Society of St. Patrick's Cathedral
- The Corpus Christi Printing Company
- The Austin Engraving Company
- Hamilton Studio

The students in general who responded generously and willingly to all requests of staff and senior class.

The College-Academy likewise requests that the following be herewith remembered for the various benefactions named:

Donors of Scholarships:

- Lions' Club, Corpus Christi
- Alumni Association
- St. Patrick's Altar Society
- Knights of Columbus
- B. V. M. Sodality
- Apostleship of Prayer, St. Patrick's Cathedral
- Athletic Council, Tuition scholarships

Donors of gold medals:

- Most Rev. E. B. Ledvina
- Msgr. John J. Lannon
- Rev. Nicholas Bauer
- Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn
- Mr. J. L. Sullivan

Donors of trophies:

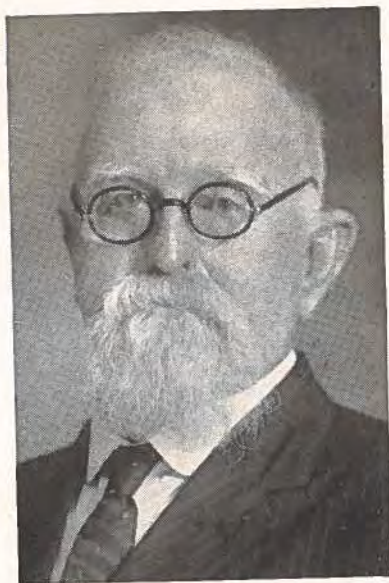

- Green Jewelry Company
- Taylor Brothers

Donors of Awards:

- C. D. of A., Corpus Christi
- Mrs. Marie Allen
- Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wright
- Mr. P. M. Derrick

Donors of Books:

- Mr. Thomas Yaklin
- Rev. E. M. DeBruyn
- Mr. B. S. Burgess
- Mr. Ben Schwegmann
- Rev. Nicholas Bauer
- Mr. J. B. Hubbard
- Mrs. L. M. Adams

JOHN DUNN
Benefactor

No College - Academy yearbook would be complete without a prominent mention of him to whom the school owes more than it can say. The reference is to John Dunn, South Texas' staunch Irish Catholic, and philanthropist. It was his generosity that provided the forty acres, a site upon which the school now stands.

That generosity made history over eight years ago. For it was at that time that Mr. Dunn offered the old Dunn homestead, to His Excellency, Most Rev. Bishop E. B. Ledvina, D. D., Bishop of Corpus Christi, with the provision that it be used for a Catholic school for boys.

Mr. Dunn's offer was an answer to Bishop Ledvina's prayers. Since his accession to the episcopal see of Corpus Christi, he had recognized the necessity for a central Catholic school for boys; he understood the need for a thorough Christian education. Bishop Ledvina felt that his own work would be more lasting and effective with a school to train leaders for his diocese.

His Excellency's appeal to the monastic chapter of New Subiaco Abbey, Subiaco, Arkansas, found a ready ear, and the acceptance of the Benedictine Fathers was the result.

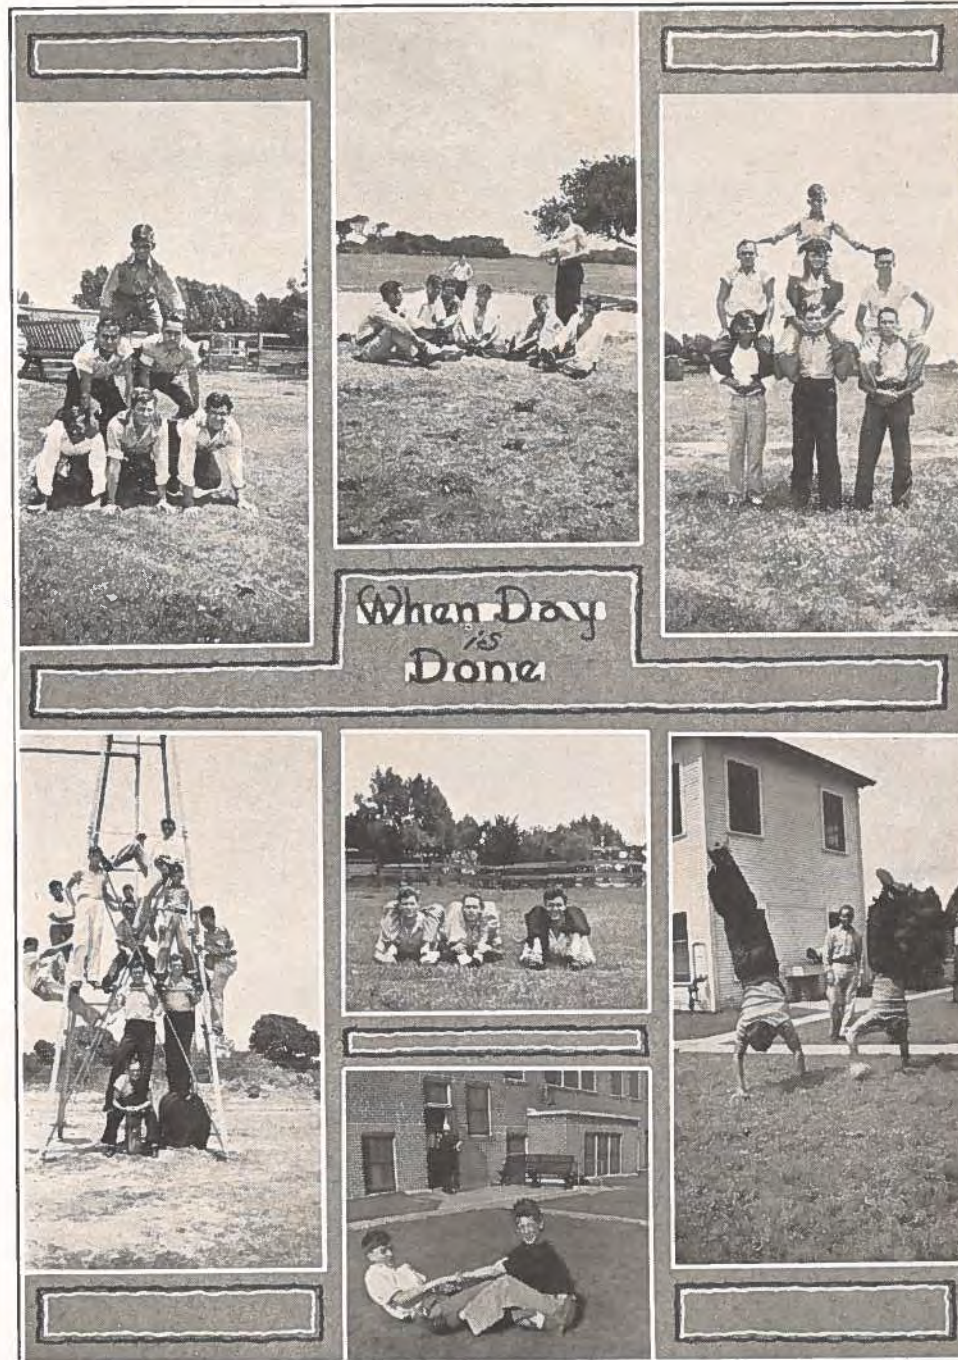

The old homestead that had seen South Texas rise from an isolated outpost to a thriving area was converted into a fit location for a school and for educational work. The ground that had been hallowed by the sacrifices of the early missionaries once more became the footing for men consecrated to God and to the Catholic education of youth.

Buildings were erected under the personal supervision of Bishop Ledvina. In fact, the school with all its accessory buildings was personally planned by the good Bishop. In 1928 His Excellency reaped the materialization of his dream, and Mr. Dunn the fruition of a long desire. It was in that year that the College-Academy opened its doors for the first time.

A meager forty-five students obtained entrance in that year. Since then the enrollment has almost doubled. The school has been recognized as a first-class high school under the provisions of the Texas State Department of Education, and authorized to offer over twenty recognized units of work.

The school has made progress in everything that it has attempted. It is now a recognized unit in the educational system of the territory which it serves.

But what it is and has it owes to His Excellency, Bishop Ledvina, the Father of the school, and to Mr. John Dunn, the Benefactor.

AUTOGRAPHS

ABE KLEIN
Clothing for Men and Boys
Nueces Hotel Building

COMPLIMENTS OF
Fred Quaile Realty
Company

Serving South Texans
Since 1908
Allen Furniture Co.
Complete Furnishings for Home and Office

Kinsel Motor Co.
CHEVROLET
Sales Service
Open 24 hours a day

Donated by
Dr. O. S. Koepsel

COMPLIMENTS OF THE
Corpus Christi Bank
and Trust Co.
801 Leopard Street

COMPLIMENTS OF THE GRISHAM'S
Ice Cream Company

COMPLIMENTS OF THE Hospital R Pharmacy

FAUST CAFE

The Home of the Home People

Medical-Professional Building

See

SAXET
Life Insurance Co.
Corpus Christi

Ages from 6-70 Insured

Home Office: Texas State Bank and Trust Company Building

UEHLINGER'S Confectionary

Hamburgers and Sandwiches

Fountain Service

Bring your shoes to us and let us fix them like new

C. C. Shoe Hospital

We do the best work and have the
the nicest place in the city

Phone 1666 804 Leopard St.

COMPLIMENTS OF

Central Power and Light Company

COMPLIMENTS OF THE

San Antonio Machine and Supply Co.

"You Must Be Satisfied"

COMPLIMENTS OF

L. L. Harris, Inc.

Distributor

Libby Fruits and Vegetables

Corpus Christi

Compliments of

A Friend

COMPLIMENTS OF

Nueces Drug Company

Phone 881

COMPLIMENTS OF

Leo Bluntzer Grain Company

Corpus Christi

Refrigeration Service
Radio Repair Service

Southern Electric Sales and Service Company

Phone 3142 523 So. Staples St.

W. K. Isenberg Food Store

Fancy and Staple Groceries
Local and K. C. Meats
Sea Foods

Admiration

and

Bright and Early

Coffees

Roasted Fresh Daily
in Corpus Christi

The Modern Pharmacy

Third at Hancock

Next to Isenberg's Food Store

THE ONLY COMPLETE DRUG STORE IN CORPUS CHRISTI

320 — Phones — 347

COMPLIMENTS OF

Cage Hardware Co.

Corpus Christi

COMPLIMENTS OF

JOE MIREUR

Corpus Christi, Texas

Carl Haltom

Optometrist

85% of Your Knowledge Comes through your eyes

427 Mesquite at Peoples

Muenster State Bank

Muenster, Texas

With Pride Participates in the Oil and Agricultural Development of Texas

Davis Drug Company

Two Stores
For Your Convenience

701 N. Chaparral
801 S. Carancahua

Texas Motor Sales

Garage and Service Station

715 Mesquite Phone 39

Blue Bonnet Confectionary

Where Friends
Meet Friends

Phone 1833 525 Staples St.

EUREKA

Laundering
Cleaning
Dyeing

In Corpus Christi Since 1906

For Accurate and Dependable Motor
Repairs and Rewinding

BRADLEYS'
MOTOR & ARMATURE WORKS
Phone 680
603 So. Staples

COMPLIMENTS OF

New Market Grocery

Phone 1480
601 So. Staples

PHOTOGRAPHS OF
YOUR Individuality
Not OURS

OFFICIAL
PHOTOGRAPHER
For LA PALOMA

Hamilton

Nixon Building

Corpus Christi