The Board of Trustees recognizes the importance of parent-teacher conferences. At least two parent-teacher conferences should be scheduled each year for parents of children in the elementary schools.

The teacher will arrange additional conferences with parents in instances when children are having learning or behavior problems. Parents will be provided schedules indicating selected days of the week and times of the day when it will be most convenient for parents to have conferences they request with teachers. If parents cannot meet with teachers in accord with this schedule, the principal must inform the parent that another schedule will be developed to accommodate the needs of the parent.
