Dear Friends of Maclay,

On behalf of the entire Maclay School community, I extend my warmest gratitude for your continued support as we excitedly come together for the 42nd annual Maclay Auction: Bring the Glamour. It is with a deep sense of appreciation that we recognize the incredible things that our community makes possible through its generosity each year. Through your unwavering commitment, each of you play a vital role in shaping the Maclay experience for our students.

Tonight, we are ever grateful for all of the sponsors and volunteers who made this evening possible. We extend special thanks and gratitude to our presenting sponsor, Tallahassee Neurological Clinic, Dr. Albert Lee and Dr. Matthew Lawson, for their generous leadership and support.

The Maclay Auction is more than just a fundraiser; it's a celebration of the Maclay spirit. This beloved annual event is a testament to our collective belief in the power of education and the enduring strength of our school community. Year after year, the Auction brings together local businesses, alumni, parents, faculty, and friends in a spirit of camaraderie and philanthropy. Each individual here with us this evening plays a part in this. Thank you for the role that you play.

The funds raised through the Maclay Auction tonight immediately and directly impact the lives of our students. They allow us to invest in innovative resources, new programs, and support for our remarkable faculty.

It's a pleasure to join each of you tonight to celebrate and support our community of students.

Tonight, you will be transformed to the famous Polo Lounge and the Cabana Café, and enjoy a menu, drinks, and poolside fun all brought to you with flare from 90210.

We are excited to welcome nearly 400 guests who are not only our current parents at Maclay School, but many former parents, faculty, and staff who continue to encourage and support our school.

A night such as this would not be possible without the wonderful generosity of our many sponsors. It is a true testament to our community at Maclay, and we thank you.

We are thrilled to present one of the most amazing line-ups of Live and Silent Auction items where there is certainly something for everyone. We encourage you to show your support and love for Maclay throughout the evening.

Tonight's proceeds will go towards the continuous charge to provide excellence in our programs and support for our people, our students, and the incredible faculty who dedicate so much to them. So be sure bid high and bid often.

Cheers!

56. Dom Perignon Champagne (Half Case)

Savor a half case (6 bottles) of the 2013 Dom Perignon Champagne. The 2013 winemaking year proved a welcome reconnection with the glorious past of late harvest vintages. After a cold, wet winter, spring was gray, quite cool and extremely rainy. The vines began budding about two weeks later than the average for the decade, a delay that lasted all the way until the harvest. The hot and dry summer was the sunniest on record in the Champagne region, proving particularly beneficial for the quality of the grapes. Rain in early September quickly ceded to easterly winds that kept the grapes healthy until they were picked. This vintage is a wonderful centerpiece for any celebration!

56. Dom Perignon Champagne (Half Case)

Savor a half case (6 bottles) of the 2013 Dom Perignon Champagne. The 2013 winemaking year proved a welcome reconnection with the glorious past of late harvest vintages. After a cold, wet winter, spring was gray, quite cool and extremely rainy. The vines began budding about two weeks later than the average for the decade, a delay that lasted all the way until the harvest. The hot and dry summer was the sunniest on record in the Champagne region, proving particularly beneficial for the quality of the grapes. Rain in early September quickly ceded to easterly winds that kept the grapes healthy until they were picked. This vintage is a wonderful centerpiece for any celebration!

4016. Old Pogue Master's Select Bourbon

Just a decade after General Robert E. Lee surrendered to General Ulysses S. Grant at Appomattox Courthouse, Henry Edgar Pogue purchased the Old Time Distillery from O.H.P Thomas. Situated at the junction of the Ohio River and Limestone Creek — you may have lost a family member here if you ever forded a river playing Oregon Trail — Pogue registered the distillery with the State of Kentucky, making it only the third registered distillery in the state. Soon after he acquired the distillery, Pogue renamed it after himself and began producing Old Pogue Bourbon. According to a newspaper account from January 25, 1900, Old Pogue Distillery had "built up a large business strictly through honorable methods" and "enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best known and best patronized distilleries in the State of Kentucky." After his untimely death in a work-related accident in 1890, H.E. Pogue was succeeded by his son until 1918, when he too passed away during an accident at the distillery. Within two years, the 18th Amendment to the United States Constitution, which prohibited the sale and manufacture of alcohol, was passed, and H.E. Pogue III was forced to close the doors to the distillery that his grandfather purchased nearly 50 years ago. Today, the fourth and fifth generations of Pogues — H.E. Pogue IV and H.E. Pogue V — have returned to the family business. Old Pogue Master's Select Bourbon Whiskey is fashioned based on a recipe that was handwritten by H.E. Pogue III on three sheets of lined notebook paper. After distillation, Old Pogue Master's Select is aged for nine years in new, American oak casks. Its notes of dried fruit — particularly prunes and apricots — and hints of caramel and vanilla have earned it a number of accolades, including the Double Gold Medal at the Fifty Best Tasting Competition in 2012 and a rating of "Superb" by Wine Enthusiast.
