THINKING ABOUT BECOMING A TEACHER?

Arizona Education Association Student Program

Start your career on the right track by joining the Arizona Education Association Student Program. AEA is the state's largest professional organization for education employees. Membership provides a network of professional educators dedicated to keeping the promise of quality public education. In addition, AEA is the Arizona affiliate of the National Education Association (NEA), connecting you with 3.2 million members nationwide.

Student membership dues are just $20 per year and serve as a rebate toward membership in the AEA and NEA when you begin teaching. First-year teachers who belonged to the AEA in college can receive up to a $20 rebate toward their first-year dues for each year of student program membership. arizonaea.org/studentjoin

Why Join the Arizona Education Association Student Program?

We help you enhance your career.

AEA's Intergenerational Mentoring Program provides student members one-on-one mentoring with an experienced educator to provide support through members' student teaching experiences and their first year of teaching.

Successful teaching requires many specialized skills, including classroom management, negotiation, and communication, to name a few. Learn the latest education issues through our quarterly magazine the AEA Advocate, electronic newsletters, our website at www.arizonaea.org, and our workshops and training sessions.

We advocate for you.

Many schools require you to be covered by liability insurance when you student teach. As a student member of AEA, you'll be covered by our $1 million liability insurance policy every time you step into a classroom on assignment.

We help to improve student achievement and public education.

Through the Association you have the opportunity to make a difference and help in our lobbying efforts to impact education policy affecting you in the classroom and the students you teach, including more funding for public education, reducing class sizes, and establishing a Professional Standards Board.

We provide the benefits and services to support you.

AEA believes in supporting the next generation of teachers. That's why the Association offers several scholarships and grants for student members to assist with education expenses.

The practical benefits of becoming a student member can quickly repay your dues investment – members receive discounts on car and health insurance, travel expenses, financial and investment services, and more.
