

Eric de la Houssaye

I was born in Florida, but raised in Texas. I graduated from Dickinson High School in the no cell phone era. After high school, I attended Lamar University under the tutelage of the legendary athletic trainer Paul T. Zeek where I earned a bachelor degree in health education and psychology. I proudly served 4 years in the United States Navy before I entered the civilian workforce. I have worked at Hutto ISD for the past 19 years. My wife Kimberly and I have three daughters Aileene, Michaela and Kelsey and enjoy living in the country. In my free time I enjoy cooking, wood working, and raising goats.
