The Youth Leadership Academy is hosted by the Eagan Police Department and Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). The academy is designed to offer lifelong enrichment opportunities by exposing participants to team oriented activities, and instruction centered around leadership.

There will be speakers from both the private and public sector, which helps broaden the student's perspective on leadership.

The target audience for this academy is ages 14-17.

The vision of the Youth Leadership Academy is to develop an influential community of socially conscious and service minded leaders.

The Youth Leadership Academy focuses on intensive instruction and training activities for high school sophomores and juniors ages 14-17.

Extensive coursework and classroom instruction focus on issues faced by the youth of today and provides tools that can enhance their individual core talents.

The academy is offered to students at no charge and is run by law enforcement instructors.
