Broken Glass- By Alexander Robertson

There was once a man. Nobody knew his name, and nobody wanted to. He was an average man in many ways, except for his eyes. His eyes appeared to be made of the broken look of a kaleidoscope; like shattered glass, split into a hundred pieces, with each a different array of colors.

Everyone ignored the man when he passed. No one spoke to him. No one looked at him. This was all fine by the man, and he returned the favor.

However, one day, a little boy came over and decided to speak to him.

“Mister? Why do your eyes look funny?’ Asked the boy.

The man smiled softly, his eyes reflecting the sunlight, and responded with: “Because I see things.”

“What things?” Asked the boy.

“Many things. Everything. My eyes let me see the world in a hundred different perspectives.“

“Really?” Said the boy. “How?”

The man stayed silent as they began to walk down the street. It was spring, and fresh leaves and petals rustled past their feet. A car drove by, and the boy pointed at it.

“What does that car look like to you, then?” He said.

The man thought for a moment as he watched it. “In one view, it looks like a car. In another, it looks like a gigantic bee. In a different one, it looks like a moving boulder.”

The boy giggled. “Wow! That is so cool!”

The man frowned. “No, it’s not. Sometimes in life, you should only have a few views on things. These days, I see things so differently that I can’t even choose how I live anymore.”

The boy frowned. “Oh.”

The boy was silent again. This time, the man started to talk first.

“With my eyes, I know so much that, truly, I don’t know anything. Too much power can destroy any self-control you might have. Always remember that, boy.”

And the boy did. Every day forth, he thought of what the man said.

Game Reviews

Is Minecraft really that good? Or do people overrate it?

This review will go over the game of Minecraft and if it is worth its $26 dollar price point.

Why do people like it so much?

People like this game a lot because the freedom it gives you to do what you want without a paywall or restrictions. Although it is a very simple game, Mojang, the company that makes the game, puts a lot of time into making it as player-friendly as possible.

What is in the game anyway?

Minecraft has lots of things, some simple, some not. The basic mechanics of the game are using the blocky terrain, building, mining, fighting monsters, and free roaming. A player can do anything in the game.

Why do people love the music?

People love the music because of how calm it is. In fact, some people will fall asleep to it! The music is from C418, who is a German Music Producer. Marcus “Notch” Persson hired C418 (Real Name Daniel Rosenfeld) to make the music for the Alpha and Beta Versions of the game.

Overall, students rate the game 10/10

Music Reviews

Rust in Peace, is it worth buying?

Megadeth is a band that started in L.A after the singer Dave mustang left Metallica after a bus crash that left the bass player, cliff burton dead. Dave was on a bus ride back to California when he saw a news paper with “the great Megadeth.” this is refering to “nuclear arsenals.” he took the term and made it into a band name. Megadeth start in 1983 playing gigs around small bars in L.A. the original line up from 1983 is Dave Mustaine on guitar, drummer Richard Girod, vocalist Lor Kane, guitarist Greg Handevidt and bassist David Ellefson. they have had many line up changes over their long carrier but the 2024 line up is, Dave Mustaine – guitar, vocals, Dirk Verbeuren – drums, James LoMenzo – bass, backing vocals and Teemu Mäntysaari – guitar, backing vocals.

Rust in peace was released to the public on September 21 of 1990. The album was released by metal band Megadeth, this marked their fourth studio Album

The song that most Megadeth fans like on this album is Holy wars...punishment due. It is fast paced and is heavy, It is one of my favorite songs on this album.

The reason people love this album so much is beacuse of how good the songs are and how they sound like real metal music and not the fake forced by record label metal.

Any Megadeth fan will recognize the album cover because it is so original and creative, you know it’s a Megadeth album because of the robot guy on the front of the album cover. His name is Vic Rattlehead, he is on almost all of the Megadeth albums and is super cool.
