SCHOOL NURSE CORNER

SUDDEN CARDIAC ARREST:

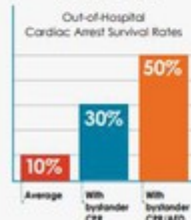

YOU CAN SAVE A LIFE

Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) is a life-threatening emergency that occurs when the heart suddenly stops beating. When SCA happens, the person collapses and doesn't respond or breathe normally. They may gasp or shake as if having a seizure.

Sudden Cardiac Arrest IS NOT the same as a heart attack.

SCA VICTIM:	HEART ATTACK VICTIM:
• Unresponsive	• Responsive
• Not breathing normally	• Breathing
• Heart stopped	• Heart beating
• Needs CPR/AED	• Doesn't need CPR/AED

BYSTANDER ACTION SAVES LIVES

EVERY SECOND COUNTS
SCA leads to death in minutes if the person does not get help right away. For every minute that passes, survival odds decrease by 10%.

THE SHOCKING FACTS

Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) is a national public health crisis affecting 1,000 people outside hospital settings each day. It strikes people of all ages who may seem to be healthy, even children and teens.

Today only 1 in 10 survives SCA.

If bystanders give CPR & use AEDs immediately 5 in 10 could survive.

7 IN 10 SCAs HAPPEN AT HOME.

You could save the life of someone you love by starting CPR.

WHAT TO DO

Survival from SCA depends on the quick actions of people nearby who call 911, start CPR and use an AED to restart the heart.

RECOGNIZE SCA
If person is unresponsive and not breathing normally, assume SCA.

CALL 911 to get help
Follow emergency dispatcher's instructions.

PUSH to triple the chance of survival
Start CPR. Push hard and fast in center of chest (100-120 pumps/minute).

SHOCK to restart heart
Use AED. Follow step-by-step audio/visual instructions. AEDs can't hurt the person and are meant for anyone to use.

SELF-CARE CORNER BY ELLIE FARRIBA

As autumn approaches and we are in full swing at school, it's natural to feel the "fall slump" setting in. Even though we have just come off of fall break, the days may see a bit grayer, and the routine gets a little monotonous. But don't lose heart, your creative spark is still burning brightly within you!

Dedicate a few minutes to mindfulness each day. Start your week with a mindful practice that can set the tone for your week. Sit in a quiet space, close your eyes, and take a few deep, intentional breaths. Let go of the chatter in your mind and focus on being in the present moment. Feel the breath as it enters and leaves your body, grounding you in the here and now. As you breathe, visualize your creative energy as a glowing ember within you. Picture it growing with each breath, warming your spirit, and illuminating your thoughts. Imagine this spark of creativity infusing every aspect of your teaching, making your lessons come alive with fresh, imaginative ideas.

Each Monday, choose to be a beacon of creativity in your classroom. Your passion and ingenuity are limitless, and they have the power to light up the lives of your students. Embrace this fall season as a time of transformation and growth. Let your creativity flourish like the colorful leaves outside!

EVERY CLASS MATTERS, EVERY CREDIT COUNTS BY VALERIA WILLIAMS

Freshman Huskies are transitioning into the high school mindset. However, their perspective of “important” classes must shift as they progress through high school. Mrs. Jennifer Hulan, Howard High School’s Graduation/At-Risk Coach, assisted in shifting the paradigm by speaking with Freshman Seminar students about the importance of passing EVERY class. She explained the credit requirements for all subject areas to Freshman Seminar students. Additionally, she expounded on the importance of credits by explaining how credits determine whether students who are supposed to be Seniors can participate in senior-based activities, such as prom and Staycation. If students have not obtained enough credits to be categorized as a Senior by their expected graduation year, they cannot participate in fun Senior activities.

Mrs. Hulan, thank you for helping our students get on track and remembering to begin with the end in mind!

I am a responsible person. I take initiative. I choose my actions, attitudes, and moods. I do not blame others for my wrong actions. I do the right thing without being asked, even when no one is looking.

Learn more about all Eight Habits from our Leader in Me Lighthouse Team. A member would love to collaborate on identifying and practicing the eight habits.
