

ConnectED Library Card Project

Richland Library is working with our school to make sure every student has a library card. From comic books to homework help – they've got it all. Get ConnectED and see what Richland Library is all about.

Get Your Card

Students can visit any library location to register for a FREE library card or apply online, here.

Richland One and Two Middle and High School Students:

Great news! You're all set. Your Student ID number is now your library card number and your four-digit PIN is based on your birthdate (MMDD). Detailed instructions available at <https://bit.ly/3hi5XGT>.

Teachers:

Currently teaching in a K-12 Richland County school or childcare center? Get an Education card and check out library materials for your classroom. Contact us here or visit your nearest location to sign up. Don't forget your proof of employment.

About the Project:

The ConnectED Library Card Project is part of the nationwide Leaders Library Card Challenge, a federal program supported by IMLS and ULC and developed in 2015 by President Obama's administration. The program encourages public libraries to work with school districts and local government to make sure every student in their community has a library card to increase access to the library's valuable resources and services.

As part of this challenge, Richland Library is also committed to

- supporting student learning through programming that develops their language, reading, and critical thinking;
- providing digital resources, such as eBooks and online collections of traditional media; and
- providing broadband connectivity and wireless access within library facilities.
