Holiday Season
Sweet Music

"After silence, that which comes nearest to expressing the inexpressible is music."

— Aldous Huxley,
Music at Night

Special thanks to our music department and talented students of all ages for giving us the seasonal gift of "inexpressible" beauty through their vocal, orchestral, and band performances.

TWO Intel STS 2015 Semifinalists Named

Five Sayville High School students, who participated in the R.I.S.E. program, had gathered in the classroom on January 7, 2015 to hear the noontime news, when the names of the Intel Semifinalists would be announced. Each of the five had done significant in-depth research that qualified them for consideration in the prestigious competition. However, only three hundred of the 1,400 national submissions would be selected.

The Sayville students (Nick Cowan, Emily Faughnan, Olivia Kaczmarek, Allison Murphy, Shreeya Panigrahi), along with their Research Teacher Maria Brown, Team Teachers Janet Kaczmarek (GIS) and Rick Caskey (R.I.S.E. Tech), Science Chairperson Jennifer Byrnes, Sayville Superintendent Walter Schartner, Principal Ron Hoffer, and other research students, waited in hopeful anticipation.

Who, if any, among them might be an Intel Science Talent Search 2015 semifinalist?

When the national news finally broke, congratulations were in order for two Sayville students, Nicholas Cowan and Emily Faughnan, who were chosen for their research projects using Geospatial Modeling tools (see the district website for details).

While these remarkable students deserve praise for their outstanding achievements and keen devotion to the scientific process, no research is without a supporting team. Sayville's R.I.S.E. (Research in Science and Engineering) and STEM (Science Technology Engineering and Math) programs have had the solid support of the Sayville School District; from the science, technology, and math departments, to the Sayville administrators at central office, as well as at the building levels, and especially from the Board of Education. The Sayville elementary schools regularly hold Science Fairs, often garnering winners in the Brookhaven National Laboratory Science Fair competitions, while the Middle School research programs, which continue to sow seeds for future high school students, have had competitive winners of their own.

Science Research Teacher Maria Brown has been cultivating a climate of independent research for Sayville High School students since the R.I.S.E. program was launched in 2007. The students' remarkable successes in national and international prestigious scientific venues are directly linked to Mrs. Brown's love for all things science and her networking with Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory, Stony Brook University, Brookhaven National Laboratory, and Molloy College's CERCOM Center (to name a few on Long Island), and other facilities that might offer year-round opportunities for students to do research.

So it is with tremendous pride in the two Intel STS 2015 Semifinalists, as well as the supporting team within Sayville Schools, that the District applauds Nick and Emily, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Kaczmarek, who team teach the Stony Brook University GIS Planning & Design course at Sayville High School, for the great success they brought to Sayville.

Attention all Residents:

The School Budget/Bond Vote will be held On May 19, 2015 in the OLD JUNIOR HIGH GYM. Use the Greeley Avenue entrance both for convenient parking and Handicapped parking located near the gym doors.

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

As the saying goes: "you can't take it with you," but Sayville audiences were certainly overtaken by laughter during the recent Sayville Players Fall production of You Can't Take It With You, and for good reason. While the Pulitzer-Prize winning play was written in 1936, its comic appeal remains timeless. Who couldn't understand the basic boy-meets-girl/fall-in-love story that fuses two incompatible families with hilarious consequences?

In the Sayville Players Fall production, the talented troupe delivered jokes, written in the 1930s, with the right comic spin to make them work in 2014. Congratulations to ALL the Players for another fine production.

Great Character HONORED at Fall 2014 Breakfast of Champions

Twenty-one High School students were recognized at the Fall 2014 Breakfast of Champions for consistently demonstrating exemplary character.

Welcoming the honorees and their families, Assistant Principal Jillian Makris spoke about the students: "Some have superior academic performance, some athletic ability, and others a unique gift in the arts and music field. And no doubt there are many students here that have a combination of all of those, but they were invited here this morning to celebrate the one true trait that they all share in common—character! And while talent is a gift, character is a choice."

These students, nominated by Sayville High School teachers and staff, demonstrated positive conduct that included kindness, motivation, compassion, enthusiasm, diligence, and good citizenship beyond the classroom or athletic field or for achieving their personal best by striving to overcome major obstacles. They have provided the essential components for a successful High School Community. Each student received a Breakfast of Champions certificate and plaque created with their portrait on a Wheaties Box background.

A satisfying breakfast of eggs, bacon, sausage, home fries, bagels, and pancakes along with assorted beverages, donated by Lovin' Oven's - 21 Main Restaurant, West Sayville, completed the heartwarming ceremony. Special thanks go to Assistant Principal Jillian Makris who organized and hosted the morning ceremony, the technology department for making the plaques, and Mr. Ari Kramer and his chamber students who provided the soothing musical ambiance. Congratulations, Alyssa Jackson, Alyssa Klassert, Andrew Deutsch, Anthony Vetere, Conor Riccomini, Daniel Palumbo, Dea Ablgrim, Emma Philbin, Jamie O'Connor, Julia Lyons, Kara Intermesoli, Kevin O'Halloran, Liam Haber, Mark Doucet, Matthew Laskowitz, Nicholas Cowan, Nicole Sgroi, Salvatore Prevosto, Shaun Keane, Shreeya Panigrahi, & Tara Litvin.

The WIZ! Nothing Short of Magical at the Middle School

Sayville Middle School Music Department's presentation of The WIZ was nothing short of magical, from the fanciful costumes, high-tech special effects, entertaining acting, and especially to the amazing voices. Originally launched in 1974, The WIZ was the familiar story of Dorothy's trip to Oz, retold with soul, along with new music and story adaptations. Forty years later, after numerous national tours and Broadway revivals, its legacy remains in such popular songs as Ease On Down the Road, Believe in Yourself, Y'All Got It, and Soon As I Get Home.

Upholding Sayville Middle School's exceptional reputation for remarkable Musical productions, The WIZ was a crowd-pleaser. The costumes alone appealed to every Wizard of Oz fan, but the wizardry behind the animated sequences—inserts of Eighth-grader Alex Pittari as the Wizard appears to sail off in the hot air balloon, and the good witches, Kaitlyn Maher and Allison Lynn, also are seen waving gracefully as they float away in a magical bubble—immensely impressed audiences of all ages. ("How did they do that?" a youngster whispered out loud in awe one night, echoing the quieter thoughts of nearby adults. Credit goes to High School Junior and animator Sean McNally, who used video-game-maker software for the effect.)

While live theatre often has challenging moments that might seem like cyclones descending on Kansas cornfields, the cast and crew weathered through such unexpected twists (microphone woes, digital glitches, and a sick lead performer) with professionalism and talent, pulling off an ovation-worthy production every night.

In the end, when all of Oz retreated somewhere over a rainbow, Sam LoGrippe's Dorothy finished with a powerful reprise of Home that was so satisfying, audiences sighed, feeling the joy of reunion for all matters of home and hearth, along with heartfelt hugs for Toto, too.

There was no great sorcery involved in producing Sayville's Middle School musical; rather, it was the product of tremendous hard work and dedication by the directors, producers, and stage crew behind the scenes who, along with the amazing cast, should be congratulated.

(above right) As Scarecrow in search of a brain, Jonathan Nolan's high-energy witticisms, comic timing, and physicality imbued life into the bumbling bag of straw who learns to think on his feet.

(right) Evan Powers, the upended trash barrel of a Tin Man, gave a cast iron performance as the re-formed woodsman who, even without a heart, protects and defends his companions with emotional intensity.

(left) Cowardly Lion was every bit the center of attention. Shaun Gibbons embraced the role with gusto, musicality, and showmanship that made him a lively, hilarious, and memorable presence—fun to watch in every scene.

(above) Witches Addaperle (Kaitlyn Maher), Glinda (Allison Lynn), and Evillene (Christina LaFroschia) may have made brief appearances in character, but the young ladies played their small parts in a big way.

(right) Aunt Em (Gabby Medick) sang soothingly to Dorothy about The Feelings We Once Had.

(left) The Great Wizard, solidly played by Alex Pittari, was unbeatable as the ordinary man from Nebraska and revered master prestidigitator in Oz.

Appearances by Uncle Henry/Lord High Underling (Alex Maksimiak), Messenger (Matthew Zender), Gatekeeper (Adele Micelli), Toto (Cooper McNally) along with the Munchkins, Mice from the Mice Squad, Tornadoes, Crows, Yellow Brick Road, Poppies, Kalidahs, Trees, and ensemble cast filled the mystical world that would finally fade like a dream once Dorothy clicked her silver slippers three times.

SETTING THE TAX RATE

A Tax-Rate Decrease of .72% Gives Needed Relief To Downtown Sayville Businesses

Each August, Sayville School District receives notification from the Town of Islip regarding the Base Allocations for Homestead and NonHomestead properties in Sayville, as well as the Assessed Valuations. With these figures, the Sayville Board of Education and the School District must determine the tax rate for the upcoming school year.

Based upon this year's shift between Homestead and NonHomestead Base Allocations, the Sayville School tax rate will see an increase of 0.83% above the 1.22% increase that was originally projected in June of 2014. This 2.05% tax-rate increase translates—for the Homestead Properties (before S.T.A.R. exemptions)—into $150 increase for the year or $12.50 a month for the average home assessment of $40K. This means that the Homestead tax rate for the 2014-2015 School year is $18.72 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Please keep in mind that Sayville residents who were eligible for the Governor's New Tax-Rebate Program will benefit with a rebate equal to the calculated school tax-rate increase, because the budget that was approved by the voters in June remained under the Tax Cap Levy.

There is relief for Downtown Sayville, which is a vital component in our community. A shift from the NonHomestead Properties this year has resulted in a tax-rate DECREASE (the second decrease in two years) of 0.72% (last year it was 0.24%), which will assist in keeping our local businesses viable as the economic climate recovers.

Sayville School District thanks the community for your continued support and encourages residents to get involved and be informed by attending the Board of Education Meetings and other district functions.

Please check the district online calendar for details.

Also, you may contact Assistant Superintendent for Business John Belmonte at 244-6530 if you have questions regarding the upcoming budget process.

Each year, the Town of Islip determines the taxable assessment or "Assessed Valuation" of all properties in Sayville and also provides the "Base Allocation" figure that represents the percentage of Homestead (Residential) and NonHomestead (Business) properties within the District. These values change annually based upon such things as the number of homes sold, new homes built, developed properties throughout the year, and Tax CERTs (adjustments to home owners' tax rates). School districts receive this information in August and use it to set the tax rate.

SPECIAL UPDATE ABOUT A BOND COMMUNITY MEETINGS TO BE SCHEDULED

The Sayville BOE has decided to go forward and present to the community—for voter approval in May—a Bond Referendum of $19.2 million that would fund energy efficiencies, maintenance items, safety, ADA, parking, a turf field on Depot Road, and enhancements to upgrade district facilities.

The public will be invited to learn the details about this Bond proposal, well before the May vote. Sayville BOE and District will be holding community meetings. Although, at the time of this printing, those dates have not been decided, please check the District website/facebook/parent portal regularly for updates, as well as for announcements in the mail.

Sayville Board of Education Approved the VETERANS' EXEMPTION

At a well-attended Public Hearing, Assistant Superintendent John Belmonte thoroughly outlined the Veterans' Exemption and the resulting "tax shift" to the non-exempt homestead property owners. (Check the Business Office page of the Website for details about the Veterans' Exemption.) The following was discussed at the Hearing before the exemption was approved.

- Using the 2014-15 data provided by the Assessor's Office, there are currently a total of 773 Alternative & Eligible Funds Veterans within the District;
- Adopting the State Basic Max Level would shift approximately $1,690,000 in taxable properties to exempt properties;
- A homeowner would see an increase of approximately $0.14 per $100 of assessed value;
- A homeowner with an average assessed home of $40,000 would see an increase of approximately $56 per year.*

$56/year is the maximum shift to the tax rate, based on all 773. In all likelihood, the actual shift to other non-veteran taxpayers will be less than the $56 year, because all identified properties may not be eligible for the new alternative exemptions.*

Energies Run High at the Second Annual K-5 Duathlon

It was quite early on an energized Saturday morning in October when 304 Sayville students (up from last year's 255) joined either the Fun Run (for grades K-1) or the Second Annual Duathlon (for grades 2-5).

Similar to last year, the youngest participants of the Fun Run were off first, circling the entire Lincoln Avenue field, a distance of 1/2 mile. The "Run - Bike - Run" followed immediately. First participants were the Fifth-grade boys, who sprang into action as soon as they heard the "go" signal. One minute later, the Fifth-grade girls followed, and the succession continued for each grade and gender until all the entrants were off and running.

After completing the first circuit around Lincoln Avenue fields, the "Duathletes" grabbed their bikes for the second part: a 2.5-mile ride on a designated route in the Lincoln Avenue vicinity with an escort provided by the Sayville Fire Department. Once the bikers returned to the Lincoln Avenue School, they corralled their bikes and took the final 1/2-mile run around the field, crossing the official finish line in their personal best time.

With special thanks, the Duathlon organizers would like to acknowledge the T-shirt sponsors: Gold—Sayville Running Company, Sal's Pizzeria, Sayville Teachers Association, STAT Health, Grady Animal Hospital, Sweet Gourmet; Silver—South Shore Abstract; and Bronze—Sayville Association of School Administrators, Island Industrial Boiler, Inc., and Michael P. Walsh, ESQ. Their contribution: the yellow T-shirt given to each participant—was another bright spot in the memories of the

Congratulations to MATTHEW SELTS & JESSICA GRIFFIN Sayville's 2014 Suffolk Zone Award Recipients

MATTHEW SELTS

Matthew has excelled in the classroom and on the athletic field. This young man's compassion, enthusiasm and commitment have led to his academic and athletic success. Physical education has taught him how to be a leader on and off the field of competition. Matthew has verbally committed to Marist College, where he intends to play lacrosse and pursue a major in education. Congratulations to Sayville's Matthew Selts.

JESSICA GRIFFIN

Jessica is a hardworking and dedicated student who has distinguished herself in the classroom as well as on the athletic field. Physical Education has taught her to appreciate physical activities that promote good health, sportsmanship and team play while also collaboratively working with her peers. Next fall, Jessica plans to attend either Albany or Cortland, where she will study Business Management or Sociology. Congratulations to Sayville's Jessica Griffin.

The award is given annually by the New York State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance to one male and one female student athlete from each school district in Suffolk County. The students were selected for this award based on the following areas of exceptional achievement: physical performance, scholastic ability, and leadership, as well as community service.
