BAND

JANUARY 10TH, 2023

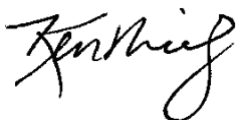

Hosted By Northside High School

January 2, 2023

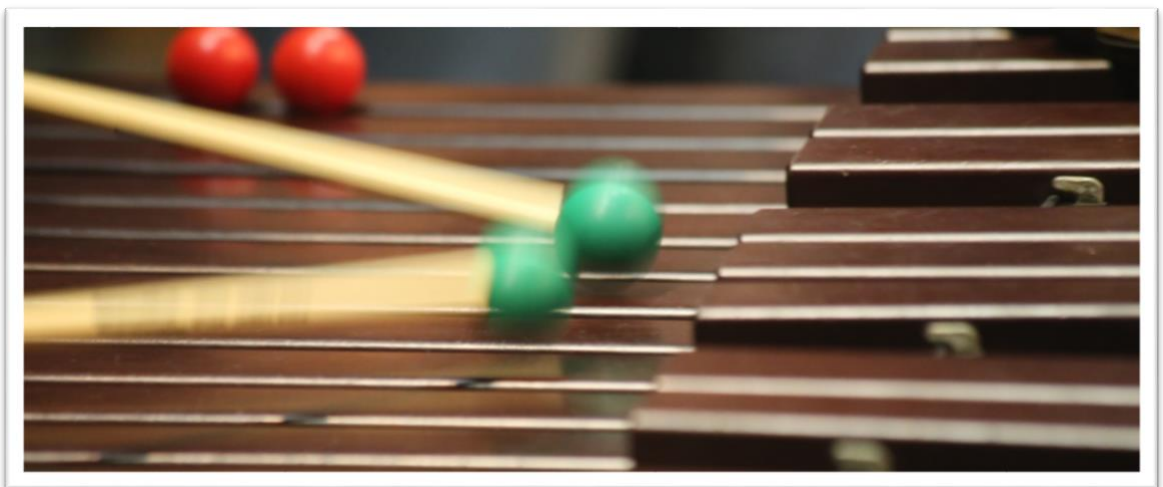

Dear Parents and Guests,

The Roanoke County School System and community is extremely proud of all our RCPS instrumental music students who have been selected to perform in this year's All-County Band Event. We value our school performing arts programs and support the enormous educational benefits our students receive while studying music in our schools. These students have worked hard to attain a high level of musicianship and we honor their dedication to their instrument and band programs. Thank you, parents, for supporting your child's musical endeavors. Your support allows all children the opportunity to study music and to excel in this art form. I would also like to thank and acknowledge our talented band directors, who are extremely dedicated to our RCPS music programs and who tirelessly work to improve, engage, and grow our band programs and our young musicians.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ken Nicely, Superintendent
Roanoke County Public Schools

Ms. Beth Williams is a musician and educator with over two decades of teaching experience, both in the United States and abroad. She is in her 10th year as a music teacher with Roanoke City Public Schools, where she currently serves as Band Director at John P. Fishwick Middle School and Assistant Director of the Patrick Henry High School Marching Patriots. Ms. Williams's educational background includes a BS in Music Education and a BA in Music Performance from Lebanon Valley College in Annville, PA. She received her Masters of Arts in Education from the University of Phoenix.

Ms. Williams runs a successful private lesson studio for trombone, euphonium, and tuba. She performs locally with the Winds of the Blue Ridge and the Roanoke Valley Community Band. In her free time, she enjoys cooking, kayaking, and traveling. She is the proud wife of an Air Force Veteran and mother to two amazing young men, both of whom are active members of the William Byrd Band.

Dr. Larry Seipp is the Director of Athletic Bands and Assistant Professor of Music at Liberty University. His primary responsibilities include leading the 250-member Spirit of the Mountain Marching Band. Most recently, the marching band traveled to Boca Raton, Florida for the Boca Raton Bowl. In addition to leading the athletic bands, Dr. Seipp conducts the University Band and teaches various music education courses. He has taught adjunct trumpet for Liberty University and is a Subject Matter Expert (SME) for Music Education for the Liberty University School of Music Online. Dr. Seipp is an alumnus of Liberty University ('96 and '21) and James Madison University ('98). Prior to serving at Liberty, Dr. Seipp has twenty-five years of public and private school band directing experience. Bands under his direction have been awarded consistent Superior ratings. In addition, his marching bands have won more than 20 Grand Champion awards, including the Class Champion for the 2019 Bands of America Virginia Regional Championship. His bands have performed throughout the country, including Walt Disney World, Universal Studios, The National World War II Memorial, the Bedford D-Day Memorial, the Chick-fil-a Peach Bowl, Bands of America Regionals in Virginia and Florida, the Virginia Marching Band Cooperative Championships, the USSBA Mid-Atlantic and National Championships, and were featured at halftime for the University of Virginia.

Dr. Seipp holds affiliations with the Virginia Music Educators Association, Virginia Band and Orchestra Directors Association, National Association for Music Education, International Trumpet Guild, and the Collegiate Band Directors National Association.

Dr. Seipp continues his work in Music Education as an active clinician for both marching and concert ensembles.

Dr. Seipp is married to Lori and they celebrated their 20-year anniversary this year. Lori is an elementary educator and serves as an elementary literacy coach for Lynchburg City Schools. Their two sons, Andrew and Owen, are both high school students involved in band and tennis at Liberty Christian Academy.
