Women's History Month & Supporting Young Girls

In 1987, Congress passed Public Law 100-9, which designated March as National Women's History Month. Ronald Reagan stated, "Now, Therefore, I, Ronald Reagan, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim March 1987 as Women's History Month. I call upon all Americans to mark this month with appropriate observances to honor the achievements of American women." We recognize the bravery and efforts of women from past generations who have afforded women the opportunities and freedoms they have today.

Raising young women can be a immense task. Adolescent girls, may appear more mature, but their emotional development does not mature with their physical growth and a constantly evolving world. Young girls still need support and guidance from those around them.
