

Week of April 29th

DPS Principal Newsletter

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

4PK Drive-In

The 4PK students recently finished up a transportation themed unit. It included making their own car with a name license plate. Today after they did a car parade around school, they "drove" into the cafeteria for a drive-in movie experience that even included a box of popcorn (thanks to Mrs. Zalewski and the Sports Booster).

Transportation Department Appreciation Day!

On Tuesday, DPS thanked the transportation department for driving and monitoring our students, fixing our buses, and keeping everyone safe during the trips back and forth between home and school! There were signs in the loop, that got honks and cheers, as well as personalized cards delivered at dismissal.

!4PK Grade Highlight

Mrs. Zakes PreK family is learning all about chicks, complete with eggs in the classroom. They are counting down the days until they hatch each day. Candling the eggs to see how they are developing inside is a classroom favorite thing to do for Science. It is so cool to see the embryo move about inside the egg. They can't wait to see them hatch soon.

The weather is finally showing signs of Spring. Along with that theme, they have a flower shop in the classroom, a sensory bin for planting, and outdoor recess for picking dandelions. Mrs. Zakes class is living the best life in PreK as they learn and grow together!

Family Game Night Sponsored by the Family Resource Center

On Thursday evening, Dansville DPS and EBH families had an opportunity to play a huge variety of games throughout EBH as well as enjoy some pizza and snacks.

We are so lucky to have the Family Resource Center in our community! Take a peek at their calendar in the Community News section of the newsletter to see all the offerings you might want to take advantage of.

Before the Event What and When to Eat

What and when you eat before competition can influence how you perform. It is also a highly individualized decision based on previous experience, physical comfort and emotional or mental considerations. In general, you should maintain a high complex carbohydrate, low-fat diet throughout the training period. Then, chose a pre-competition meal that works well for you. Include complete carbohydrates and fluids, and limit fat. Eat 2 to 4 hours prior to the event and eat familiar, carbohydrate-rich foods to avoid intestinal distress. Drink ample amounts of water, milk or juice with the meal. Substitute frequent carbohydrate-rich snacks and fluids for full meals if it makes you more comfortable. (Avoid caloric drinks up to 45 minutes before the event but do drink plenty of water).
