Dear Senior Parent/Guardian:

We are just sixty-five days away from graduation! This is an exciting time for our seniors, for you as parents, and for all of the staff who have worked with your son or daughter during his or her school career. A variety of senior activities have been planned. A schedule of those activities is on the back of this letter. I hope that your child's participation in each of these activities will contribute to making the countdown to graduation a memorable one.

Please review the enclosed list of activities. Also, please remind your child to continue to make the positive decisions that have brought him or her to this special time of the year. If your child does not plan to participate in commencement exercises, he or she must submit a letter to Mr. Burgess from their parent/guardian, which acknowledges and supports this decision before June 1.

To ensure the final days of the school year are safe, successful and enjoyable for our seniors, their families and staff, I would need to be clear and reinforce our school's expectations for respectful and responsible behavior. Sometimes, some seniors feel the need to participate in a senior prank. What students do not always consider is the negative impact such pranks have on other people and their unintended consequences. What starts out as someone's idea of fun may turn into a serious Code of Conduct violation, police involvement and loss of student privileges. In the past, several students were subject to an arrest and denied the privilege of participating in our Commencement ceremony. As Principal, I would appreciate it if you would speak with your son or daughter about these risks and your expectations for finishing their school career at Churchville-Chili with responsible choices, positive memories and appropriate celebrations.

Graduation is the culminating event of the year and one of my favorite moments. Our seniors have worked hard to meet requirements and prepare for their future. We congratulate you for your quality parenting and the years of support and dedication, you have given to your child. We look forward to our last few weeks of preparation for graduation and appreciate your support as we work to keep our focus on learning and academic excellence.

Sincerely,

Scott Wilson
Executive Principal
