BROAD MARKETS

The U.S. economy continues to hold up much better than many expected it would. U.S. GDP growth finished at a 3.2% annualized pace in fourth quarter 2023 while the Atlanta Fed's GDPNow model currently projects a similar 2.8% growth for first quarter 2024. If that projection holds true, it will represent the seventh consecutive quarter of at least 2% growth. Inflation also continues to slow, albeit it gradually, toward the Fed's 2% target while jobs growth remains relatively strong.

While a recession is still not completely off the table, it appears the Fed has managed to engineer a soft landing for the economy despite the significant increase in interest rates over the past few years. The U.S. stock market responded favorably in the first quarter, climbing 10.56% including reinvestment of dividends during the period. The S&P 500 index hit a record high on Jan. 24 and has subsequently reached record highs multiple times since then.

DOMESTIC EQUITY

The jobs market is still strong. Despite a recent boom in immigration, the unemployment rate has been at or below 4% since December 2022, which is the longest stretch since the late 1960s. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Immigration Services approved more than 2 million applicants for employment authorization during 2023, a record number of approvals that represents a 70% increase from 2022.

Within the U.S. stock market, concentration of performance has been a bit of a concern. The Magnificent 7 (Nvidia, Meta, Amazon, Microsoft, Alphabet, Apple and Tesla) rose an average of 112% during 2023, driving much of the S&P's total performance. In contrast, market gains during the first three months of 2024 have been broader, which may be a bullish sign. All the S&P 500 individual sectors are positive, with the exception of real estate.

INTERNATIONAL EQUITY

The war in Ukraine, weaker consumer consumption and pessimistic business expectations continue to be a drag on the European economy. Composite PMI surveys, which are a measure of economic health for the manufacturing and services sectors, remain weak. The March reading for the Euro Area registered 49.9. Germany and France came in at 47.4 and 47.7 respectively. Readings below 50 represent a suggestion of future economic contraction.

Unlike the inflationary pressures in other parts of the world, China has been struggling with deflation. This is in large part due to significant declines in property prices, which have caused a decline in overall household wealth. In February, however, inflation turned positive for the first time in six months. But analysts warn that those price gains could be mostly attributable to the Lunar New Year holiday, which fell in February this year as opposed to January during 2023.

FIXED INCOME

The current Fed rate range still sits at 5.25% – 5.5%. The Fed currently expects that range to decrease to 4.5% – 4.75% by the end of 2024 for a total of three cuts during the year. At this point, they are also anticipating three additional cuts during 2025. However, the most recent Fed minutes show that the committee may do less than that depending on economic data, so it would not be a surprise to see them go a little slower than official projection. Note that the Fed’s current prediction for the long-term range is 2.5% – 2.75%, so rate cuts are likely inevitable at some point; it is just a matter of how quickly they arrive.

After peaking at 9.1% year over year in June 2022, inflation has been on a choppy but downward trend since then. The most recent trailing 12-month reading as of February was 3.2%. Note, however, that this number seems to have plateaued in the last few months.

RECOMMENDATIONS and MONITORING DECISIONS

▶ T. Rowe Price New Horizons I

Ticker: PRJIX

Fund Category: MG

Custom Decision (ongoing)

The T. Rowe Price New Horizons fund was added to the Watch List at the end of Q1 2024 due to performance. This strategy migrated from small cap to mid cap in 2018. In 2021, security selection in health care drove a vast majority of underperformance. For 2022, 2023 and year-to-date 2024, security selection within the technology sector drove a vast majority of the fund's underperformance. We will continue to monitor the fund.

▶ American Funds Europacific Growth R6

Ticker: RERGX

Fund Category: FG

Custom Decision (ongoing)

The American Funds Europacific Growth Fund was added to the Watch List at the end of Q4 2023 due to performance. In 2021, security selection in health care and technology weighed significantly on performance and an underweight allocation to and security selection in industrials also contributed to relative underperformance; an overweight allocation to Latin America, specifically Brazil, and security selection in Japan further dragged performance over 450 basis points below the category average. For 2022, while the fund posted double-digit negative performance, it managed to outperform the category average by more than 250 basis points and ranked near the top third of the category. However, in 2023, the fund slightly underperformed due to an overweight allocation to emerging markets stocks in Asia and security selection in financial services and energy, leading to one-year performance that again ranked behind the category average. Year-to-date, the fund has enjoyed positive security selection across almost all sectors and ranks in the top half of the category. The three- and five-year results are just below median now. We will continue to monitor the fund.

DISCLOSURES

FOR ONE-ON-ONE USE ONLY

Any recommendations in this report are made with respect only to funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers, Inc., acts as an ERISA section 3(21) or 3(38) investment advisory fiduciary.

Information for funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers is not acting as an investment advisory fiduciary is included in this Quarterly Monitoring Report as a courtesy, and its inclusion does not constitute investment advice by StanCorp Investment Advisers or its affiliates. StanCorp Investment Advisers is not responsible for making any recommendations with respect to the inclusion or removal of any investment option that it subadvises or is issued by an affiliate.

Actual results may differ from the performance shown herein. Average annual total return figures include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gain distributions. Returns for periods less than one year are not annualized. For funds less than one year old, the Since Inception return figure is not annualized and represents an aggregate total return. Returns presented are net of underlying fund expenses and gross of any recordkeeping or administrative fees charged by Standard Retirement Services which generally include any fees, as applicable, for investment advisory services provided by StanCorp Investment Advisers. These fees would reduce returns. For example, if the gross annualized return for a mutual fund were 6.5 percent, 8.0 percent, and 7.5 percent, for the three-, five- and 10-year periods respectively, and the fees charged to the plan by The Standard were 1.0 percent, the net of fee return for the same periods would be 5.5 percent, 7.0 percent and 6.5 percent, respectively. Additional information about any fees charged by or payable to StanCorp Investment Advisers may be found in the Form ADV, Part 2A. For each investment, this overview also provides a benchmark which enables you to compare the performance of the investment with a broad based securities market index created by Morningstar. Broad based securities market indices may not always correlate well to an individual option. Investments cannot be made directly into an index.

Overall ratings are provided for the specific share class shown. Different share classes may have different ratings. Morningstar rankings represent a fund's total return rank relative to all funds that have the same category. The percentile ranking is based on the fund's total return percentile rank relative to all funds that have the same category for the same time period. The highest (most favorable) percentile rank is 1% and the lowest (least favorable) percentile rank is 100%. Morningstar rankings do not include the effect of sales charges.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The value of an investment will vary so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original value. Fees and expenses will decrease investment returns so investors should take them into consideration prior to investing. Gross expense ratios represent the Total Annual Operating Expenses for the fund and do not reflect any fee waivers or reimbursements that may be in effect at the time the expenses are calculated. The net expense ratio reflects the expenses being charged by the fund at the time the expenses are calculated after taking into account any applicable waivers.

Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against loss in declining financial markets.

Hypens appear in data columns to indicate that data is not available.

CUSIP, Net Expense Ratio and Turnover Ratio for Group Annuity investments pertain to the associated underlying mutual funds.

Some investments require a delayed import and will be available approximately 45 days after month end. Therefore, some of the data may be empty or outdated until it is available.

Peer groups are comprised of all of the funds that match an investment's category as classified by Morningstar. Morningstar Category identifies funds based on their actual investment styles as measured by their underlying portfolio holdings over a three-year period.

Based on Morningstar data, the system calculates data points on: Product History; peer group rankings for Calendar Year, Standard Deviation, Alpha, Treynor Ratio, Sharpe Ratio, and Expense Ratio; and all peer group rankings for money market funds.

Morningstar reports Manager Tenure at the fund portfolio level, while Product History is listed for the fund share class. As a result, more recent share classes may have much longer manager tenures than the reported Product History.

Net Assets reported in this report may be current as of the end of the month prior to the end of the quarter or the end of the last month of the quarter, depending on when net asset data was made available to Morningstar.

Alpha, Beta and R-squared statistics are calculated using the best-fit index as determined by Morningstar.

Morningstar groups mutual funds and exchange traded funds into different fund universes, although the same category types are used in both universes. Rankings are done within the separate universes, so that mutual funds are ranked with other mutual funds within the same category, and exchange traded funds are ranked with other exchange traded funds within the same category. As a result, a mutual fund and an exchange traded fund that share the same category are ranked relative to different peer groups.

Funds that focus on certain sectors may involve a greater degree of risk than broadly diversified funds. In addition to the risks associated with equity investing, investments in small and mid-cap companies and narrowly focused investments typically exhibit higher volatility and are less readily marketable than investments in larger companies or more diversified strategies. Similarly, international investing involves certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic instability, and political developments. These risks may be accentuated in emerging markets. Real estate investment funds are subject to special risks, such as tax law changes, and general economic conditions that may affect the value of the underlying real estate assets. Funds that invest in bonds are subject to certain risks including interest-rate risk, credit risk and inflation risk. Derivatives are subject to a number of risks, such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risk. A fund investing in a derivative instrument could lose more than the principal amount invested. The principal value and investment returns of mutual funds, money market funds and stocks are neither guaranteed nor insured by the U.S. Government. Indices are unmanaged, do not incur fees and cannot be invested in directly by an individual.

Employers and plan participants should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the investment options offered under the retirement plan before investing. The prospectuses for the individual mutual funds in the group annuity contain this and other important information. Prospectuses may be obtained by calling 877.805.1127. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing. Investments are subject to market risk and fluctuate in value.

Standard Stable Asset Fund is a group annuity product issued by Standard Insurance Company. Amounts contributed and the fulfillment of any guarantees specified in the group annuity contract are insurance claims supported by the full faith and credit of Standard Insurance Company. Standard Stable Asset Fund is neither a mutual fund nor a bank product and is not insured by the FDIC or any other federal governmental agency. Standard Insurance Company provides and periodically resets a guaranteed crediting rate for Standard Stable Asset Fund. However, plan sponsors may instruct Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate in order for Standard Retirement Services to reduce certain administrative fees for plan-related services. Your plan's crediting rate may be lower than the guaranteed crediting rate once the reduction has been applied. Past interest rates are not indicative of future rates. Standard Stable Asset Fund may not be available in all states.

Information on Standard Stable Asset Fund may be obtained by contacting your Standard Insurance Company representative.

If the plan sponsor selects The Standard Stable Asset fund as the cash equivalent investment option for the plan and instructs Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate as described above, the Annualized Returns for the fund as shown in this report is net of that reduction.

Please refer to StanCorp Investment Advisers' Form ADV disclosure brochure for additional details. StanCorp Investment Advisers creates general asset allocation models for use when providing investment advisory services. The allocation percentages to the asset classes in each model are set and updated, as necessary, based on certain assumptions made about market conditions, the rate of return for each asset class, average internal fees and expenses of an investment option, etc. No specific investment option was considered when setting the allocation percentage of each asset class. Therefore, the allocation percentage for the cash/cash equivalent sleeve of each asset allocation model does not take into account any specific investment option selected or whether the plan sponsor has instructed the issuer to reduce any crediting rate. Consequently, investment results may vary among investors using the same asset allocation model and the same investment options.
