

Koss UR10i Headphone with In-Line Microphone

The UR10i is a portable stereophone that delivers deep bass. With a frequency response of 60-20,000 Hz, it features an adjustable headband that provides a secure fit for active music listening. The closed, leatherette ear cushions provide maximum isolation and comfort. The UR10i offers the listener great value at an opening price point. Compatible with most cell phones and tablets, the in-line microphone and push-to-talk button allows for easy transition between your music and your calls. Great for iPad and tablet use in educational settings that use Read 180, Dragonfly Speaking, and other programs. Straight, single entry 4ft. cord with 3.5mm (1/8") plug. North Cape School will return any broken headphones to the factory for repair under their warranty program.
