

Where I'm From

I'm from fake flowers, decor, and devices.

I'm from a cozy small home in a peaceful neighborhood.

It smells of new candles, and sounds like a keyboard clicking every second.

I am from a clear view of the sunset, and seasonal decorations.

I'm from opening 1 present on Christmas Eve, and a "fancy" holiday meal.

From my mom, dad, brother, cousins and everyone close to me.

I'm from common phrases like "the truth always prevails" and such.

I'm from believing in a healthy and prosperous life.

I'm from a Milbrae Hospital at 5:03 A.M.~

I'm from exotic pastas, exquisite Chinese food, and traditional Mexican food.

I'm from Guatemalan and Vietnamese origin.

From bed-time stories from the ages 1-4, and bathtub toys.

From feeling the best during holidays, for I get to decorate and spend special time with my family... And I am
