Brianna Walker and Annalise Borrelli Named 2023 Outstanding Seniors

Congratulations to Mendon High School graduate Brianna Walker and Sutherland High School graduate Annalise Borrelli for being selected as Pittsford Central School District's 2023 Outstanding Seniors!

The award is sponsored by the Monroe County Council of School Superintendents and presented annually to an exceptional senior from each of the county's high schools based on character, service and scholarship.

Brianna Walker was nominated for this award in recognition of her excellence in the classroom and her outstanding ability to be an effective leader and role model. Throughout her time at Mendon High School, Brianna worked tirelessly to raise awareness and advocate for student voices. As President of Mendon's Roc2Change group, she brought students together for difficult conversations surrounding race, and advocated with administrators on issues like increased transparency and learning opportunities for students and staff alike. Brianna also successfully led the campaign for Black Excellence month at MHS, bringing teachers, students and administrators together for this common goal.

"Brianna has an innate ability to both listen and lead," said Superintendent Pero. "She consistently advocates for others and has the ability to bring people together to create a vision, implement an action plan and tackle tough issues," he said.

Annalise Borrelli's nomination for the award was based on a number of factors, including her accomplishments as a student, artist and leader among her peers. Demonstrating both technical skills and imaginative thinking, her artwork has been recognized with numerous awards during her time at Sutherland High School. As a member of the Superintendent Advisory Committee, Vice President of the Executive Student Council and Art Club, and as a Link Leader, she has dedicated a lot of time to others and promotes inclusion and diversity in all she does, ensuring that everyone has a voice. Annalise has completed over 360 hours of volunteer work in the community and in her chosen extracurricular activities.

"One of Anna's greatest strengths is her caring nature and remarkable ability to make quick connections with those around her," said Superintendent Pero. "She demonstrates a strong sense of compassion, integrity and genuine curiosity in everything she does and works to make the world a better place," he said.

Update on Capital Improvement Projects

Pittsford Schools are moving forward with implementing safety initiatives included in the recently approved capital improvement project that details additional safety and security measures for students and staff. The initial focus will be to harden the main entrances and create a secure, single point-of-entry at each school. This will be accomplished through various means, including architectural, technological, and procedural methods.

Architectural enhancements will involve constructing or enhancing double-door vestibules at each school location. The vestibules will regulate traffic flow by creating a chamber with a transaction window where visitors will check-in before being granted access to the school building. Intruder locks for large assembly areas like auditoriums and gymnasiums will be enhanced later this year. This phase of the capital project is focused on containing and delaying unauthorized entry into the building and large gathering spaces.

Technical improvements will include upgrading security systems District-wide, including security cameras and card readers. Procedural improvements will involve a comprehensive review of current policies and procedures, especially as it relates to single point-of-entry.

Main entrance door construction plans have been submitted to the New York State Education Department for approval. Based on their estimated five-month approval process, followed by soliciting bids for competitive pricing on labor and materials, the construction is expected to commence next summer. The anticipated completion of this phase will be by the start of the 2024-2025 school year.

Broadway Music Director/Alumna Lena Gabrielle Returns to Speak with Students

Lena Gabrielle, Mendon High School alumna and Music Director for the Tony Award®-winning musical SIX ("Boleyn" Tour) came back to her alma mater on May 17 to speak with students in MHS's music/theater program about her career in music and what it has been like to be part of the global musical sensation about the SIX wives of Henry VIII.

She was joined by Taylor Pearlstein (Alternate for the characters of Anne Boleyn, Katherine Howard, and Catherine Parr) and Sara Gammage (Production Stage Manager), all of whom were in town for the May 16-21 performances of SIX at the Rochester Auditorium Theatre. Each spoke about their individual roles, what it is like to be on tour in a Broadway production, and how they came to this point in their careers.

In talking with students about how to be successful in the music/theater industry, they emphasized the need to approach new experiences with a sense of openness, energy and willingness to work hard. Drawing from her own experiences, Lena shared that life may not always go as planned but will ultimately contribute to personal growth and success. Remaining true to themselves and not comparing their unique abilities with those of others has been a mantra that has supported their mental health along the way.

While Lena's love of music began at the age of three when she first

Catch Up on the Power Hour Topics You Might Have Missed This Year

In its commitment to provide opportunities for parents/guardians and staff members to learn together how best to support our students, Pittsford Schools hosted Power Hours quarterly during the 2022-2023 school year.

Navigating Social Situations: April 25, 2023

A panel of building and District administrators and mental health experts discussed what parents can anticipate at each stage of development and how parents can support their children through conflict, relational aggression, and bullying.

Impacts of Social Media: February 16, 2023

Basketball coach and public speaker Scott Fitch warned about the harmful consequences of inappropriate social media usage among teenagers. Scott's presentation reminds us that online comments can have real life results as he shared a story about a student athlete he coached no longer being recruited for a college due to his social media activity. This consequence is a practice not uncommon today as colleges rescind admission offers, job opportunities are lost or people are let go from employment all due to things they've said or done on social media.

Anxiety and Worry: December 5, 2022

This Power Hour focused on how anxiety is a normal reaction to stressful situations that can look different for everyone. A panel discussed and answered questions about understanding how anxiety and worry can look at different developmental ages, strategies to support children with anxiety or worry, and how to identify when additional support may be needed.

School Safety & Mental Health: October 24, 2022

Creating a safe and affirming school environment is a priority at Pittsford Schools. A panel of staff members discussed and answered questions about the interrelationships between mental health and school safety.

Broadway Music Director/Alumna Lena Gabrielle Returns to Speak with Students started playing violin and later when she learned piano and began composing music and writing songs, she didn't realize being a musical director was even a job until she was 25 years old. She recalled auditioning for a part in a musical and being asked to step into the role of music director after the production's music director had suddenly quit. It was by complete happenstance that she entered the career she now loves and has experienced so much success in.

Lena's interest in music has been a lifelong endeavor. She began composing classical music in elementary school, and as a teen discovered her love of writing pop songs. She was involved in high school orchestra, chorus and theater, and in 2007, started a wizard rock band themed around Harry Potter, releasing three CDs and performing in two national tours.

Lena holds a Bachelor of Music degree in Music Theory with a Piano Performance minor from Ithaca College. After graduating and living briefly in Portland, OR, and New York City, Lena relocated to Pittsburgh. During her two years there, Lena music directed over 20 shows, taught numerous voice and theatre workshop classes, and was the composer for three original productions. "Tink," for which Lena wrote the music and lyrics, was presented at the New York Musical Festival in 2016 and received a citation for excellence in family theatre.

Since returning to New York City in 2015, Lena has broadened her work as a music director, performer, and educator, and she has shifted her focus to collaboration and arrangement for new theatre. In the past two years, she has collaborated with over 10 writing teams to help bring their shows to life through new arrangements and orchestrations. Favorite NYC and regional credits include: "Emojiland" (The Duke - New York Times Critics Pick) the world premiere of "The Most Miserable Christmas Tree," "Endangered: The Eco Musical" (Davenport Theatre), "You, Me, I, We" (Royal Family Productions), "The Full Monty" (Timber Lake Playhouse), and "Aida" (John W. Engeman Theatre at Northport).

While in high school, Foley studied double bass at Eastman School of Music, was a member of the Hochstein Youth Symphony Orchestra and played Varsity football for MHS.

The scholarship program is made possible through the financial support of the annual Rochester International Jazz Festival. Its mission is to provide jazz education opportunities for area high school students who have been involved with the Eastman Community Music School and the Eastman Youth Jazz Orchestra, with the goal of investing in the next generation of musicians.

Students in Pittsford and Israel "Imagine Sharing all the World" in Education Bridge Program

Thanks to the Jewish Federation's Partnership2gether program, students from Thornell Road Elementary School had the opportunity to learn from and collaborate with students from Asif School in Modi'in, Israel. In addition to six classroom pairings, Thornell Road Elementary School students collaborated on art and music projects with the students in Modi'in.

For the cross-cultural art exchange project, students from both schools created line drawings of local buildings that they shared electronically, printed out and colored to learn about the communities and built environment of their partner cities.

Similarly, music teachers at Thornell Road Elementary School in Pittsford and Asif School in Modi'in, Israel, worked with their students on a collaborative project. Students at both schools were taught a section of the song "Imagine" by John Lennon, which was then recorded separately and later edited together by Sam Bell from Mendon High School to create a video demonstrating that while the students may live in different parts of the world with different life experiences, the power of music is universal.
