Who are YOU? Are YOU a senior, graduating and moving on? Maybe YOU are a freshman proud to finally be at the high school.

Perhaps YOU are working on YOUI second year as a sophomore, looking at two more long years. Could it be that YOU have topped the half-way mark and have reached the lofty level of junior? Are YOU a teacher, reminiscing over the good days and the tough days spent with YOUr classes?

Whoever YOU are, YOU are holding the right book. In this book YOU will find YOUP school...YOUT classmates, teachers, friends, and staff. You will find Your accomplishments and YOUI aspirations. YOU will find your OHS because this is Your Book

Roaming the Halls

Whether you were a new student at Oxford High, or a veteran, you were part of the busy 2006-2007 year. Most of us were dreading coming back to school, mainly because our teachers expect us to represent our 4-A school well by studying hard and making good grades. Other students were excited, because they were either graduating as a senior at OHS or entering as a freshman from middle school.

School started back August 8, 2006, and with so much to do in so little time some students suprisingly found themselves relieved to be back in class. Summer break is fun but with the heat, the days seem long and, you have to admit, some days could even be boring.

We started the year off right by completing The Kayla Mize Aditorium renovation. In addition to serving as the stage for our wonderful musical and theatrical productions, the auditorium served as the venue for the OHS Beauty Review, band concerts, and the many entertaining lectures from Mr. Hovious. 2006-2007...what a great year spent roaming the halls at OHS!

"Every action has a consequence, so choose your friends wisely."

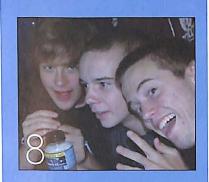

"Do you bite your thumb at me, sir?"

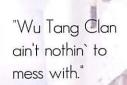

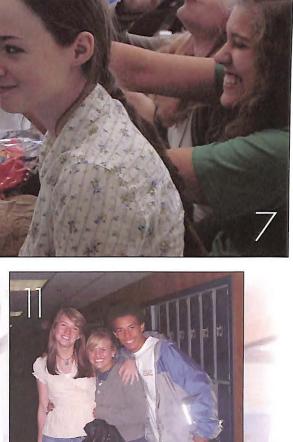

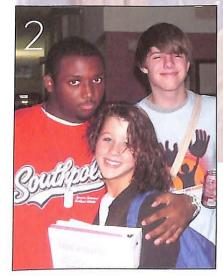

"Before you knock it, try i first, and see that it may be a blessing, and a curse. if we had to explain it to you, you wouldn't understand."

It's Your Life

I was really shocked and honored to win. There are so many great students at OHS and I've been lucky enough to make so many friends. They are the ones who've always supported and encouraged

I remember standing on the field beside Chad feeling so nervous, but then Charlie Davis broke the tension by dropping the paper. Every moment after that could not have been more fun.

Star Student - Star Teacher

Adrienne Gispen

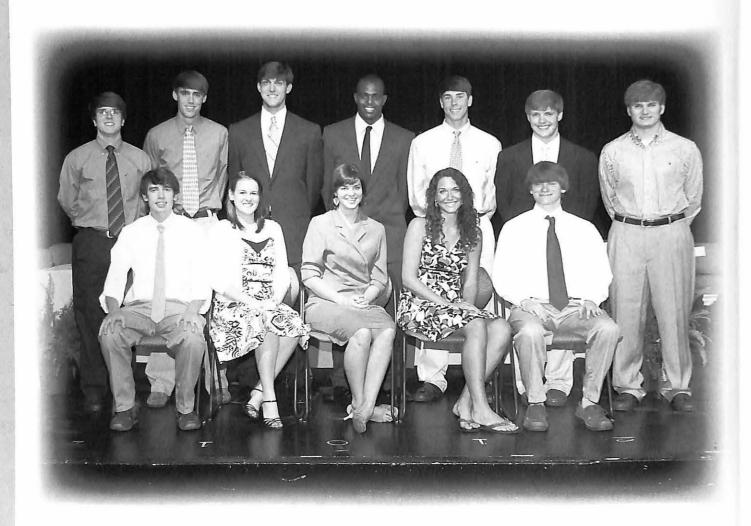

Mrs. Stone has influenced me mainly because her enthusiasm for knowledge is so contagious. Her love of learning new things is inspiring, and her style of teaching makes me curious and interested in the subject.

Mary Stone

The first thing I noticed about Adrienne is how creative she was. As I came to know her, I realized that she has not only creativity but she is also a woman of integrity. And of course...she's intelligent.

he Star Student is the senior with the highest ACT score. That student then picks a Star Teacher one who has influenced their life. This year, Adrienne named history teacher Mary Stone as her Star Teacher.Ms. Stone taught Adrienne AP European History and Honors World History.

Freshman SMART Teams

What a great way to make the transition to high school! SMART met every Tuesday and Thursday. The freshmen used this time to develop study skills and figure out what life at OHS was really all about. Here's what Mrs. Hussey's group had to say:

Frederica Russell – What I enjoyed about SMART Team was everything! Mrs. Hussey is a great SMART team teacher and I really enjoyed this year. There's nothing that I didn't like. I am very glad that we will have her as a SMART team teacher for our whole high school years.

Asheton Fearing — I really wish SMART team were longer. We always have fun, get to socialize, and get to celebrate birthdays and holidays.

Vidisha Jaiswal – We have tons of fun and she makes every minute awesome for us.

Brittany Naron — We went to the Career Center and it was pretty cool.

Karis Buchanan - I mean, come on, we celebrate birthdays and get food.

Reid Heckel We celebrated birthdays, holidays, and other special occasions

We always have a good time and everyone enjoys coming to SMART team. We celebrated birthdays, went to the Career Center, and talked about study skills.

Meg Sinervo

Cassidy Webb – I always loved the fact that SMART team was laid back and relaxed.

Becky Michels – I liked when Mrs. Hussey gave us peppermints every day, gave us candy for our birthdays, gave us cookies on holidays, and threw us parties for our good grades.

Manuel Cubillo - I always liked the cookies and Mrs. Hussey is da bizomb!

Jenai Terrell – I liked celebrating birthdays, talking about our weekend, and having some free time. Mrs. Hussey also helped me with my school work

Ashley Hoffner – SMART team is a perfect time to relax. It is my time to just not stress about anything. Everyone is so nice and they always want to cheer you up if you're upset for whatever reason.

Aja Jones – I liked getting the candy on the birthdays

Tanaria Gipson - I liked when we went to the Career Center and we looked up our career choices, and I need that because that showed me what I might want to do when I grow up and go to college.

Thien Che - SMART team is a nice time to wind down, catch up on homework hang out with friends or in our SMART team's case - snarf down as many cookies as you can at our parties LeAnna Upshaw I enjoyed celebrating the birthdays and seeing Mrs. Hussey's smile.

McKenna Raney has been recycling since she was 15 months old, so when she got a chance to work with the sophomore SMART recycling program, she felt right at home. McKenna walks the halls every Tuesday and Thursday during SMART, dragging her black garbage bag full of recyclable paper, bottles, and cans to take to the recycle bins behind the school. She's even been known to jump into the bin on occasion to straighten things out.

"There was mixed paper with the bottles, and that's just not right!" McKenna explained.

McKenna does not recycle only at school. Her home is equipped with special bins and drawers designed especially for sorting any item that could be recycled. She and her family began recycling when they lived in Jackson, Miss., and were featured in the Clarion Ledger March 12, 1992 for their work.

"That's me in the picture," McKenna said pointing to the worn and yellowed copy of the Clarion Ledger. "We keep this on the refrigerator at our house kind of as a reminder (to recycle)."

McKenna is excited about this year's progress in the school's recycling program. Dr. Barbara Lowe and Mrs. Kathy Barnes wrote a grant that will provide funds for better classroom bins as well collection bins on wheels to replace the black garbage bags students used this year.

Sophomore Catherine Threlkeld who also works with the recycling program, bragged on McKenna's excitement for recycling.

"She has helped with the establishment of a great program that will give kids an opportunity to make the world a better place," Catherine said.

Junior Shadow Day

Junior Ashley Cancer came one step closer to choosing a career after Shadow Day, a project sponsored by the 11th grade SMART groups.

Ashley shadowed physical therapist Lindsey Oakley at Baptist Healthplex, working with clients and learning about the equipment and procedures involved in physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy. Ashley's favorite area of work at Baptist Healthplex is physical therapy.

During her day-long shadow experience, Ashley had a chance to try the machines, giving her the opportunity to really experience what the clients go through on the equipment. One of Ashley's favorite pieces of equipment was a BTE upper body ergometer, a device that looks similar to bicycle pedals, that is used to improve upper extremity strength and endurance.

One reason Ashley chose to shadow at Baptist Healthplex is that she feels that physical therapy is a good first option for people who have pain or who need to re-learn skills they have lost due to an accident or health issue.

Ashley said the paperwork and procedures in SMART were worth the experience she got from Shadow Day.

"The process of filling out applications and talking to Lindsey Oakley ahead of time and working with the clients cemented my desire to pursue the profession of physical therapy," Ashley said.

Project

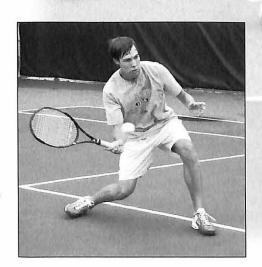

It wasn't until he was 13 that Tucker Gore realized his true talent. Growing up he was like all other boys and played every sport that was offered; that is, until he decided to focus on tennis.

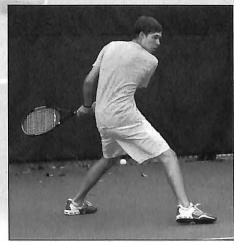

After five years of practice and tournaments, Tucker is currently ranked the #3 player in Mississippi for his age group. As such an accomplished tennis player, it was only natural that Tucker was recruited by several universities and offered scholarships to continue his career. His offers include the home state university of Millsaps, as well as the out of state Oglethorpe University, Birmingham Southern, and Coker College. With a promising future in tennis, it was no surprise when Tucker chose to try his hand as a tennis coach for his Senior Capstone project.

The Senior Capstone Project is a requirement that allows each senior the opportunity to demonstrate twelve years of educational experience. Reading, writing, speaking, thinking, planning, implementing, self-discipline, problem solving, and organizational skills are showcased in this four-part process. This process cannot rely solely upon what the senior already knows, but must demonstrate an aspect of new learning and growth.

An hour or two at a time, Tucker completed fifteen total hours as a tennis coach to his Capstone mentor and computer teacher. His coaching tactics included drills to help his student's overall game. Tucker incorporated all aspects of the game into those grueling fifteen hours, but the end result proved the mission worthwhile.

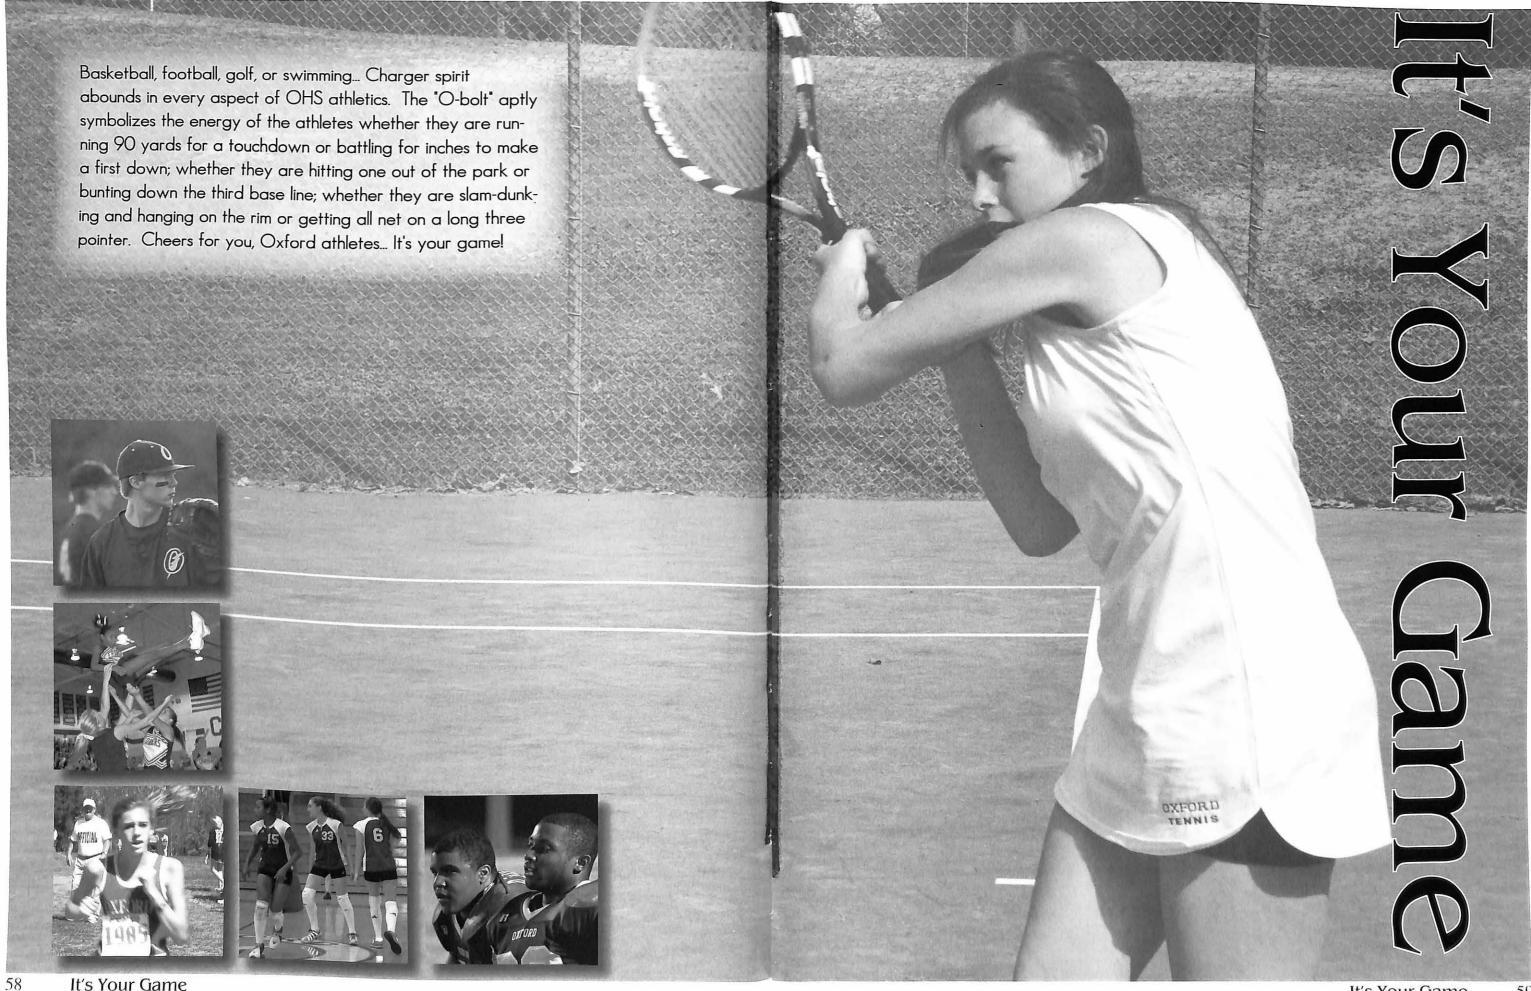

"I think that this was a good first step in pursuing a career as a coach," Tucker said. "I mean, I had to teach my teacher... what can be harder than that? I think the project was successful though. She is a lot more consistent, and her form has improved."

Children of all ages experience education designed to meet their specific and varied needs through unique programming. Through life skills training including pre-vocational and transitional classes, students work in a nurturing environment toward becoming independent young adults. Focus and emphasis at Scott Center is on "abilities." Related services such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech-language services enhance the learning experience and support the students' varied needs.

Douglas,

Our little drummer boy has grown up! We will cherish your high school years and the memories of half-time shows, marching contests. parades, and playing in the stands. We are very proud of your accomplishments. We can't wait to see how the Lord will use your musical talent in college and in your future. You are a gift from God. We thank Him everyday for your spirit, your strength and your courage.

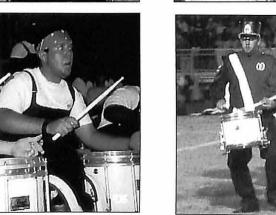

Always remember..."Trust in the LORD with all your heart and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will make your paths straight."

You were so much a "daddy's girl" when you were a baby. If daddy was out of town, your uncle Mark or the "man next door" would have to come and get you to sleep and put you in your crib.

You have grown into a beautiful, strong-willed young lady. Our prayer is that you will always seek God and follow His direction. He will lead you up and down life's road. He is your closest and dearest friend. He will always be there for you. He will never leave you. With God's guidance, "All things are possible." You can do or be anything you hope for when you trust in Him.

We love you and wish for your peace and contentment,
