LAST DAY. The senior class celebrates their final day with the annual parade down Bramlett Blvd. and around the school. Students were allowed to bypass dress code for this exciting day. ABOVE IN THE "B": Enjoying the senior parade, senior Jane Wu skips around the school along with her classmates. Wu was selected as a STAR student for OHS.

2012 For Real

When the year began, we had new rules, new faces, new classes. We asked a lot of questions, and we got a few answers. Conversations went something like this:

You can't wear jeans with holes in them. "For real?"

You have to walk with your teacher to the "café." "For real?"

It's a café. Not a cafeteria. "For real."

You may only stop for two minutes and 15 seconds in the Commons. "For real?"

As the year moved on, the conversations changed.

There will be no activity period today. "For real?"

If the pledge does not come on within five seconds after the tardy bell rings, we won't have a pledge today. "For real?"

We are having an earthquake drill today. "For real?"

You have to go to tutoring to pass the State Tests. "For real?"

You are invited to Saturday School. "Invited? For real?"

If you iron your graduation gown, it will melt. "For real?"

And there were some fun conversations, too.

The girls basketball team went undefeated. "For real!"

The power lifting team won north half. "For real!"

The baseball team beat Ridgeland! "For real!"

The tennis team won state...AGAIN! "For real!"

Girls track won state...AGAIN! "Wow! Another For Real!"

Coach Tyler reached 500 games. "For real!"

Oxford High School is a STAR school! "For real!"

Then, our year became more than real. We faced real challenges, real tragedies, real situations that changed us and made us grow up. And the conversations went something like this:

Jack Pinnow has cancer. "For real? No way!"

Mrs. West is retiring early. "For real?"

Mr. Dalton had a heart attack. "For real?"

Mr. Reidy's son got a broken neck. "For real?"

Jack died. And we knew it was real. And it was hard. And it hurt.

For real.

And just like that our year was "really" finished. We took our State Tests. We played our hardest on the field, the court, or wherever our sport took us. We won awards for band and orchestra and theatre. The class of 2012 walked across the stage and into the real world.

The year made us better, smarter, tougher.

CHICK-FIL-A: BIG HIT WITH ITS MANY OHS STUDENT EMPLOYEES

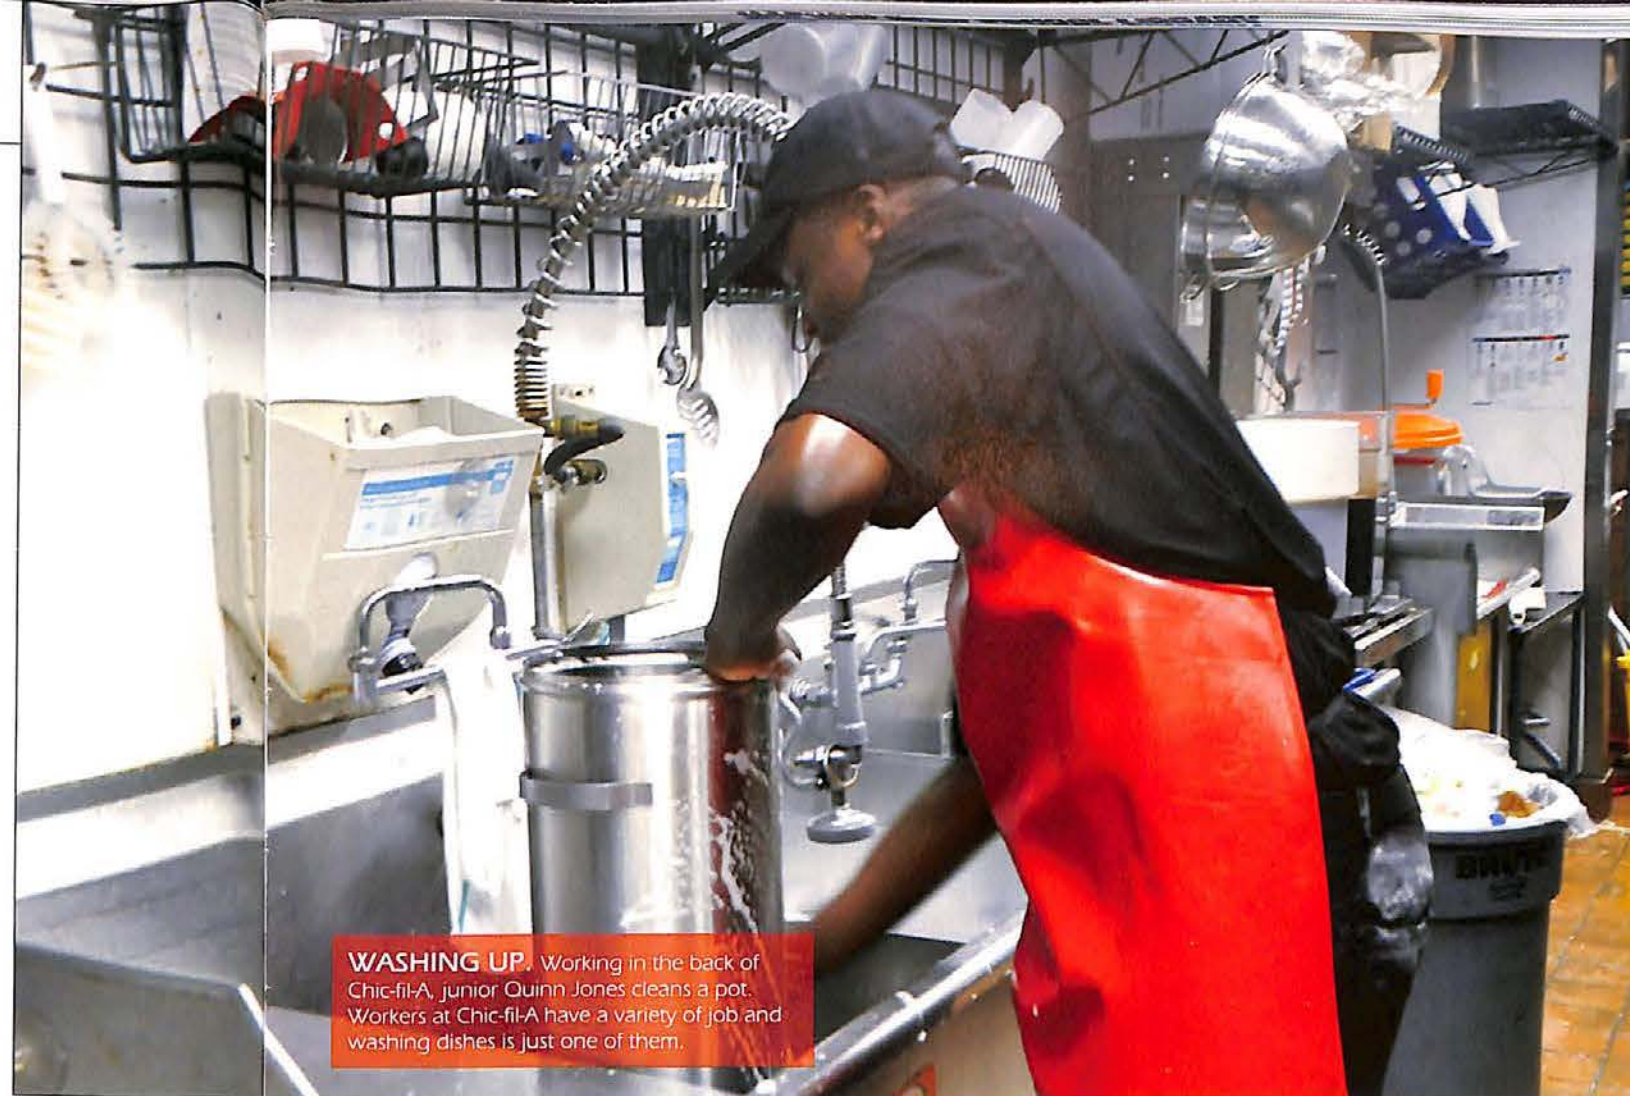

Students such as Quinn Jones, Justin Fondren, Cade Brewer, Kevin Hill, and Kaitlyn Jamison used to go to Chick-fil-A to spend money, now they go there to make money.

When Chick-fil-A opened in Oxford in the fall of 2009, it was a major hit with the students. Before that, Chick-fil-A had a location in the Student Union on the campus of the University of Mississippi. With their new location, which could be easily accessed by the public, high school students started going to Chick-fil-A to meet for prayer breakfasts or just for a quick and tasty afternoon snack.

Chick-fil-A seemed like a good choice for students to go to hang out, and was quickly a hot spot for students to work.

"I wanted to make money and learn responsibility," Jones said. "I've been working there for a year and a couple weeks now and I do a lot of jobs. I might bread the chicken or make the orders, it just depends on what they need. Sometimes I wash the dishes in order to help the people that are working the closing shift."

By: Luke Jenkins

WASHING UP. Working in the back of Chick-fil-A, junior Quinn Jones cleans a pot. Workers at Chick-fil-A have a variety of job and washing dishes is just one of them.

TOP: HERE'S YOUR ICE CREAM. Serving a customer, senior Morgan Riley hands over a milkshake. Riley works various spots behind the counter at Holli's Sweet Tooth.

BOTTOM: AND THESE ARE ON SALE. Helping junior Sara Mims, junior Caleb Stanley searches through the sweatpants. Stanley works both upstairs and downstairs at University Sporting Goods.

HI, HOW MAY I HELP YOU? Working at Mis Behavin' junior Leland Graeber helps a customer. She is one of many students who work on the Square.

CASH OR CREDIT? Weighing a customer's yogurt, senior Sara Beth Childers works the counter at YaYa's. The frozen treat store is a big hit on the Square with people of all ages.

MY PLEASURE. Working at Chick-fil-A junior Cade Brewer takes an order. Brewer works both in the back and out front.

"EAT MORE CHIKIN!"

To catch drivers' attention, freshmen cheerleaders Alli Hayward and Lizzie Kelly, sophomore Julie Laurenzo, and senior Alli Bridgers, stand in front of Chick-Fil-A holding signs to remind passers-by to support the Chargers. While they were gaining support, other students were inside ordering food to eat.

THURSDAY. Seniors Hayley Murphy and Lizzy Leary and junior Dora Chen sip on drinks and talk after eating. Some teachers gave credit to their students if they brought back their receipts from the restaurant to show that they ordered food there.

NO HANDS!

Sophomore Chadwick Lamar struggles to get an oreo in his mouth.

Participants in this event had to get an oreo from their forehead to their mouth using only their face.

TIME FOR PRAYER. Both OHS and LHS students come together to have a moment of prayer. These students showed that both schools could still come together even though there was a cross town rivalry.

PACKING ON THE POUNDS. Senior Mollie Beth Ott leads junior cheerleader Cheyenne Griffin, holding weights and backpacks, to the scale. Students weighed in, and the school with the most weight at the end of the night was awarded points.

Show Your Spirit At Chick-Fil-A

OXFORD VS. LAFAYETTE RIVALRY WEEK

If you did not come to this event, then you missed plenty of exciting fun and entertainment. Not only that, you missed out on contests and battles with our greatest rivals.

This was Chick-Fil-A's first year to sponsor this event, the Oxford vs. Lafayette Rivalry Week, and they were successful in attracting students and gaining business the whole week.

Points were awarded each night based on each school's spirit and competition. The school who earned the most points was rewarded with a check at the game Friday night.

Although both schools competed for the one with most spirit, OHS and LHS had an awesome time. On Friday during halftime of the game, Chick-Fil-A presented a check for $750 to Oxford High School. The big check found a home in the trophy case in the Commons, but the real money went into the student activity fund.

WE ARE READY. With empty stomachs ready, seniors Juan Guerra and Wade Lindley and junior Noel Walsh prepare for the chicken nugget-eating contest. Two other groups participated in this competition.

What happened this week:

August 29, Monday Night:
Nugget-Eating Contest
(6 p.m. – 8 p.m.)

August 31, Wednesday Night:
Battle of the Bulge &
Minute to Win It
(6 p.m. – 8 p.m.)

September 1, Thursday Night:
Our Spirit Night
(5 p.m. – 9 p.m.)

September 2, Friday Morning:
Breakfast Battle
(6:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.)

MY PLEASURE. Before ordering his food, junior JP Bruscato greets a friend who works at Chick-Fil-A. By purchasing food, Bruscato helped OHS in its competition.

SCHOOL SPIRIT. Friday morning, senior Sam Hunter drives a truck to school with the common "red-neck" phrase "GIR-DOES!". The slang was in reference to Lafayette, the rival school.

twenty-twelve trends FOR REAL

UNIQUE TRENDS VARY AMONG STUDENTS

Oxford High School has set several trends this year, from the girls wearing oversized sweaters and boots to the guys wearing button downs and ties to basketball games.

Half of the student body came back to school in January with iPhone 4's and iPhone 4S's. Oxford girls wore jeggings and knee high socks while the guys came to school in Columbia shorts, Ralph Lauren polos, and Cole Haans.

Oxford High not only made trends in clothing, but also made trends in sports. After Christmas break the school got a vending machine, and Powerade has appeared in a lot of students' hands.

Nike Air Maxes seem to be popular among the males in high school as well.

PULL! Starting to tug, several students use all their might to try to win for their side. The right side took the victory.

SWING. During the whiffle ball game, sophomore Michael Bianco takes a swing. Bianco's team was victorious.

FOCUSED. Getting ready to get in stance, freshman Lee Easson holds the bow. This was the first year that the school featured the bow and arrow contest.

SLIDE! Racing against a fellow student, sophomore Zack Naron falls down the slide. Naron was able to win the race, beating his opponent by a couple of seconds.

HAVING FUN! Laughter is the main goal of the game as junior Jessica Flowers takes off with the ball. She was assisted by junior Leland Graeber when the seniors threatened to pull Flowers's flag.

Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better

JUNIOR AND SENIOR GIRLS FACE OFF IN GIRLS POWDER PUFF FOOTBALL

This year, a new tradition-to-be came to Oxford High School. The junior and senior girls were able to play each other in a game of powder puff football. Powder puff is a way of saying girl football, but instead of tackling, the girls used flags to pull. Senior Heather Neilson and junior Callie Mayo were selected captains of each team. Neilson is the ASG President, while Mayo is the junior class president. The game was a Student Council effort to bring something new to the pep rally.

The girls played for 20 minutes on the football field, with the teams tying 7-7.

"We should've gone into overtime because we could have beaten them," junior Michaela Godfrey said. Both teams spent all week trash-talking one another, but the overall experience was positive.

"It was really fun and I hope we can do it again next year," Mayo said.

PEACE MAN. Biology teacher, Renee Dayan shows her school spirit on 70s day. This year, if teachers donated money to Jack Pinnow, they were able to dress for the spirit days. (And wear jeans!)

FACE PAINTING. For Anchor Club, junior Marta Burwell paints a fellow student's face. Face painting was a way for the members to get a point for their service requirements.

GETTING PUMPED. Running through the hand-made sign, senior Erika Sisk pumps up the crowd. The whole senior team had a chance to run through.

HOMECOMING ADVISER RECEIVES AWARD DURING HALFTIME

While interim Student Council adviser Sommer Husbands was busy planning Homecoming, debate instructor Barbara Lowe was making the Spirit Stick to reward her.

"She had to step in at a very late date and try to pull together an event that meant so much to so many students," Lowe said. "She handled it with grace, energy, and enthusiasm."

Husbands was taken by surprise when she was "dragged" onto the field by two cheerleaders.

"I didn't know they had done that," Husbands said. "It felt nice to be recognized for your hard work."

Senior Allison Lyon wasn't expecting to be elected Homecoming Queen either.

"Just being on the ballot, I was honored," Lyon said. "I was expecting to go hug my other friends and congratulate them, and then they said my name, and I didn't believe it."

Creating Candyland

STUDENT COUNCIL PUTS TOGETHER CANDYLAND THEMED WINTER FORMAL

Behind the scenes of what students see every Winter Formal is a multi-month long process that requires hard work from many students on the Student Council. This year's Student Council chose a "Candy Land" theme.

"We wanted a colorful environment," ASG President Heather Neilson said.

In order to decide on the final theme, Neilson and Student Council Vice President Katie Krouse chose three themes, and as a group the Student Council chose "Candyland."

Once the theme was chosen Neilson said she started planning in mid November.

"I had to go to the Powerhouse, and I had to sign a 15-page contract," Neilson said.

Neilson also had to gather decorations including a ball of light made out of clear cups.

Overall Neilson said she thought Winter Formal was "very successful."

Archery Convention

LONG AWAITED NEW SPORT ADDED TO P.E. DEPARTMENT

This spring, after years of anticipation, students enjoyed a new sport in the P.E. program.

Rose Hickey, the P.E. teacher, says the process for getting the program was long and tedious.

"I wanted to do archery for a few years, because anyone can participate, no matter your fitness abilities and it is for males and females. Finally I was able to go get certified to teach it," Hickey said.

Before students were allowed to participate in this activity, the teachers had to go to a convention.

"We learned how to teach it in a classroom with all the safety techniques first, then what equipment was needed, set-up, and how to get students interested in it,"

Hickey said.

By: Lureen Alostaz

TAKING ONE STEP AT A TIME. Sophomore Luke Leary had to learn the rules of archery before he was handed a bow and arrow.

GETTING IT JUST RIGHT. Junior Jessica Pearson aims her arrow at the bulls-eye. Like most of the participants in the archery program, Pearson did not have any experience in archery before this year.

Right: GETTING READY. Sophomore Brian Clancy warms up before beginning the game. The game did not begin until 3:15 p.m., but students arrived early to have some fun.

Right: HEAD TO HEAD. Juniors Thomas Crockett and Rustin Rasberry go head to head as Crockett tries to pass the disc to one of his teammates. Crockett and Rasberry played against each other Sunday afternoon.

ALMOST GOT IT. Junior Dora Chen attempts to catch the disc while junior Ainsley Atkins chases after her. Chen and Atkins were on opposite teams.

PLAYING AGAINST THE HEAT. In the blazing sun, senior Juan Guerra barely catches the disc. It was eighty-one degrees that day.

Crowned On The First Try

REED WINS MOST BEAUTIFUL ON HER FIRST TIME IN OHS BEAUTY REVIEW

There is a first time for everything. To junior Tia Reed, OHS's Beauty Review was something new to her. Not only did she want the experience, but she wanted to learn from it.

"I decided to participate to gain confidence and a better self-esteem," Reed said.

Besides going to the pageant practices, Tia also practiced walking in her shoes at home. Going into the pageant, Tia didn't expect to win.

"I was excited, but to me it wasn't all about winning," Reed said. "I gained confidence from it."

Her biggest piece of advice to anyone wanting to participate in the Beauty Review is to keep a positive attitude, which she did.

Prom Planning

TWO SENIORS ORGANIZE PROM AS THEIR CAPSTONE PROJECT

On the day of prom most girls are concerned about getting their nails done, making sure they have enough hairspray and applying just the right amount of mascara. For two seniors, Lauren McNally and Allison Lyon, that day was very different. Instead of worrying about nails, hair and makeup they were thinking about finishing decorations and making sure the conference center looked just right for that night.

McNally and Lyon chose to co-organize this year's prom as their senior capstone project. Planning a prom for 300 plus kids however was not an easy task to take on.

"It was a lot more stressful than I thought it was going to be," Lyon said.

Despite those stressful moments, McNally and Lyon were both pleased with the end result of this year's prom.

"I would love to plan prom again. It was so much fun," said McNally.

By: Abby Daniels

SPARKLE: Seniors Lauren McNally and Aleah Vinson pour glitter onto tree branches outside the conference center. McNally and Vinson were among a group of students and teachers who helped set up the Saturday morning of prom.

BEAMING Senior Meredith Sanford smiles to the crowd after being selected Prom Queen. Justin Fondren and Sanford were named 2012 prom king and queen.

ALL SMILES. Juniors Nick Brown and Dora Chen hug as they pose for pictures. Brown and Chen were named 2012's Prom Prince and Princess.

NOTHING BUT FUN. Balloons fill the ceiling and the lights create the atmosphere needed for the crowd to get into the dance. Lights changed from blue to red and green. Students said they were really glad the lights were dimmer this year.

DANCING. Senior Judson Watson dances with his date senior Allison Lyon. Lyon was the co-organizer of this year's prom.

RIGHT: IN THE CROWD. Dancing in the middle of a group, senior Robert Vaughn does the jerk. Onlookers cheered him on while Vaughn busted a move.

Technology For Real

iPADS IN OHS CLASSROOMS

The classrooms at Oxford High School are turning out technical. In an effort to place more computers into more students' hands, the school started a pilot program with Apple to develop a "one-on-one" initiative.

"Every student having a piece of technology issued to them is a big step for our school," explained Anatomy and Physiology teacher Nicole Roberson.

Although this process isn't supposed to be in full effect for the high school until the school year 2013-2014, the pilot program has already allowed many changes for the class room.

"We have been using the showme.com app which allows the students to be interactive," Roberson said. She believes that programs like these from the iPad will require students to be more attentive in class, and they will enjoy the learning process more.

Junior Cade Brewer said that he likes using the iPad in class because "it makes doing group projects more fun; it's something new." Many other students agree with Brewer that this a new and fun experience.

STUDENTS ENJOY RECOGNITION BREAKFASTS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Students given the honor of Student of the Month also received an invitation to an honor breakfast.

Vice Principal Kathy Howington along with the PTO, specifically Kim Phillips, coordinated this event and nominations.

Nominations were given by teachers two weeks prior to the breakfast.

"They went beyond the call of duty," stated Howington. "(Or) they may have had a low grade and raised it up."

There was one focus student each month who "rose to the top."

According to Howington, the focus students were chosen based on a list of the top four or six students, weighed by what teachers said.

The breakfast generally included doughnuts, fruit, sweets, and water. A different guest speaker each month said few words; after that students were each given a pin.

Smellin' Good

THE CHEMISTRY OF FLAVORS

If you've ever chewed a piece of wintergreen gum or smelled a raspberry scented candle you have had an experience with esters. Jim Reidy's AP Chemistry did a lab to make these esters. To make the esters, the students mixed various chemicals together in a pipette. After mixing the chemicals they put a stopper into the pipettes and placed them in heated water. After ten minutes of waiting they removed the stoppers and wafted the odor toward their noses.

"It smelled good in small doses, but when everyone started making a lot, it was burning my nasal cavities," junior David Rozier said.

The odor wasn't confined just to the chemistry classroom though.

"The smells were terrible and people would come by and say, 'Oh my gosh your class smells so bad,'" commented junior Michaela Godfrey.

The odors might have been strong and bad, but the students still enjoyed doing the lab.

"It smelled like death, but it had all the fun of chemistry," junior Drake Armstrong said.

By: Luke Jenkins

READY. SET. GO. Leaning over his calculator, senior Tyler Fortenberry enters information. Fortenberry was in one of science teacher Jim Reidy's two physics classes.

TOP: COOL STORY BRO! Preparing a pipette for a lab, juniors William Mayo and David Rozier laugh at a joke a classmate just told. They were working on a lab in which they created flavors.

BOTTOM LEFT: WHOA! Wafting the odors toward him, junior Carlo Jennings reacts as a strong banana smell reaches him. Jennings was in Reidy's 6th and 7th periods of AP Chemistry. BOTTOM MIDDLE: WAFTING. Working on a lab, junior Turner Arnold attempts to smell the solution. He had to use the method of wafting to safely smell the odors, rather than just placing the pipette under his nose.

BOTTOM RIGHT: CAREFUL. Measuring out liquids, junior Ward Toler mixes chemicals hoping to produce a certain smell. They were given a list of chemicals to mix to produce the odor.

COOL! Going on a field trip with Renee Dayan's class, senior Romeo Johnson holds a twig with a bug on the bottom of it. Johnson went with Dayan's environmental science class to Sardis Lake.

LEFT: HOT! Using crucible tongs, sophomore Coleman Dixon grabs a heated crucible. They were using bunsen burners to heat chemicals. ABOVE: LET IT GO! Huddled around a stat sheet, physics students record data. They were releasing a car and seeing how long it took it to reach a certain point to record its acceleration.

ALL SET. With their catapult ready to go, seniors Christopher Cullum and Joseph Reed prepare to launch. Teams representing OHS spent the day on campus at the Trebuchet contest.

WORKING HARD. Working on missed work, sophomore Michael Scott answers chemistry problems. Scott was in science teacher Rose Nash's chemistry classes.

Discovering the Real World

What is your favorite math or science class?

Geometry because it was the easiest for me.

Cole Atkins
9th

Physics because of the real world application.

Nick Lee

Medieval Faire Tradition

KENDRICKS' FAMILY CONTINUES TRADITION OF FAIRE PARTICIPATION

Geography teacher Scott Kendricks got to bring his American quarter horse and his daughter to school on the day of the Medieval Faire.

"As a history teacher, I thought that it would be a good opportunity to be a part of a school tradition," Kendricks said. "I had seen students bring horses as part of the Faire, but they didn't try very hard as far as costume or knowledge of medieval times." So he got busy and included both... fun costumes and a horse. This was not the first year Kendricks had family members involved in the Medieval Faire.

"My two sons, Sam and Tom, rode with me for several years in similar costumes. This year my daughter, Mary Charles, was the little girl in a princess costume on the horse," Kendricks said.

Will he be back again next year for the Medieval Faire? Right now, Kendricks says that's his plan.

By: Lureen Alotsaz

HORSIN' AROUND. Scott Kendricks holds the reins of his horse, while his daughter, Mary Charles, rides the horse. Kendricks taught his children how to ride horses when they were young.

MUSIC TO YOUR EARS. Seniors Dylan Ballard and Martin Bodenhiemer play classical music on the guitar. Bodenhiemer played the electric, bass, and acoustic at North Oxford recently.

CLASSICAL DANCING. Seniors, Drew McGee, Jhoselyne Guerra, Robert Vaughn, and Charika Harris do a traditional medieval dance. This traditional dance had to have at least two people.

FIGHT! Seniors Steven Salmon and Rees Farrington duel during the Medieval Faire. Farrington wore a bed sheet while fighting Salmon with a fake sword.

ABOVE RIGHT: BRAINSTORMING. Sophomores David O'Hara and Ethan Sommers work on a mini-project about World War II. Mr. Bush's world history class worked on this propaganda project for two and a half days.

RIGHT: SEEKING ANSWERS. Sophomore Hunter Roth searches for an answer to one of the questions on his outline. This world history class did an outline for every section.

REAL ACADEMICS

What is the best part about the Medieval Faire?

"We got out of class, and I didn't do any work."

Kiara Thompson

RIGHT: BEST FOOT FORWARD. Spanish teacher Emily Maples teaches junior John David Hankins the steps to Danza Kuduro, a popular Spanish line dance. The whole class was required to at least try the steps. Below: SUPER POWERS. Batgirls freshmen Lucille Easterbrook and Yumin Jo waltz in step with the Flash twins (sophomores Cindy Torma and Renee Sullivan-Gonzales.) The orchestra went to Six Flags theme park in Atlanta for Worldstride's Heritage Performance

BEAUTIFUL MUSC. Violinists junior Steven Le and freshman Deterrias Pegues perform "Bouree" by Bach. These two played at the orchestra concert at Parish Yates Chapel.

LEAN TO. The entire 6th period Spanish II class joins in dancing. They demonstrated step 1.

Danza Kuduro

SPANISH II CLASSES LEARN THE POPULAR LINE DANCE, THE DANCE KUDURO

Spanish teacher Emily Maples teaches these steps:

- Stand with your right foot slightly behind you.
- 1 Lean forward then backward while making a running motion with your arms. Repeat.
- Hop forward on your right foot, cross your left over it, and hop back on the left. Plant the right foot and repeat.
- Hop back to the left foot. Pivot then swing the right foot with you into a 90 degree swing.
- 3
- When you come out of the pivot grapevine to the right. Jump and grapevine left. Jump again.
- Lean forward and backward from the waist twice while making running arms. Repeat all steps until the song is over.

HOLD ON Girls Fitness teacher Rose Hickey instructs her class on how to do proper wall sits. Wall sits are a part of a larger routine the class participates in.

NOT A HORROR MOVIE. Sophomore Sage Morgan carefully cuts a 2x6 board during Building Trades. He has made a chair and other furniture this year in class.

SLOWLY AND CAREFULLY. Sophomores Rashunda Brown, Amber Vaughn and Iesha Johnson cut out letters. Next, they painted the letters and arranged them to spell names.

Lessons for the Future

CENTER FOR APPLIED TECH ENSURES BRIGHT FUTURES

Oxford High School shares a unique institute with the Lafayette High school: the Center for Applied Technology (Tech). It offers a myriad of specialized courses ranging from Allied Health to Metal Trades Technology.

"I was really intrested in what they had to offer," senior Ben Doss says. "The staff are good people."

Doss takes Agriculture Power and Machine Technology at the Tech. "It'll help in what type of job I'm intrested in and show what I've learned there."

Junior Tiara Burt feels similarly.

"It helps me get to know all the medical terms," Burt says. She takes Allied Health in preparation for becoming a Pediatric Nurse Practioner.

"The best part is getting away from school and doing hands on stuff," Burt says.

By: Renee Sullivan-Gonzalez

Real Technology Skills:

How will this help you in the real world?

"I plan on going to nursing school and in Allied Health I've learned a lot."

Laticia Reed

SPARKS FLY. During Metal Trades, sophomore Deundre Hearvey perfects the corners of a star. He plans to use this star for decoration.

ITS CALLED A SPHYGMOMANOMETER. During Allied Health, juniors Britney House and Embrey Inman practice measuring a person's blood pressure. Unfortunately, the dummy didn't have one since it's not alive.

UNDER THE HOOD. Senior Chistopher Martin tunes up a car in Auto Mechanics. "I really like cars and I wanted to know everything about them and how to fix them," Martin says.

SCIENCE FAIR
Junior Taide Ding presents his project on hurricane and storm prediction. Ding received third place in his category at ISEF.

GREAT GATSBY.
Yujing Zhang stands next to her first place reading fair project. Zhang did her project on F. Scott Fitzgerald's "The Great Gatsby."

RECEIVING AWARD. Sophomore Shreya Mathur is presented on the big screen in Pittsburgh as she is called for her award. Mathur placed fourth in the math category at

REAL EXPERIENCES:

What have you gained from being in this fair?

"It was really great to have my project judged along with people just as eager as I was."

Will Anderson, 9th

"I gained the ambition to practice and get better at my art."

Micaela Melendez, 11th

MALARIAL INTERVENTION. Junior Rosalie Doerksen explains the details of her science fair project at the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair in Pittsburgh. Doerksen did her project on malarial intervention by using the antigen efficiency in bovine CD1b3.

ABOVE BOTTOM: READING POETRY. Ann Fisher Worth reads poetry to OHS students. Worth read poems about her childhood and other memorable events in her life.

International Science Fair

SCIENCE FAIR FINALISTS PREPARE FOR ISEF

Every year the best student science fair projects in the world go to the Intel International Science and Engineering Fair. This year four OHS students went to ISEF in Pittsburgh, the biggest science competition for precollege students in the world. Before the fair juniors Dora Chen, Taide Ding, and Rosalie Doerksen along with sophomore Shreya Mathur talked about the different changes they wanted to make to their projects.

"I'm just looking over my project and fixing any problems," Mathur said.

The "fixes" must have worked because Mathur received 4th place in the entire mathematics category.

Mathur also expressed that she wanted to make a clearer presentation, as did Chen.

"I'm going to primarily focus on putting together a coherent and brief presentation," Chen said.

Why were the students excited about the trip? For Ding it was making "connections."

For Doerksen "It is a place where you feel appreciated for your scientific work."

Debate goes to State Competition

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN MOCK TRIAL AT PRESTIGIOUS COURTROOM

Thirty-two hours of practice paid off at the Mock Trial competition in Jackson, Mississippi.

The team, made up of Noel Walsh, Jack Schultz, David Rozier, Mollie Beth Ott, Leland Graeber, Elizabeth Evans, and Matt Forgette worked on the court case of Finley Patton vs. The State of Mississippi.

The case involved a high schooler named Finley Patton and whether she sold marijuana or was entrapped by an undercover officer. The team had to both prosecute and defend in the mock trial.

The team placed second overall in the state of Mississippi and got to compete in the final round in the Supreme Courtroom in Jackson, Mississippi the next day.

"It was fun being able to present my case in such a prestigious courtroom," junior Noel Walsh said. "I hope to compete there again next year."

In recognition of their achievement they were awarded a large gavel.

It's all about Environment

MEMBERS LEARN NEW SKILLS FOR 'FUN' COMPETITIONS

In Envirothon it's all about the environment, a topic foreign to many students. That's where Envirothon steps in.

In Envirothon the members measure trees, take soil profiles and - the fun part - go to competitions.

"Envirothon can be a lot of work and also a lot of fun," senior Jane Wu said. "We are always doing something new."

The teams learn new concepts and terms before they head to their competitions.

"When I first joined Envirothon I had no idea what it was about," Wu said. After joining Envirothon, however, Wu says she has done many things from going to Canada for a competition, to just feeling accomplished for all the club does for her.

By: Elizabeth Black

MEASURE UP! Freshman Reed Byars measures trees in Envirothon. Envirothon has gone to competitions in several countries.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES (FCA)

SPEAK! When FCA participants walked in the door for a meeting, they found different experiences awaiting them. They had skits, games and devotions, all related to making the members as well as the world a better place. Because all students were welcome, membership changed on a weekly basis, but there was always a crowd that showed up.

Thompson's experiences paid off, and at the conference, she was elected for FEA State officer for the Northern District.

Gaining Experience to Facilitate Learning

FUTURE EDUCATORS ASSOCIATION MEMBERS EMBRACE RESPONSIBILITY

Knowledge. Social interactions. Opportunity. Life-time learning. This is the Future Educators Association (FEA).

Roxanne Wright, sponsor of FEA, says that students have at least a 2.75 to become a member and must maintain a clean discipline. In this club the members are able to experience education outside of a student's perspective and have the opportunity to work with teachers. They learn how to produce a lesson that a group of students would be able to understand easily.

Although FEA is a small group this year, Wright says she is grateful that her members collaborate with one another, and that each one of them are responsible and do not just join and go to meetings.

"FEA has received CTSO (Career and Technical Student Organization) status which places us in a state competition with responsibilities for completions falling on students shoulder to complete in a creative and standards based manner," Wright said.

The only competition FEA had this year was electing for State Officers, but this fall FEA will be able to compete in Northern Region Competition that will be held in Oxford.

New Club Successful

TEACHER SPONSORS GSA

When one of her students, Tal Toole, approached English teacher Sommer Husbands about sponsoring a chapter of the Gay Straight Alliance, she accepted the task and a new club began at OHS.

"Tal knows where I stand on issues of tolerance, compassion, and equality," Husbands said to explain why she sponsored the club. "It is my belief that humans are created equal, regardless of any differences, whether that be in race, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, or otherwise."

Like Atticus tells Scout in "To Kill A Mockingbird," Husbands says people never really understand others until they consider things from their points of view. According to Husbands, even when people don't agree with someone's lifestyle, they should not "ridicule or judge."

"GSA is an opportunity to spread that message," Husbands said.

The club was a place where students could discuss ways to raise awareness of issues that surrounded the lesbian, bisexual, gay and transgendered community. They discussed ways to handle questions and how to spread a message of tolerance. Sometimes, Husbands said, they just "hung out" and talked, providing a safe place for people "who may otherwise feel alone or ostracized."

Getting Involved

S.A.D.D. MEMBERS RAISE AWARENESS ABOUT TOBACCO

On a brisk November day in the fall, members of Students Against Destructive Decisions set up a funeral tent and casket along with posters of tobacco-affected mouths on the front lawn of Oxford High School. Students Against Destructive Decisions or S.A.D.D. for short, is a club that focuses on issues that effects teens today and primarily on issues that teens are facing, one of which is the use of tobacco. The members participated in National Smoke Out Day on November 17th to raise awareness of the harmful affects of tobacco and to show how many people die each year from tobacco use.

"We didn't get as much of a response as we had hoped for, but it's all about the spreading the word," said freshman member Maggie Mallette.

By: Abby Daniels

ORGANIZING. S.A.D.D. Members prepare for the tobacco demonstration. Members posted posters, set up jars of tobacco and gave out t-shirts during the demonstration.

CHECKING IT OUT. Trying to identify a jar of tobacco, freshman Maggie Mallette examines the bottom label. S.A.D.D. members set up jars of tobacco to raise attention to the harmful chemicals found in tobacco.

RAISING AWARENESS. Sophomore Katy Magaret Doss holds up a t-shirt that promotes the "Great American Smokeout." The "Great American Smokeout" was held on November 17 this year, and it's purpose was to have everyone walk away from tobacco for 24 hours.

FIRST YEAR HIGH SCHOOL SCIENCE OLYMPIAD GOES TO HATTIESBURG

It was time for the high school to get on board with Science Olympiads. While some students had participated in a science competition as middle schoolers, this was the first year for the high school to take the trip to a Science Olympiads competition in Hattiesburg, Miss.

Two teams from Oxford participated: sophomore Reid Mallette was captain of C3 and junior Rosalie Doerksen was captain of the second team, C4.

"There was a wide variety of events, activities and diverse ideas; we were able to work on any type of Science," Doerksen said.

Doerksen and senior Jane Wu participated in two events out of the available 20, winning 1st place in the Chem Lab division and 1st in the Protein Modeling event. They had 50 minutes to build a small replica of a protein; the event had three parts and the two had been working on protein modeling since January throughout February. Doerksen also participated in the Forensic event with sophomore Jack Cutler.

The competition was an all-day event and the award ceremony was held late that evening.

Band Travels to Disney World

DRUM MAJOR ENJOYS EXPERIENCE

While the OHS Band marched in the Disney World Parade, junior Mary Bailey Linton marched backward. She did not do this for kicks and giggles; she had a purpose: to conduct the band as the Drum Major.

"My legs were killing me by the end of it," Linton said.

The band stayed in Disney for three full days, visiting the Magic Kingdom, Animal Kingdom, and MGM Studios.

While in MGM, Linton rode the Tower of Terror three times. But, even with the excitement, the students say it was better than sitting at school. "It (the Disney trip) was more relaxing," Linton said. She and her roommates, Kim Cassisa, Angela Castro Rodriguez and Jiwon Lee, would stay up late and talk in their room.

The Band members also had a good time with their band directors, but, sadly, they said, this is band director Len Kilo's last year at OHS.

WAVIN' FLAG! As a part of the colorguard, senior Jessica Juergens runs across the field with her colorful flag. The flags design is a prime example of this year's theme "Alone."

POISE. Junior Michaela Godfrey pauses while practicing her flute. She will be in colorguard her senior year.

AND LEAN! The Band does a routine on the football field as a part of marching season. It was critical for everyone to be in sync; if someone was one beat off, the stands of fans would be able to spot it.

More Students Joining The Orchestra

ORCHESTRA PARTICIPATION INCREASES WITH NEW TEACHER

Orchestra at Oxford High School has dramatically increased since teacher Benji Wilson began as teacher. Three years ago, the orchestra had 20 members, but now the number is up to 70 students between the fifth and twelfth grades.

"We have increased the quality of the classroom, but good students are just attracted to good programs," Wilson said. Students are also active the majority of the time instead of sitting and listening to a lecture. Junior Steven

Le is one of the students in the orchestra this year. "Orchestra has really broadened my spectrum of music, and made me branch out," Le said. "I joined my freshman year for a unique experience, and I really like it." In order to keep students interested, Wilson has organized performances in retirement homes, and in May they traveled to Atlanta for competition.

Attention: Inspection Time

JROTC MEMBERS COMPLETE INSPECTIONS IN THE GYM

This February the members of JROTC participated in their biannual inspection. During the inspection a head officer of the U.S. Marine Corps comes to the school to give both a personal and administration inspection. Sophomore Hunter Pace, who is a Cadet Captain says that in preparation for this event the students do a lot of repetitive objectives involving several steps.

These steps ensure that the students' success in preparations. Perhaps the most important preparation of all, Pace says, is making sure all new members know how to properly wear their uniforms. To help prepare, the instructors of the JROTC give their own separate inspections throughout the school year for grades. Pace says that these inspections occur at least once a week.

On inspection day Pace says there isn't much to do except to make sure everyone is ready to go.

"Several of us make sure the files and equipment are together for the Administration inspection," Pace said.

The overall inspection was a success in Pace's opinion. They received an overall rating of "Outstanding", which is the highest rating.

WORKING HARD. During fifth period newspaper staff time, junior Sudu Upadhyay conferences with Adhi Ravishankar, also a junior. Ravishankar was the online technician, and Upadhyay was the online content editor.

Online A New Twist

THE CHARGER ONLINE MAKES ITS MARK IN DEBUT YEAR

Two years ago while sitting in his Intro to Journalism class, junior Adhi Ravishankar had no idea that he would eventually create an online newspaper, but that is just what he did. During his first year on the newspaper staff, Ravishankar created theOHsCharger.com to test out the online platform.

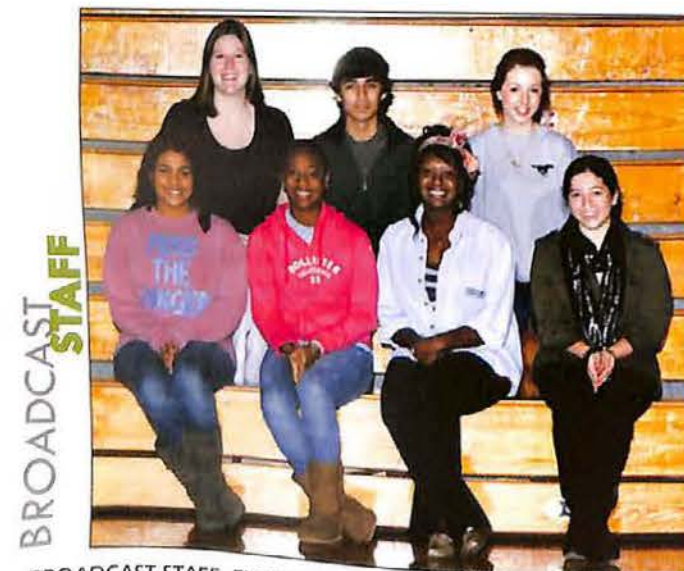

"Ms. Ferguson told me that she wanted to expand the horizon of the newspaper and create the online," Ravishankar said.

When Sudu Upadhyay joined the newspaper staff this year, he suggested completely changing the website to be known as theChargerOnline and to not only include newspaper content but also yearbook and broadcast content.

"It took from late May of 2011 to mid-August for it to be completely rebranded and set up," Upadhyay said.

The website is similar to a regular paper, but it allows readers' interaction, such as videos accompanying articles or photos. One of the things Upadhyay likes about the website is that it provides a faster way to get out information.

Pittman has been dancing competitively since she was much younger.

COLONEL MUSTARD. Juniors Rebecca Leake and Colin Schultz swing dance in a Clue inspired piece. Each dancer was a different character from the movie.

Discovering Dancers

DAVENPORT DISCOVERS DANCERS' SKILLS FOR "SCREAM SCENES"

John Davenport knew there were talented dancers in the school, but he didn't realize how much talent was really here.

"Scream Scenes" was chosen because it was a dance-heavy show; it was the 10th anniversary since the last 'Scream Scenes,' and it is a great fund raiser for the Fringe Festival this summer. Davenport says the theatre department had "gotten away from dance."

The timing was good for the Deborah Kay Dancers: Aleah Vinson, Rebecca Leake, Auguste Mustin, and Emma Pittman because they didn't have dance recitals conflicting with the schedule. Davenport was excited to use the girls and said he wishes he could have worked with them more, particularly Vinson, a senior this year that Davenport says is "an astounding talent."

By: Joseph McQueen

IDENTITY THEFT. In "The 39 Steps," juniors Chase Glad-den and Drake Arm-strong fight over mistaken identity. "The 39 Steps" was this year's theatre season opener.

39 STEPS. A concerned junior Meredith Brown tries to keep from being murdered. Brown switched between four roles in "The 39 Steps," while only four actors in the entire play switched between over 40 roles total.

SILLY LOVE SONGS. Mr. Hart (junior Chase Gladden) sings a profession of love for his secretary, Doralee. His love is unrequited; both of them have other spouses.

DANSE MACABRE. In a dream Judy (Young) dances with her boss, Mr. Hart (Gladden), and fantasizes killing him. Each of the three friends had different visions about killing about Mr. Hart.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS. An angry Doralee (Field) threatens Mr. Hart (Gladden) after she finds out about some lies. He had been up to no good since Doralee was hired.

Shining Stars Surprise

THEATRE ROOKIES SHOCKED TO LAND LEADS IN MUSICAL 9 TO 5

Two of the three stars in this high energy performance were little known in the theatre world until they blew away the audience with their big voices. It was this year's musical, "9-5 The Musical" in which juniors Megan Young and Evelyn Field made their big debuts.

Neither of them expected to get a big part, they said. In fact, both Field and Young had to muster up a great deal of confidence to even audition.

Young explained that she was close to chickening out for the third year.

"I made myself do it," Young said. "I had decided not to," Field said. "It took some convincing."

Young says she got a lot from this experience. She was filled with new friendships, new memories, and even new knowledge of how productions work. Field said she also made new friendships and memories, along with a boost of confidence.

While Young says she is uncertain whether she will continue with theatre, Field believes she wants to participate in another year of musicals.

Should they choose to do another musical, their futures are bright.

SERIES SWEEP

LADY CHARGERS SWEEP THEIR CROSS TOWN RIVALS

Any time Oxford plays Lafayette, the rivalry is extreme and intense. Volleyball is no exception.

One key to a big win was the number of seniors on the team.

"Being one of seven seniors this year, I tried to lead the team," Emily Domke said.

The team wanted the win badly since Lafayette is less than ten minutes away from their school. They did not want their cross-town rival to have a chance at bragging rights.

When Lafayette visited Oxford, the hosting Chargers beat the Commodores in three straight sets. There was some concern in going to play them at their home court, but the Chargers still went with confidence. Oxford pulled out the same score at Lafayette, 3-0 and swept the series for the year.

Swimming Family

SENIORS WILL MISS THE TEAM

It is no secret that the swim team is like a family. Senior Andrew Mullen became a part of this close-knit family in 2001.

"The kind of network of swimmers that I've been around all my life is timeless," Mullen said.

Lizzy Leary, also a senior, has been swimming for 14 years. She has only been a part of the OHS team since she moved to Oxford halfway through her freshman year.

Even though she was late in joining the family, it did not mean she was any less welcome.

"The second day after I got here, Dora Chen invited me to eat with the swim team at Pizza Hut," Leary said. "They're very accepting of new peeps."

GETTING THE SILVER. Placing 2nd in the 200 Yard Freestyle, junior Dora Chen receives her silver medal. She was competing at the State Swim Meet in Cleveland when she got this award.

(LEFT) ON YOUR BACK. Sophomore Brian Clancy swims the backstroke lap of the 200 Yard Individual Medley in the Preliminaries of the State Swim Meet. He placed eighth at the finals.

(LEFT) LOUNGING. Part of the swim team waits after their warm-up for their events. While meets last about five hours, participants are only allowed to swim two events and two relays.

(LEFT) PUSH IT. Junior Marta Burwell takes a breath while swimming the breaststroke lap of her 200 Yard Individual Medley. She placed fourth in the State Swim Meet.

FLYING. Senior Andrew Mullen breathes while swimming the 100 Yard Butterfly during the preliminaries at the State Swim Meet. "A swimmer should be brave, efficient, swift, agile, indefatigable," Mullen said. "They must have the heart of a champion and be a little crazy."

INHALE. Junior Chase Gladden breathes in while swimming breaststroke during warm-ups before the finals of the State Swim Meet. He swam the Boy's 200 Yard Medley Relay and the 200 Yard Freestyle Relay.

BUTTERFLY. Senior Haley Murphy swims the 100 Yard Butterfly at the preliminaries of the State Swim Meet in Cleveland. The "Crane Hands" are a unique characteristic of her butterfly stroke.

GOGGLING UP. Senior Grace Orman fixes her goggles before her event at North Half Swim Meet. She swam the 200 Yard Individual Medley in which she qualified to swim at states and placed fifth.

HANGING ON. Part of the women's swim team completes their warmups in preparation to compete. The team was at the finals of the State Swim Meet in Cleveland. This part of their warm-up consisted of six 50s, four freestyle and two of the stroke of their choice. The team swam this set at every meet this season.

PUMP IT UP. During the homecoming pep rally, the varsity cheerleaders perform for the crowd. The cheerleaders wore pink ribbons for breast cancer awareness during the month of October.

JUGGLING ACT. Charlie the Charger entertains the crowd by juggling pom-poms. This year's mascot was junior Eloise Tyner.

SNACK TIME. OHS Varsity cheerleader, senior Tai Toole passes out cookies to participants of the mini camp. One week out of the year, the cheerleaders hold a mini camp for elementary-aged kids.

GO CHARGERS! The varsity cheerleaders pump up the crowd during one of the many pep rallies. At each of the pep rallies, the cheerleaders cheered, performed a dance, and created games for the students to participate in.

ZOMBIE CHEERLEADERS. During one of the pep rallies, the varsity cheerleaders dance to "Disturbia" by Rihanna. When the music started, the cheerleaders came out from different spots in the stands.

DEFENSE. Painting signs, sophomores Abby Wilson and Miranda Jones help prepare for that Friday's game. The varsity cheerleaders made signs for each game not only for decorating the fence but also one for the players to run through.

GET LOW. The JV cheerleaders wait for the music to cue them to start their dance. The girls cheered at the home junior varsity football games.

BLUE AND GOLD. Cheering for the Chargers are JV cheerleaders Megan Kennedy, Meg Grissenger, and Lizzie Kelly. The squad, made of all freshmen, had twelve girls on it this year.

THAT'S ALL. Helping clean up, sophomore cheerleaders Julie Laurenzo, Madison Cobb, and Mary Shields Craft roll up the mats after a pep rally.

A Fresh Look

NEW BLACK UNIFORMS WELCOMED BY THE TEAM AND COACHES

Every athlete wears a uniform. In the Oxford district, new uniforms are allowed every four years. This year when it was time for the varsity cheerleaders to receive new uniforms, cheer coach Nicole Roberson decided to try a new color: Black.

"Other schools had been trying black as a neutral color, so I played with our company's online color books," Roberson said. "I liked a lot of black for competitions, and they were just so pretty."

Roberson also said that the girls were excited about the possibility of getting black uniforms. After talking with athletic director Johnny Hill, he presented the request to the superintendent who loved them and approved the change. Because the solid blue uniforms were older, they were replaced with the new solid black. So far the public has been very receptive to the black uniforms.

"Other coaches, athletes, and squads have said that they love the uniforms," Roberson said.

OFFENSE. Freshman Deon Hilliard runs the ball down the field. Hilliard is followed by teammates freshmen K.T. McCollin and Charles Ivy.

IN FOCUS. Freshman Colin Le runs toward the goal during the game. The Chargers were playing Senatobia on their own field.

UH OH! Freshman Michael McGee lays injured on the sidelines. Temperatures reached 115 degrees for some games.

Tackle the Heat

INJURIES AND HEAT AFFECT PLAYERS

In football it's no surprise to have injured players, but add those injuries to the heat, and the team can suffer.

"Players are injured all the time in football," Glenn Anderson said.

"Due to the heat, players were unable to run as fast for long periods of time and had to take breaks more often," Anderson said.

In the heat at the beginning of the season, players had to hydrate often and take extra precautions to avoid the risk of passing out from the heat.

"With the bad heat and risk of injury players were very careful in taking care of themselves this year," Anderson said.

HUSTLE UP! Sophomore Mark Pegues sprints down the field to get the ball. Pegues has been playing football for five years.

GETTIN' PREPARED. Freshman Robert Farris runs off the field toward his team. Farris was able to play for varsity after the JV season ended.

Left: GO LONG! Junior quarterback Parker Adamson passes a ball during a football game. Adamson passed for 1,593 yards in his first year as the starter.

Left: BURNED 'EM. Wide receiver Robert Liggins, senior, runs down a pass after separating from his coverage. Liggins was one of two starting senior receivers.

Right: GREAT CATCH! Leaping backwards, senior wide receiver Stan Ivy snags the ball. The Green Wave kept Ivy under heavy pressure most of the game.

BALLIN'! Running back Mont Dean, senior, rumbles his way down the field. Dean was the star of the team breaking a school record this season.

After rushing for 367 yards in the game against Saltillo, senior running back Mont Dean knew he had a chance to do something special this year. In the last game of the season against Clarksdale, Dean did that something special. Rushing for 117 yards on the evening, Dean increased his season rushing total to 1,690 yards making him the record holder for single season rushing yards.

"It was a bittersweet feeling; I was able to get the record but we ended up losing the game," Dean said.

Dean does not take all the credit, however. He thanks his for his offensive line for his success, saying they worked hard all year in order to make the holes for him to power through.

"While getting it was fun, working for it with these guys was the best part," Dean said.

Cross Country Success

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY WINS STATE

The boys Cross Country team came in first place in the MHSAA 5A Championship. It was Coach Scott Kendricks' first time for this big state win, and the school's sixth time overall.

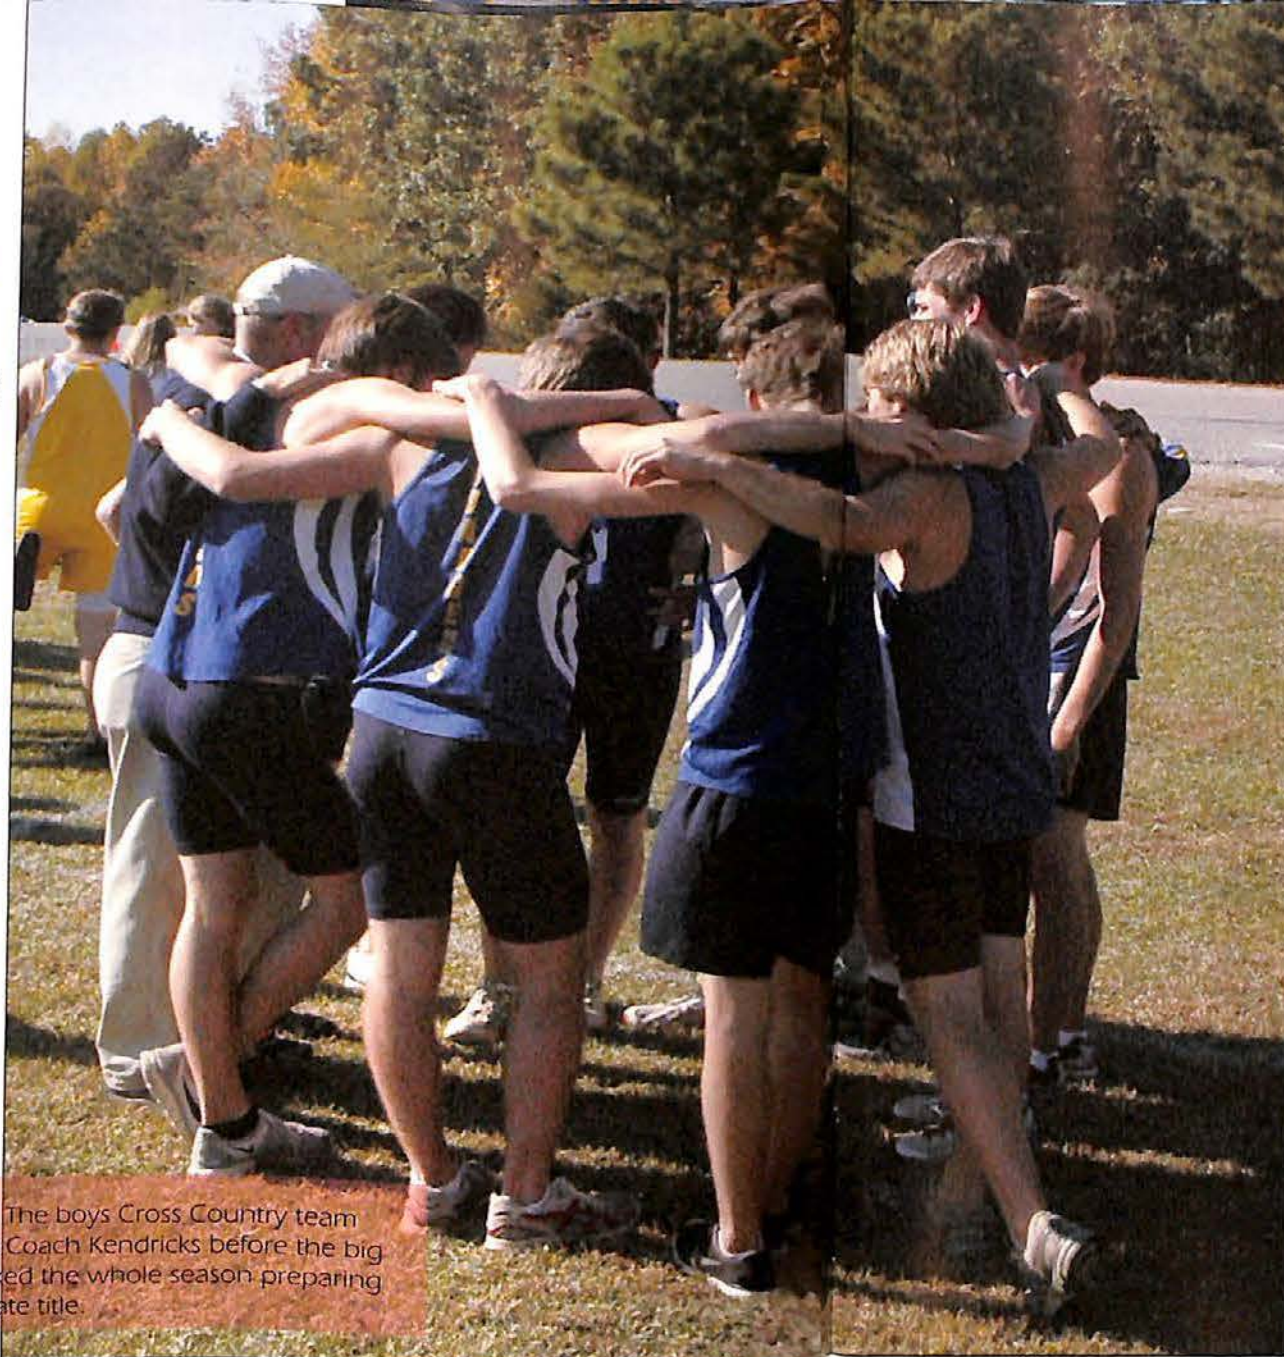

"We usually run six miles to prepare for meets, from the high school to the Ole Miss campus," says Lucian Duchaine, who placed number one in the state this year. "We also do three tempo-runs, which means that we run at race pace. Another thing we do for training is run one to two miles for time; which progresses."

"When we warm up on a regular basis, we usually do two laps or a mile around the track or we go off track. When we get to meets, we like to warm up about 20 or 30 minutes before hand," Duchaine said about their warm up routines.

The hard work paid off when the boys won state, earning them a state championship ring.

Injuries Teach Real Lessons

TEAMMATE LEARNS TO BE VERBAL LEADER

The Lady Charger soccer team was just entering their regular season when the team temporarily lost a teammate.

It was a normal game day for senior Meredith Sanford and she was doing her best to help her team gain a "W."

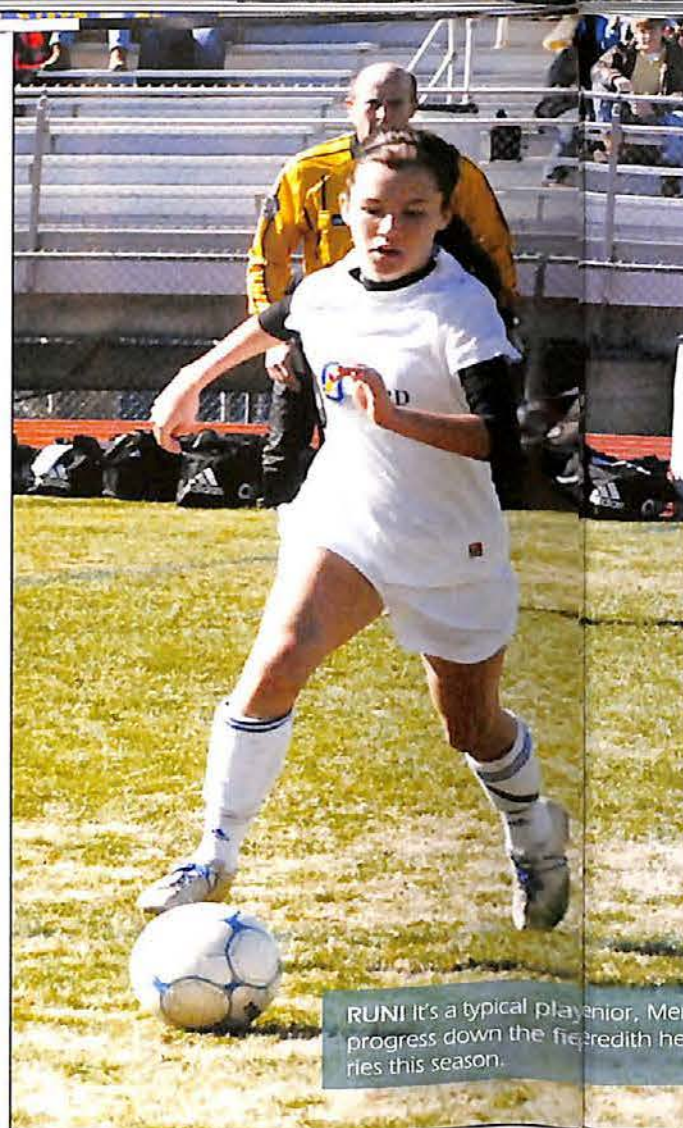

"I jumped up in the air, and I heard a gross noise," Sanford explained. "The next thing I knew I was on the ground." She later found out that she had broken her cheek in three different places. This accident taught Sanford, who had to sit on the bench for six weeks, several different lessons; most importantly she says she learned how to be lead her team in different ways.

"It taught me to be a positive and verbal leader as I sat on the bench," Sanford said. When she was able to play again at the end of the season, Sanford says she was more appreciative and motivated to finish her final season strong.

Though Sanford and her team weren't able to go to state after losing in the North Half playoff game, she says she was very satisfied with her senior season.

"We had a rough beginning to our season, but by the end we were all working toward the same goal," Sanford said.

by Chad Knight

RUN! It's a typical play senior, Meredith Sanford, as she makes progress down the field. Meredith helped the team to many victories this season.

Left: STOP HER NOW. Senior Mary Helen Rychlak and fellow teammate Allison Lyon attempt to steal the ball from an opposing team member. This is one of the many objectives the team goes over in practice.

Right: TALK! Seniors Allison Lyon and Meredith Sanford fight for the same ball as Chase Caldwell, senior, waits for them to make a decision. Talking is an essential part in this sport.

Left: WOMAN ON. Senior Maia Cotelito is trapped as she attempted to get the ball to the other side of the field. Cotelito works hard to out-work both of the opposing girls.

Right: GET IT GIRL. Jessica Pearson, junior, intercepts the ball from the other team. As she struggles to keep her balance, Jessica is able maintain control of the ball.

Senior Suffers from Season Ending Injury

ACL TEAR RUINS SOCCER SEASON FOR SENIOR LUCIAN DUCHAINE

Cross country and soccer star senior Lucian Duchaine is known for playing sports and being good at them, but this year one game made a big difference. During a soccer game against Starkville, Duchaine had a collision with another player, resulting in a torn ACL.

"I was passing the ball to James with the outside of my foot when a Starkville player crashed into my leg, hard. I heard it pop, it sounded like a belt being snapped," Duchaine said.

Duchaine's fellow teammates agree that his absence was definitely missed. Fellow teammate senior Judson Watson heard the crack; the ACL tore before Duchaine even hit the ground. After his injury, Duchaine knew his high school soccer career was over, and the play off game against Starkville was especially hard.

"It's tough to watch a game where your team is losing and you can't do anything about it," Duchaine said.

Overall, Duchaine said surgery was exhausting and tiring, but it won't stop Lucian from playing soccer.

SLIDE. Attempting to steal the ball away, senior James Lear jumps for a slide tackle. Lear was one of two senior captains this year.

OUT OF MY WAY! Pushing a Starkville player out of the way, junior Baxter Elliott makes room to get the ball. Elliott has been playing on the team for 4 years.

DOWN THE LINE. To get the ball, freshman Tristan Orman races a Starkville opponent. This was Tristan's first year to play with the Chargers as a freshman.

LEFT: JUMP! Fighting against a Newton County player, sophomore Ty Barber jumps for a header. The Chargers were able to beat Newton County in the Brooke-Welch Tournament.

BOY'S AND GIRL'S POWERLIFTING FINISH BEST EVER AT NORTH HALF

At the North Half Powerlifting Championship meets, two momentous events occurred. The boy's team ended the meet as the Class III North Half Champions, and the girl's team came out as the Girls Class III North Half Runner-up.

"The guys winning the North Half was great," Coach Jason Russell said. "Those guys have worked so hard and have gotten so strong."

"I am extremely proud of our girls," Russell said. "They have worked hard... and the results are showing."

Thirteen Oxford powerlifters traveled to the State Championships. "That is by far the most ever," Russell said. "It is truly a testament of the hard work of our kids."

"Our greatest accomplishment was going to state and having two girls place," said P.E. teacher, Rose Hickey, who trained the girl's team. "I think we did extremely well this season."

STRENGTH. Senior Khadijah Alford strains to lift at the Regional Meet in Oxford. She placed 1st in her weight class at this meet. "The competition was my favorite part because you never know what's coming your way. If it's someone stronger than you or if you are going to dominate everyone else," Alford says.

PREPARATION. Junior Joel Forrester deadlifts at the North Half Championship in Oxford. "I like the competitions because it increases the rivalry between the offensive line and the defensive line in football," Forrester said.

Team Work WINS STATE

BASKETBALL GIRLS GO UNDEFEATED TO ADVANCE TO STATE CHAMPION-

Teamwork paid off to take the girls basketball team to the championship.

When Callaway put the Lady Chargers out of the State Championship game in the 2010-2011 season, Coach Shayne Linzy set up a lengthy summer full-court conditioning workout for the basketball girls in order to prepare them for the upcoming season.

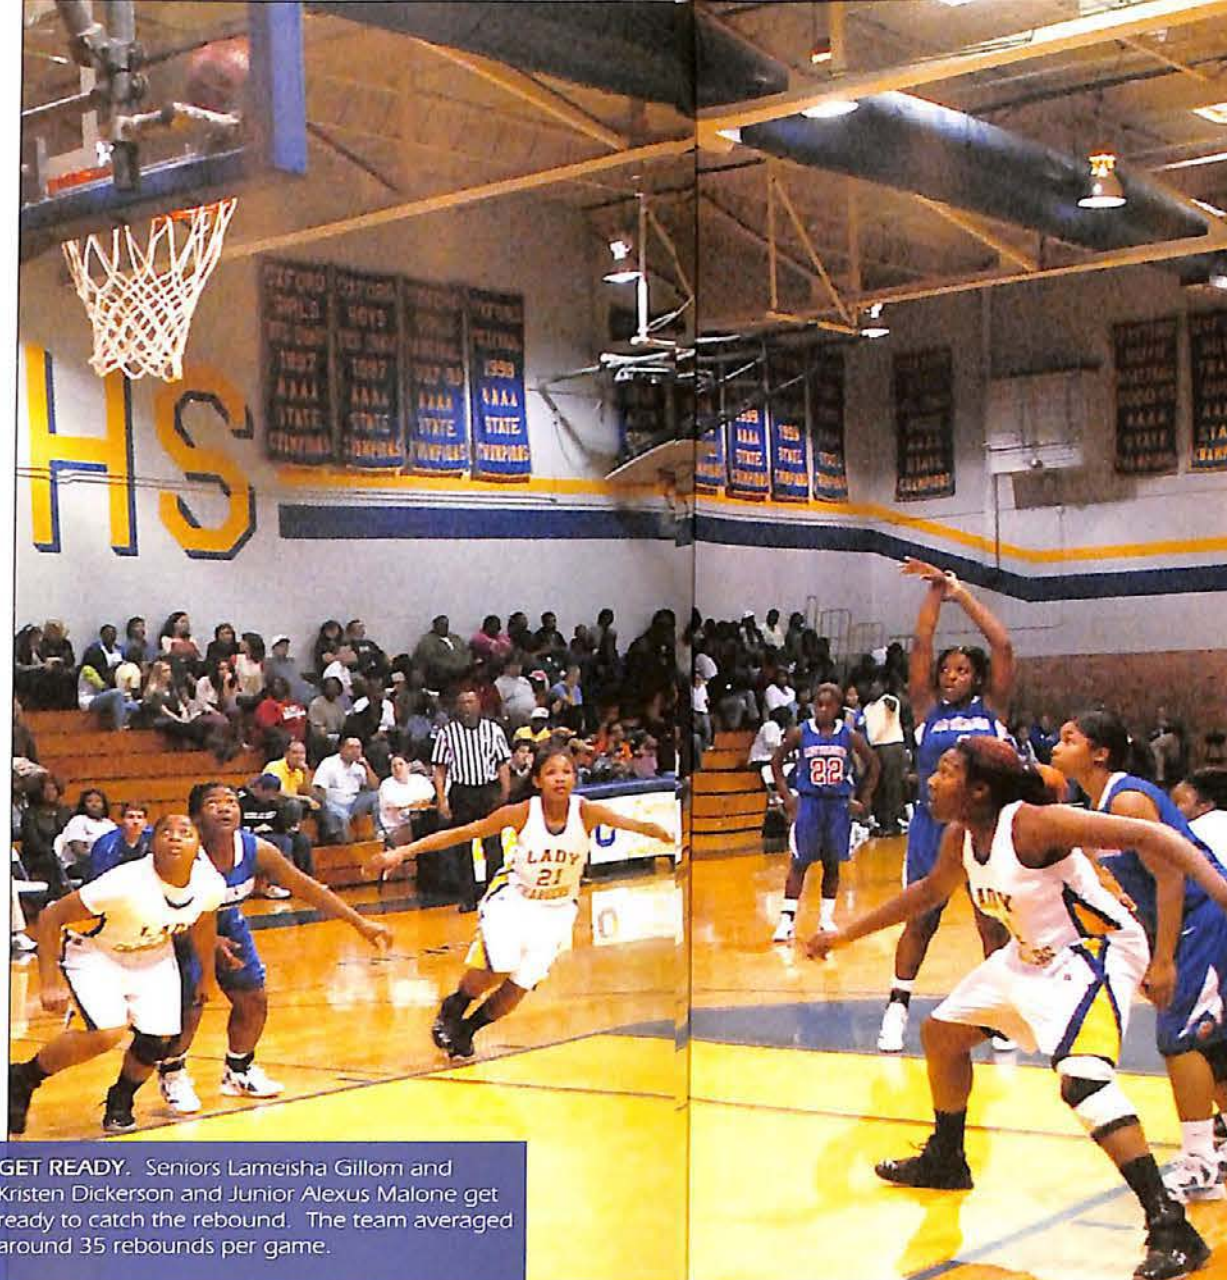

"He told us not to give up, and basically preached team work to us," senior Kristen Dickerson said about Linzy.

The girls focused on offensive issues, such as simple lay-ups. According to teammates, junior Alexis Malone really stood out to the team this year after being injured in the previous season. Seniors Erika Sisk and Ivory Alexander both said that Malone has great knowledge for the game and really helped the team.

"It makes me feel good that I can help my team in any way possible," Malone said.

Winning the State title was a huge deal for the team because Lady Charger basketball hasn't won since 1998.

By: Chase Caldwell

GET READY. Seniors Lameisha Gillom and Kristen Dickerson and Junior Alexis Malone get ready to catch the rebound. The team averaged around 35 rebounds per game.

DRIBBLE DOWN THE COURT. Senior Erika Sisk, point guard, takes the ball down the court. Sisk is going to play basketball at Murray State University in the fall.

FREE THROW. Senior Lameisha Gillom gets ready for a free throw after a foul brought on by the opposing team. Gillom averages about 6-4 rebounds per game.

THREE POINTER. Senior Moneika Pegues stops at the three point line and takes a shot. Pegues averaged about 150 points this season.

DEFENSE. Senior Ivory Alexander stands guard to play defense. Alexander averaged about 1.2 steals per game.

Coach Reaches Milestone

BASKETBALL COACH DREW TYLER COACHES HIS 500TH GAME

Every coach hopes to one day reach the accomplishment that Oxford High alum Coach Drew Tyler reached this year. This 2011-2012 Basketball season Coach Tyler coached his 500th game as an Oxford Charger.

Coach Tyler said that coaching that many games in one school district is "about forming relationships."

With those relationships Coach Tyler has formed memories as well.

"It makes you think back at some of the games and players you had," said Tyler.

Senior Tae Walker said, "(Tyler) is a best friend."

Counting this season, Walker has played under Tyler for four years.

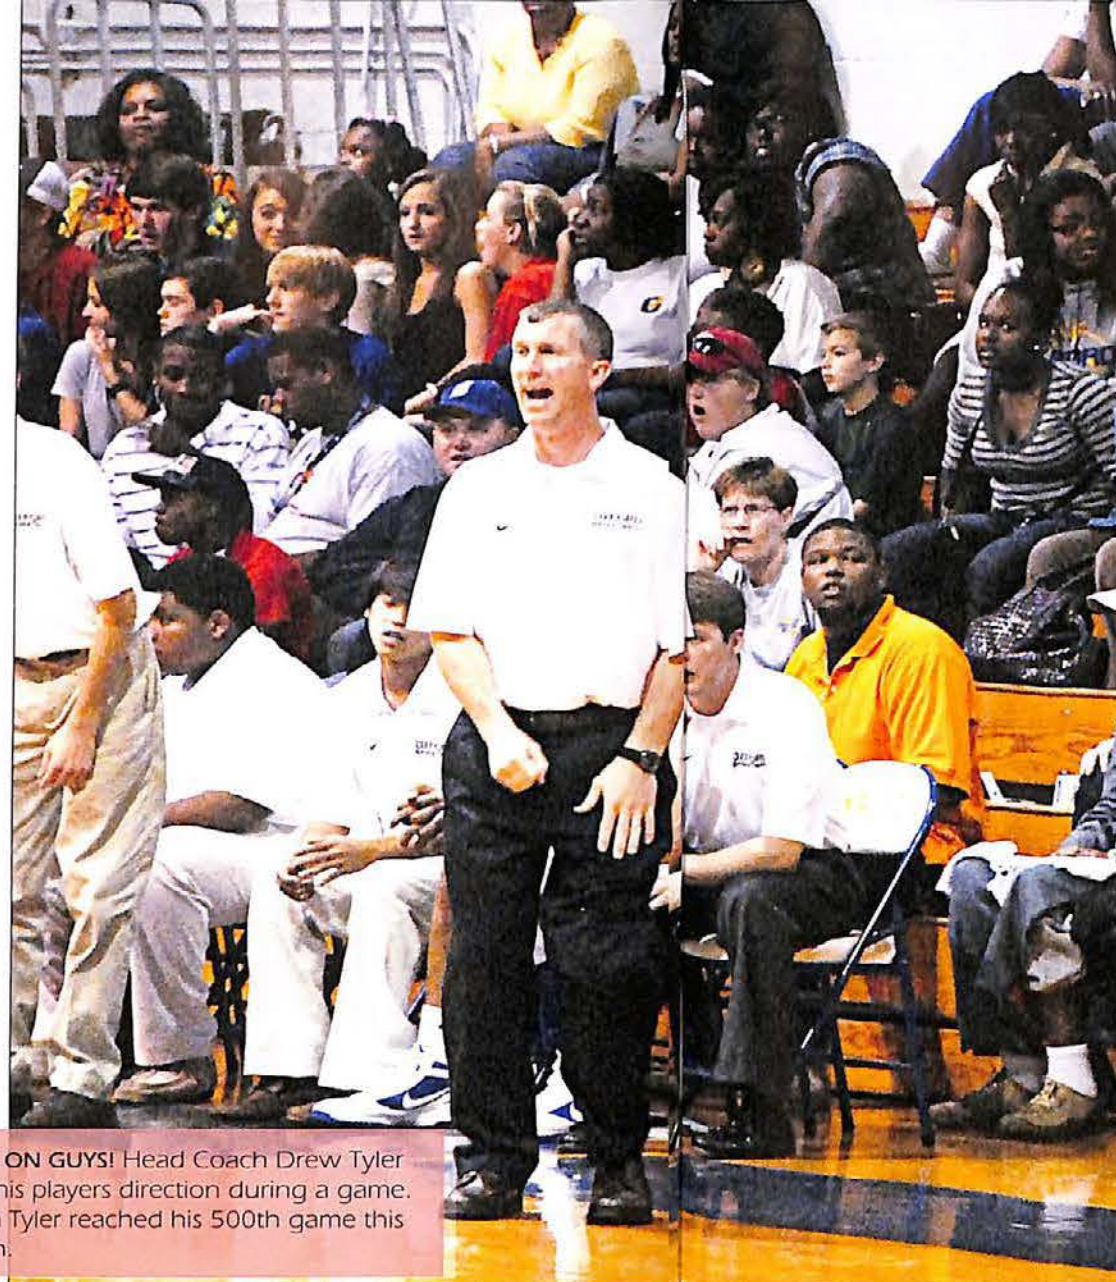

"He helped me come into my skills," Walker said about Tyler.

"I knew I would be taught by one of the best coaches out there," Walker said.

Through the years and success, Tyler has maintained his humor.

"It makes you count the gray hairs on your head," Tyler said.

FAST PITCH. Freshman Ciara Steward pitches a fast ball to the other team. Steward pitched the entire game.

It's All Teamwork

SOFTBALL TEAM WINS FIRST ROUND PLAYOFFS

In softball it's all about the teamwork.

"We're all like sisters, so when we step on the field it's like playing with family," Ciara Steward said.

The softball team worked really hard to get as far as they did. The team was able to win the first round playoffs this past season.

Catcher Payton Drummond loves it when the team wins.

"Whenever we win our spirits are lifted and we all feel fulfilled," Drummond said. "The team learned to keep working together and to not give up."

The team's hard work this year really paid off in the end.

"It was really good when we realized we were going to the playoffs, but it doesn't matter if we didn't because we love just playing the game," freshman Precious McGee said. The team hopes to have another successful season next year.

BOOK IT. Junior Alexis Malone arrives at the base safely before the other team got her out. The softball team has had many successful games this season.

GAME TIME. The team allows their opponent to take the field as they rush off the field. The Chargers were playing against Saltillo.

Journey Toward the Top

YOUNG TEAM REACHES THIRD ROUND OF PLAY-OFFS

Advancing to the third round of play-offs may seem daunting for some young baseball teams. However this was not the case for Oxford's team. The 2012 baseball team, with only four seniors, a young team by most standards with only four senior players, steadily progressed through their season, improving toward the end. Senior Luke Gibbs attributes their progression to a few particular areas on which the team spent much practice time.

"We focused on playing good defense and hitting the ball more consistently," Gibbs said.

That focus and unity propelled the Chargers into the playoffs, but unfortunately, they fell to the Hernando Tigers during the third round.

Gibbs had some advice for his younger teammates looking at next year's season.

"Knowing how you can get so close and still lose it is probably the biggest motivation," Gibbs said about the underclassmen on next year's team.

By: Abby Daniels

GOT IT. Junior Andrell Turner jumps up in an attempt to catch a fly ball. Turner has been a member of the baseball since his freshman year.

CLOSE CALL. Sliding into home plate, senior Luke Gibbs tries to make his way past New Hope's catcher. Gibbs will be attending The University of Mississippi in the fall of 2012 to play baseball.

RUN THROUGH. Junior Henry Webb gets pumped up by Coach Parrish at the end of his run through. Webb was the starting catcher for this year's baseball team.

REACH. Senior James Lear stretches to catch a fly ball. Lear was one of four seniors on the 2012 baseball team.

BACK IT UP. Senior Sam Hunter runs backward to first base. Hunter was the designated hitter for the 2012 season.

A Learning Year

GIRLS GOLF MAKES PROGRESS WITH GRAYZEL-WARD

Practice five days a week. Private coaching one day a week. Practice driving. Practice aim. Play the course. Such is the training of a golfer. The result? Steady improvement. This improvement is especially evident in freshman Sarah Grayzel-Ward.

"Her determination and drive to want to get better is awesome," Coach Jake Hill said about Grayzel-Ward.

According to Hill, this season was a "learning year" for all the golfers, and Grayzel-Ward's "improvements were amazing."

This was not Grayzel-Ward's first year on the green, however. Her father introduced her to the sport when she was eight; she later stopped at age ten.

Grayzel-Ward picked golf up again when she came to highschool this year. Coach Hill said she got better every day and was a "joy to coach."

"One thing I've noticed about Sarah is she's a very competitive and energetic young lady," Hill said.

Grayzel-Ward's teammate, junior Plicca Watt, thinks Grayzel-Ward is very talented.

"She's proved herself to be a great player," Watt said.

By: Eloise Tyner

FOCUS. Freshman Sarah Grayzel-Ward pulls back her golf club in preparation to swing. Her golf clubs were custom made for Grayzel-Ward by one of her father's friends.

FOUR! Sophomore Ben Hubbard steps up to the tee at one of the tournaments. Hubbard turned out to be a great asset to the boy's golf team this year.

MIDDLE: SWING! Junior Turner Arnold prepares to hit the golf ball. Arnold wears his beanie to most of the tourneys. BOTTOM: TO THE TEE. Ward Toler, a junior, strikes the ball off the tee. Toler won second place individually at the State Tournament and was one stroke off from tying for first.

KEEPING IT REAL ON THE GREEN

How did it feel to be State Champions?

"It's what we set out to do."

Ethan Holmes
10th

"It's a really good feeling. I'm glad our hard work has finally paid off."
Ben Hubbard
10th

"It feels pretty awesome 'cause we've worked so hard."

Turner Arnold
11th

"Exciting, it was fun."

Ward Toler

IRON GRIP. Sophomore Mary Randall Ivy swings her club towards the ball. The tournament was held at the New Albany Country Club.

STATE CHAMPS! The boys team stands outside their bus after winning the 5A State Championship Golf Tournament. The team consisted of only one senior, two juniors, and two sophomores this year.

KEEPING IT REAL ON THE COURTS

What is your favorite tennis swing/shot?

"Overhead. You try and hit it so hard, it bounces over the fence."

Collier Phillips
12th

"Volley. You try to angle it so the opponent can't get to it."

Embrey Inman
11th

"My favorite is serve."

Matt Forgette
10th

"Volley. You angle it so that your opponent can't hit it."

Emily Morgan
9th

ABOVE: WHACK! Warming up, sophomore Kara Rose hits a forceful forehand. Junior Embrey Inman was her partner in the doubles.

ABOVE: REACH. Leaping into the air, senior Judson Watson prepares to hit the ball toward his opponent earning a point. Watson played mixed doubles for the team with senior Ann Marie Edlin.

LEFT: HUMPHI Players' facial expressions will often show the intensity of the game, and senior Cari Hansen's expression does just that. Hansen says she enjoyed playing on the tennis team because of the teamwork and the chemistry the team shared.

LEFT: STRETCH. Senior Ann Marie Edlin lunges to hit the ball with a backhand. Last year, Edlin was the finalist at the #1 Girls Singles. RIGHT: LET'S TALK. Behind the fence, Coach Louis Nash talks with junior Baxter Elliott while a match is being played against New Hope. Elliott advanced to the doubles finals and competed in the boys singles match in Clinton.

LEFT: DOUBLES. Eyeing the tough ball from the opponent, senior Emily Domke hits the ball back, and with the help of senior Cari Hansen, they were able to win the match. This was Domke's first year on the team. RIGHT: ALERT. Senior Andrew Mullen devotes his undivided attention as senior Collier Phillips dashes to hit the incoming return. Seniors were recognized that day.

STATE CHAMPIONS! The tennis team shows off their banner after winning the MHSAA 5A Tennis State Championship. This was their fifth championship in a row.

2012 National Merit Finalists

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS. Front: Maia Cotel, Jane Wu. Back: Andrew Mullen, David Li.

National Merit Finalists are chosen based on high scores on the PSAT. This year's Finalists at OHS are Andrew Mullen, Maia Cotel, David Li and Jane Wu. The students are awarded scholarships for their continued education. Andrew Mullen plans to attend Princeton. David Li will head to Vanderbilt in Nashville. Jane Wu will head to University of Pennsylvania, and Maia Cotel is going to Ole Miss.

Star Students and Teachers

STAR STUDENTS WITH THEIR STAR TEACHERS: Jim Reidy, David Li, Jane Wu and Tamsie West.

The Star Students are students who make a perfect score on the ACT. They then choose the teacher who has made the greatest impact on their high school careers as their "Star Teacher." This year's recipients are Star Teacher Jim Reidy with his Star Student David Li, Star Student Jane Wu and her Star Teacher, Tamsie West.

OHS Hall of Fame

HALL OF FAME. Every year 12 seniors are inducted into the OHS Hall of Fame. After a nomination process, applicants write an essay and submit their achievements to the counseling department. Then, all the teachers vote for their top 12 choices. Selection into the Hall of Fame is the highest honor a student can get from Oxford High School. The 2012 Hall of Fame are: Jane Wu, Maia Cotel, Mary Frances DeVoe, Alli Bridgers, Heather Neilson, Katie Krouse, Meredith Sanford, Nuwan Herath, Martin Bodenheimer, Lucian Duchaine, Andrew Mullen, and Jack Schultz.

Senior Field Day

FIELD DAY TURNS OUT TO BE SUCCESSFUL FOR CLASS 2012

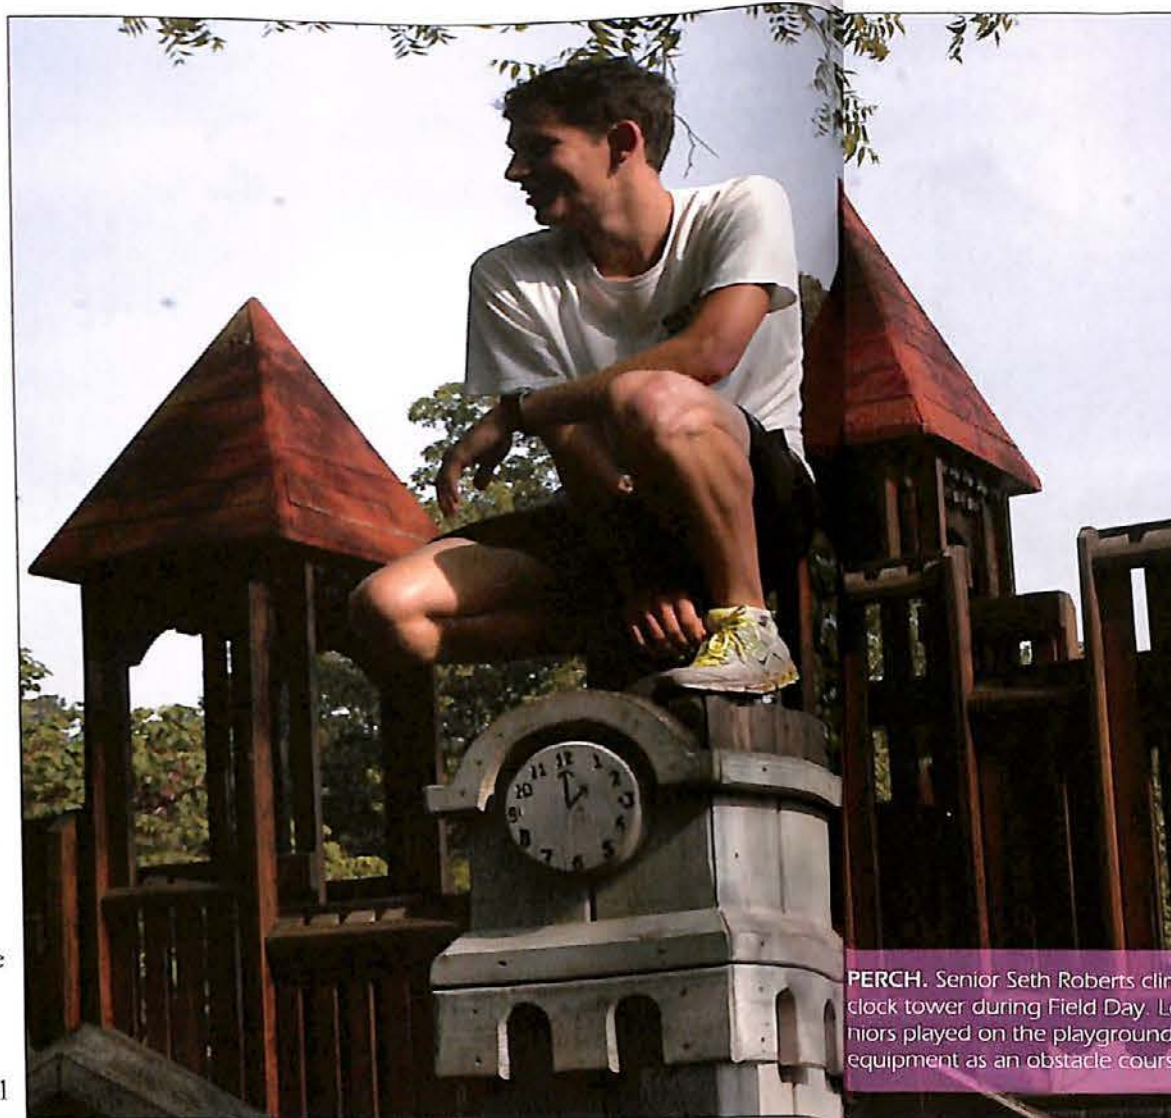

Water balloons, scheduled games and activities and tennis were all part of the festivities of Senior Field Day as the seniors got to have a recess for the first time since middle school. Seniors traveled even further back in time by playing a game of parachute that was popular during P.E. in elementary school.

Field Day was a real success this year. Seniors ran around in the park laughing and living up the last few weeks of their childhood.

The president of the senior class, Heather Neilson, spent countless hours preparing for Field Day and trying to think of things to make it fun for her class. Neilson set up scheduled times for events that the seniors could partake in and purchased several water balloons for the event.

The seniors said they had a lot of fun. The day was spent with laughter, activities, and tons of water. This was a day for the seniors to relax and to get pumped up for the next chapter in their lives.

By: Chase Caldwell

PERCH. Senior Seth Roberts climbs on a toy clock tower during Field Day. Lots of the seniors played on the playground and used the equipment as an obstacle course.

TOP LEFT: DAY OF LAUGHTER. Seniors Joseph McQueen and Chase Caldwell play around at Aventura Park. Field Day was held on Monday, April 10.

BOTTOM LEFT: TIME FOR WAR. Seniors Robert Vaughn and Brandon Flowers prepare water guns to soak fellow classmates. Water guns and water balloons were a huge hit at Field Day.

BOTTOM RIGHT: MUSIC TO MY EARS. Senior Dylan Ballard plays his guitar in order to spice up the groove. Many students enjoyed listening to or playing the guitar.

GOING IN CIRCLES. Some seniors grab a parachute and run in a circle. The seniors played with the parachute as a reminder of P.E. back in elementary school.

RIGHT: JOKING AROUND. Senior Jesse Owens tosses a football in the air. There were several games set up for the seniors to play; people signed up on teams and played games.

LEFT: WHO'S READY? Senior Gabby Gipson grabs two water guns and lets everyone know that she will get them if they spray her. Water was a big part of Field Day.

Real Words From The Graduates

FIVE SENIORS DELIVER GRADUATION SPEECHES

"The future is a fickle thing and our goals to succeed should not be set in stone. Owning a set of Lamborghinis or having a dozen servants waiting on your beck and call does not define success." -David Li

"Take today to stop and think back on all of the struggles and obstacles you have overcome to get here. And remember that as we have so sadly learned this year, life is fragile and fleeting, and we need to recognize and appreciate the present, a lesson that Jack lived by and continues to teach us still." -Maia Cotelio

"They say high school is supposed to be the best four years of your life, but I can look at you and tell you your best days are still yet to come. All I ask of you is to be the best you can be, don't hold back, and make sure you stop and smell the roses; remember you only live once. YOLO 2012!" -DNO Booker

"I stand here today with confidence that each one of you has a bright future ahead. I can not wait to see what each of us has become at our ten year reunion. I challenge you now to never settle for anything less than your best because your best is what you deserve." -Heather Neilson

"So seize the day. Do good. Live a life of empathy and significance. Then, at moments like these, as we transition from one life to the next, we won't have any inhibitions or regrets." -Andrew Mullen

WE'RE DONE! As principal Mike Martin announces that the senior class has graduated, students throw their caps into the air. Some of them found their caps later, but some did not.

SPEAKERS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL. Five seniors had the honor to give speeches at graduation. Each speaker had a five minute limit for their speeches.

A STUDENT REMEMBERED. During graduation, a chair with ribbons and flowers marked the spot where student Jack Pinnow would have sat. Pinnow received an applause when his name was called.

GRADUATED! After receiving his diploma, senior Scott Parkin smiles as he walks to his seat. Parkin plans to go to the School of Engineering at Ole Miss in July.

LEFT: FAKE DIPLOMAS. At practice, seniors got fake diplomas to hold on to. Senior Kiona Belcher carefully looked over hers as she waited for the rest of her row to join her.

BOTTOM: BE AS ONE. At the 8 a.m. practice the morning of graduation, the row of seniors practices standing up together for graduation. Each row had to listen for a particular student's name as a signal to stand up together. They had to repeat the process until they got it right.

IT'S OVER FOR REAL:

What are your real thoughts about graduation?

"Pretty awesome. I'm so excited to leave this place."
Austin Super

"Completely and totally awesome!"
Haleigh Giles

"I'm sure I'll have a panic attack at some point."
Mary Frances DeVoe

"Feels kinda scary but I'm ready for it."
Jeremiah Gordon

PICKING UP. During lunch, senior Matthew Sanders signs for and picks up his cap and gown. The students were only able to get their gowns after paying their graduation fee.

Real Freshman Frustrations

How long did it take for you to feel like you belonged in the high school and why?

"After the 2nd 9 weeks because I wasn't getting lost anymore."
-- Ciara Steward

"After a month or two...
Because before that everyone laughed at you."
-- Lennon Caldwell

"After one to two weeks, I started feeling comfortable with the school because I knew more of the teachers and students and stopped getting lost."
-- Mo Alstaz

"Well, I always had friends in the grade, so it didn't take too long, but I got lost a lot. I felt situated after the first week."

THE REAL REASON

"Oxford High School is not a STAR school by accident. We foster a strong partnership between parents, students, faculty, and the community. Our goal is to produce well-rounded students that enter the next stage of their life with ease, fully prepared for what lies ahead. Our faculty certainly embodies that belief through words and action."

AT THE WELL. As part of the Medieval Faire, students set up a well, just as they might have had in medieval times. Students checked it out to see if it was real.

WORKING HARD. Kennedy Powell and Grant repair the landscaping around the Scott Center sign.

BELOW: GROCERY SHOPPING. Joseph and Destiny finish up at Kroger. It was a part of the students' independent and daily living skills programming.

Opportunities Abound

SCOTT CENTER PROVIDES COMMUNITY EXPERIENCES

The Scott Center, an integral part of the Oxford School District, has been keeping it real for 25 years providing services to students between the ages of 3 years up to 21 years.

"We focus on the real day-to-day aspects of living because some routine activities aren't routine to the students," teacher Minnie gates-Powell said. "It takes step by step planning, hands on experience and community outings to increase awareness and opportunity for transference."

The educational experiences promote meaningful opportunities for success in adult life.

"Within all of us, there is a desire to be successful and independent which starts at home," gates-Powell said. "This is why 'domestic' life domain activity is an important part of our day-to-day lessons. Whether it's cooking or baking, we are learning a skill to increase our independence."

Students also focus on shopping, dining out, reading, recreational experiences and vocational activities.

By: Renee Sullivan-Gonzalez

COOKING AWAY. Teacher Minnie gates-Powell (or "Miss Minnie" as the kids all say,) helps Anthony with the rolling pin as teacher assistant Reilly Hamilton rolls more dough.

CREATING FLOWERS. Lindsay Barefield looks at Cody's impressive artwork. She thought it was a beautiful flower

A BEAR? Grant Ruscoe takes a picture with the bear. Rebel Black Bear paid a visit to the students.

MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL, IS CINDERELLA THE PRETTIEST OF THEM ALL? No, it's Destiny Paredes! Destiny enjoyed dancing at prom along with Anthony.

IT'S A BIRD! IT'S A PLANE! IT'S SUPER-MAN! Miss Minnie, Anthony, and others spend time bird-watching.

NEW OLE MISS FOOTBALL PLAYER. Andrew Burton takes a turn wearing the helmet. The class discussed sports safety.

THIS FOOT TASTES GOOD! The rest of the class has no idea that Cody Reeves is playing around in the jaws of a dinosaur. It was only a part of the life-size exhibit of dinosaurs recently added to the Memphis Zoo.

SEMENTS FOR REAL

WALKING AROUND THE SQUARE. Oxonians and visitors alike enjoy the Square, a popular spot for events like the Double Decker Festival and shopping. Another popular spot is the Oxon Hill Community Center, which offers a variety of programs and services. The center is a great place to get involved in the community and meet new people. It also has a lot of space for events and activities. The center is a great place to get involved in the community and meet new people. It also has a lot of space for events and activities.

Once you were young
And now you're old
With stories yet
That soon will be told

Our years together
They all were great
So go out now
And celebrate!

I remember when you were born
and how I loved you.
I remember how you smiled when I called you
"Honey Bunny."
I remember how you became my Punkin
one October.
You have been in my heart since yours
began beating.
You have been my source of joy and happiness.
You are the most amazing, intelligent, generous,
and wonderful young woman,
in whom I am very proud.
I love you,

Jack Schultz
Andrew Mullen
Chase Caldwell
Mitch Hallam
Joseph McQueen

This bridge will only take you halfway there
To those mysterious lands you long to see;
Through gypsy camps and swirling Arab fairs
And moonlit woods where unicorns run free.

So come and walk awhile with me and share
The twisting trails and wondrous words I've known.
But this bridge will only take you halfway there---
The last few steps you'll have to take alone.

Love you all, Ferg

Andrew MULLEN

DEAR ANDREW,

A few words of "Wisdom"...
"A loyal friend is a powerful defense; whoever finds one has indeed found a treasure.. If you wish it, my child, you can be taught; apply yourself, and you will become intelligent... If you love listening, you will learn, if you pay attention, you will become wise... Reflect on the injunctions of the Lord, busy yourself.

at all times with his commandments...
He will strengthen your mind, and the wisdom you desire will be granted to you."

We are SO PROUD OF YOU!!
We love you,
Dad, Mom, and Alex

COLOPHON

The yearbook staff used 24 Mac computers with Adobe CS4 software to create this yearbook. Our favorite camera was the Nikon D90, but we also used the D80s and the D70s if the D90 was already claimed. We had 385 yearbooks printed using a matte litho custom cover. Our fonts included AWPC Mixage and Adobe Caslon Pro. We spent many many many hours at sporting events, awards ceremonies, and in the hallways hunting for people to get their pictures, their signatures, or their senior quotes. We have to thank all the teachers and staff for their patience and understanding as we put together this yearbook.

It's been a year of fun, but also a year of work and frustrations. It's been a year of pain, sometimes. But, it has been a year...FOR REAL. Thanks from the 2012 Yearbook staff!
