Inside Reading

This course, which is open for any junior or senior, is designed to give students a background in basic mechanical drawing, and architectural drafting.

The teacher, Mr. Paul Bird, said that students taking this course could go into fields such as blueprinting, architecture, and basic architectural design. The first semester of these courses will be in basic mechanical drawing, and the second will be in architectural drafting.

There is also a new club, VICA, at the B and I Center. The letters stand for vocational Industrial Clubs of America. It is open to students in auto mechanics, drafting, metal trades and building trades.

Some people simply like plain chewing tobacco. At OHS, four out of five who chew prefer Red Man or Red Horse. These are two very popular brands of chewing tobacco. Another kind of chewing tobacco does not come in a pouch, but instead in plugs. They are rectangular in shape and the tobacco is pressed together.

This tobacco is stronger in taste and to some has more flavor. It lasts about twice as long as regular pouch tobacco

Charger Football Team

This year the Oxford Charger football team was not up to par. After two consecutive seasons of being second in the Little Ten Conference, the Chargers fell short of the goal line. One of the problems was inconsistency. At times the team would execute an almost flawless effort against an opponent, and at other times, almost everything went wrong. Both the defense and the offense had their moments of glory, but the defense had more moments than did the offense. About mid-way through the season, student apathy set in. No team can perform at its best without support. Even though the record was 3 and 7, statistics looked good. The Chargers were beaten twice by only one point. Even though the Chargers could have done better, in the immortal words of H. D. Wade, "We're still proud of you . . ."

The Varsity Chorus, under the direction of Mr. E. D. Forte, is composed of students selected through individual tryouts. The group participates in assemblies and school concerts.

BRASS ENSEMBLE

The Brass ensemble is a group of musically inclined students who get together during club period to work up popular and jazz numbers. The club has no officers.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club this year increased its membership by over 100%. The organization was begun to create an interest in and provide practice time for the game of chess.

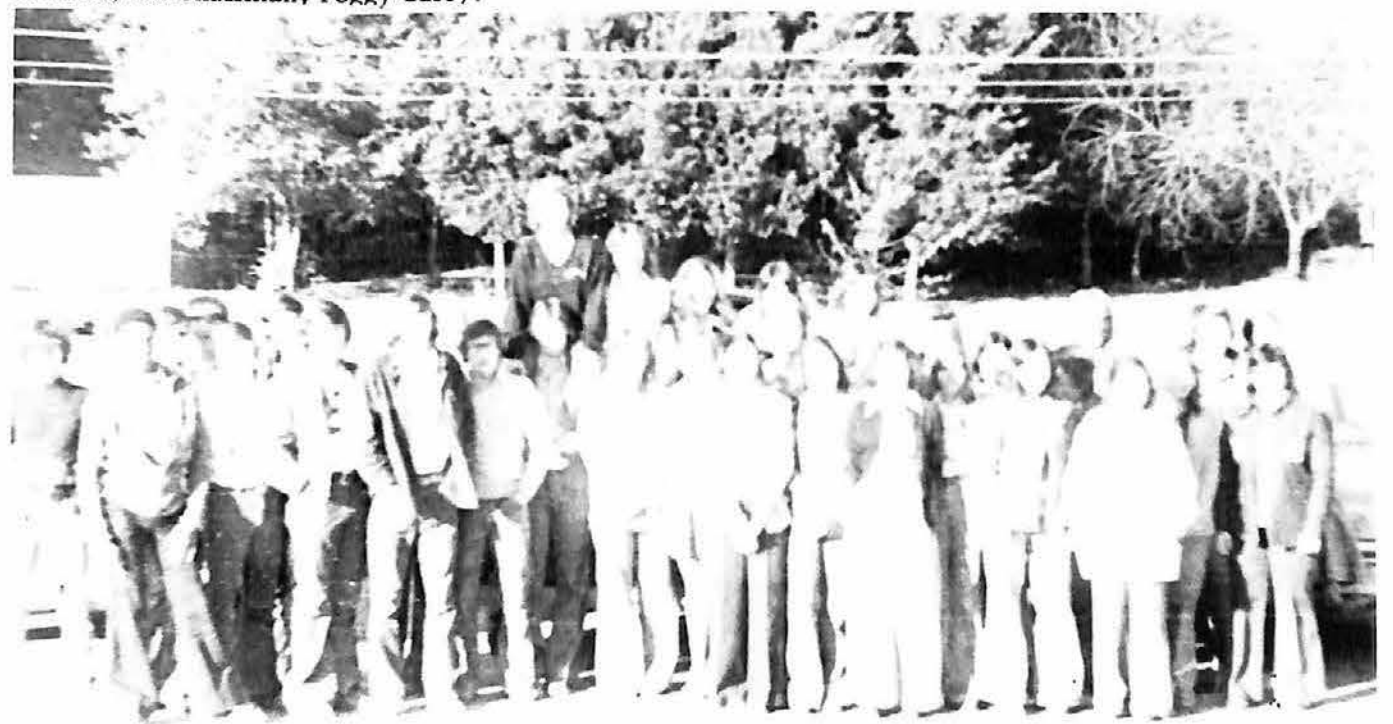

This is the business club's second year at OHS. It too increased its membership by more than 100%. The club sponsor is Mrs. Maxie Lee Work.

BUSINESS CLUB

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Sonia Robbins, is for those students interested in the language and customs of Spanish-speaking regions. The club has made two trips, and this year is making plans for a third. The officers are: President, Karla Nickols; Vice-President, Alice Doorenbos; Secretary/Treasurer, James Coleman; and Program Chairman, Peggy Casey.

DECA

The Distributive Education Corps of America provides young people with the opportunity to learn about marketing and management. The DECA Club sponsors annually a talent show, and enters state-wide DECA competition at their annual convention. The club members are those students taking marketing and co-op.

The Young Americans for Freedom is a national organization in which the local groups compose their own constitution. The OHS chapter chose as their objectives promoting the cause of school-sponsored social events, and drug rehabilitation. The officers are: President, Brian Fox; Vice President, Christi Mosley, Secretary/Treasurer, Patti King; and Program Chairman, Tricia Lee Brown. The club sponsor is Mrs. Burrow.

Y-TEENS

Y-Teens this year was both an A Club, and a B club. Both groups had the same objectives, constitution, and sponsors. The groups tried to meet together after school and have joint activities.

A Word About the Club Program at OHS

Oxford High School offers two types of clubs — A and B. At the beginning of each school year, club selection sheets are circulated and each student signs for an A club and/or B club, or an A and/or B study hall. The program provides for meeting times for each club, and promotes education outside the classroom, fellowship, and recreation.

Signing for a club is comparable to signing for another class. Unfortunately, this often means a long list of club members who are there simply to avoid study hall. Only four meeting periods are provided for each club during the year, so clubs must often meet after school. This year club meeting times have been rotated so that the same class is not interrupted every time, and so that B and I students will not miss so many club meetings. They often miss anyway though. Clubs may charge dues, but may only have one fund-raising project during the year. Also, students must sign for something under the A column, and something under the B column. Students may not belong to two A clubs or two B clubs.

OHS is appreciative of its club program. Appreciative, however, does not mean that there is no room for improvement.

SENIORS 75

Looking back, it's hard to believe that it has only been three years since we started as Sophomores. Remember how we were all looking forward to coming to the High School and then finding out that, according to the nobility (Juniors and Seniors), Sophomores were no more than peasants? Quite a letdown, huh? The whole year wasn't all that bad. Remember that exciting day we had the bomb threat? They herded us out to the football field to sit in the broiling sun while they searched the building for a non-existent bomb. That was without a doubt one of the highlights of our high school career, especially when Mr. Meadows told us where to go! The Charger football team fared well that year, bringing home second place in the conference, losing to Corinth. Another aspect of our Sophomore year was being introduced to "Johnnie," "Paul," and "Al."

The arrival of our Junior year saw us a little older and a whole lot wiser. We discovered the fun of looking down our noses at Sophomores and the joy of inflicting pain with our brand new rings. "Johnnie," "Paul" and "Al" became old friends, not merely acquaintances. But it all evened out in the end because we lost the championship to Corinth once more. Whatever was lacking on the football field, however, was made up on the basketball court. The Chargers went all the way to State; but, unfortunately, they didn't stay long. The team lost their first game and the fans, kicked out of the Holiday Inn, migrated to the Admiral Bimbow. The Class of 75 left a lasting impression in Jackson! The untimely scheduling of the Sprint ACT date during Dixie week didn't hamper our support of ALL University functions - we spent the night in the grove anyway. No one can ever say that our class doesn't know how to party! In summarizing our Junior year, we can't leave out Career Day, made memorable by a tornado which forced us to spend the entire afternoon sitting on the hall floor.

What can we say about this year? It was certainly a shock to wake up and realize that we were the SENIORS and now had the responsibility of corrupting the underclassmen and maintaining the reputation of Seniors at O.H.S. We won't even mention the football team, but again the basketball team fared somewhat better. Also, a new tradition began with the addition of Girl's Sports. After aimlessly wandering around for two years with no real hang-out, we finally found a home - the Pizza Hut. For the first time in five years, O.H.S. had dramatic productions - "You're Only Young Once" and "Bye-Bye Birdie." May 16 loomed before us, and got nearer and nearer as we grew more and more anxious. After the novelty of being a Senior wore off, long winter days set in, broken only by a "January Spring" and finally, a snow fall (after two years of only ice). Warm weather brought its annual epidemic of Sardis Fever. On sunny days it took all our willpower just to sit still. May 3rd came, and to our surprise, once we were out, we began to have second thoughts about how happy we were to get out. They didn't last long though: Graduation night came. And so we leave joyously, exuberantly, radiantly, delightfully, ecstatically, happily . . .

Rural America . . . land of many faces

New home for crowd-weary citizens

Today, all across rural America, old friends are meeting new neighbors . . . as more and more people choose the countryside as the place to make their home.

We welcome our new neighbors. We stand ready to meet their needs . . . to meet the many needs of our changing communities.

Only a few decades ago, we, and the nearly 1000 other rural electric systems in 46 states, were called upon to light the nation's countryside. Now, as the energy crisis challenges our resourcefulness, we are guided by past experience, well served by old values.

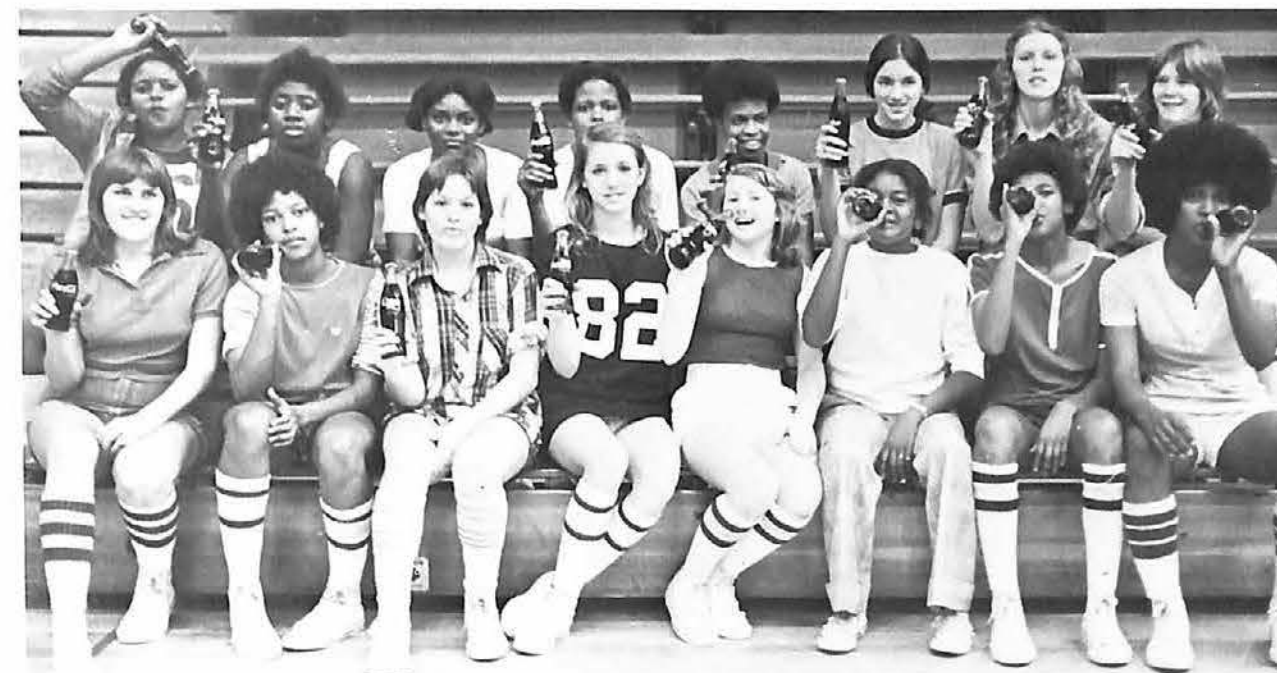

We're at work . . . for you.

THANK YOU to everyone who made the 1975 Flashback possible - the staff who held it under the deadline, the advisor who withstood months of what was going to do, the students who came back for one little picture.

The 1975 Flashback is more than a record of the year's events. It is a scrapbook of memories. Some were bad, but most were good. The '75 Flashback and the '75 school year were alike in that neither were perfect, but both were the best OHS has had.

We of the yearbook staff hope that you enjoy this Flashback as much as we enjoyed bringing it to you.

Leigh Fulwood
Editor, 1975 Flashback
