

COLONEL CLAN

OXFORD HIGH SCHOOL

1970

In Memory of Franklin Edwin Moak, Jr.

X
Death, be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so:
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow,
Die not, poor Death; not yet canst thou kill me.
From Rest and Sleep, which but thy picture be,
Much pleasure, then from thee much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee do go,
Rest of their bones and souls' delivery!
Thou'rt slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell;
And poppy or charms can make us sleep as well,
And better than thy stroke. Why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die!

Holy Sonnets—John Donne

August 24, 1970

I suppose this is the first time I have ever been faced with death. Death is very strange and has many faces. It means relief for pain to some, escape from pressures to others, and honor to a soldier. Many people are afraid of death but for some reason I have no fear. I have faith in my Lord that if I am transferred I will be promoted to a better job.

At first, of course, I was quite alarmed. It seemed sad that my great dreams might never be fulfilled. I have really hoped that I could change the world. Perhaps as a human I have not experienced and tasted all of life. I have never written a book, circled the globe, read enough good literature, written an outstanding song or poem, given a great speech or sermon, been a sports hero, saved anyone's life, learned to play any musical instrument as a virtuoso, discovered a cure to a disease, found a girl I would like to marry, been a national or world leader, ended war, or anything else noteworthy of encyclopedia recognition. But as a child of God I have lived. I have found meaning in my life and love for everyone on earth.

I have found striking similarities in my illness with that of John Gunther, Jr., who is eulogized in the book by his father Death Be Not Proud. He was seventeen as I am and likewise had a tumor. His was a brain tumor and much more severe. At this point it looks like I will live but I want to make some things clear just in case. Johnny Gunther was a remarkable person and the book has provided solace for me. Of course, the Bible has influenced my feelings and helped me more.

If I die I only hope that I have done something for this world. My main prayer is that my departure won't bring grief to anyone. I hate funerals because I think they develop a wrong concept of death.

I honestly think I will pull through this because I believe I can use my faculties for the Lord in this world.

THE TURN OF THE DECADE 1970

Through the COLONEL CLAN the staff hopes to retain the memory of the 1969-1970 school session. The time and effort spent on learning, the tension and competition of sports, the fun of clubs and activities, and the many other things in our lives compose the memory preserved in this annual and in our hearts forever.

The wagon wheel pictured to the left is symbolic of our education. The wheel is in the shape of a circle, which has no beginning and no end, but is continuous. The hub of the wheel represents Oxford High School and its faculty as the focal point of learning. However, a hub alone does not constitute a wheel, for it must have other components before it can serve a useful purpose. Each phase of school life such as activities, sports, clubs, features, and classes is symbolized by the strengthening spokes, which are fastened to the hub and encircled by the rim, that represents the year 1970.

As the wheel turns so does time pass. The staff presents to you, the student body, 1970 THE TURN OF THE DECADE.

Mr. Fondren, you have been a true friend to us. You have overlooked our forgetfulness, our carelessness, and our inconsideration. You have made us look within ourselves and laugh; you have pushed us farther along the road to maturity. Your calm resolution and your perspective of life have taken away our anger and substituted understanding. How can we say thank you to a man who has done all this? We could have offered you a gift, presented you with money, but that is too meaningless for you. Instead, we chose to work many long hours to produce this yearbook for you. The 1970 COLONEL CLAN is only the tangible embodying the intangible - our admiration. Therefore, we are proud to dedicate the 1970 COLONEL CLAN to you, Mr. M. W. Fondren.

George Oxnam

Daintry Richmond

The student body has bestowed on Daintry one of the highest honors attainable at Oxford High School. Miss OHS has served in many capacities during the past four years. Her leadership ability is evidenced by her appointment to the Student Council Cabinet for three years. Daintry's outstanding personality is shown by her election to the Who's Who for four years, and her school spirit elected her cheerleader during her senior year.

George Oxnam

During the past four years, Mr. OHS has clearly demonstrated his abilities in the academic programs, athletic endeavors, and leadership positions. His record at Oxford High School indicates that he has been an outstanding student. The fact that George is a well-rounded athlete is shown by his participation in football, basketball, and baseball. In football this fall he was selected permanent co-captain and awarded the Bobby Holcomb Award for outstanding leadership. His leadership ability is further demonstrated by his election as Junior Class President and President of the Student Body his senior year.

ELECTRICITY GOES TO SCHOOL

One of the most exciting current developments in education is the increasing role that electricity plays in schools. Schools are not only looking modern, they are modern when electricity is used for all energy purposes.

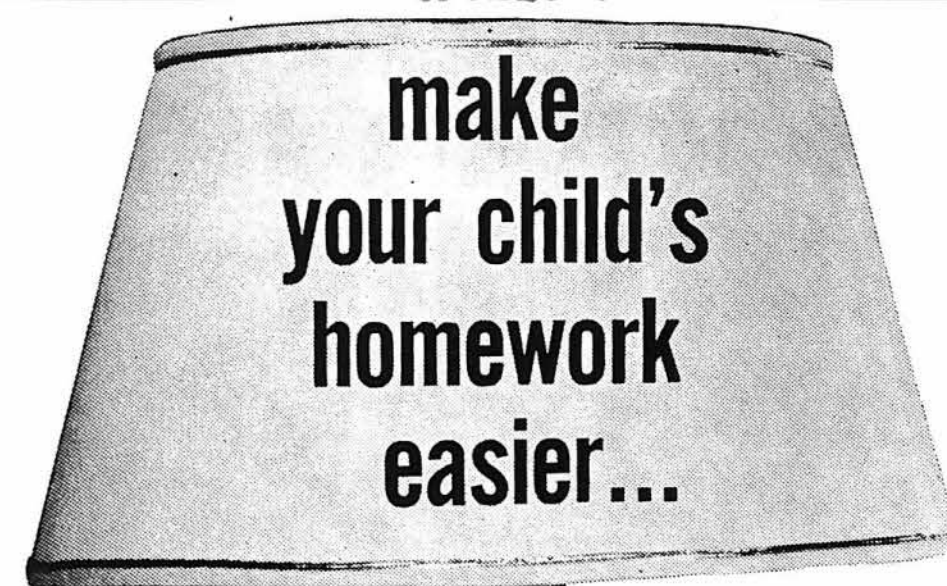

It's important that the right type and amount of light be in the classroom ... that students are comfortable with efficient heating and air conditioning systems ... that school cafeteria facilities are safe and dependable ... and that electricity is there to power the many new teaching aids.

We salute this area's schools, and we're proud of the part electricity plays in your child's education.
