GARA ELIZABETH LACY

In my early days of photography when I was just finding my way I was asked, "What makes your photography business special?" A mentor gave me this to chew on while I jumped into the business of photography.

Through graduating from college with my bachelor's and master's in Fine Art, there was one reoccurring theme I found in my painting and photography. Simplified, it's the cycle of life, how delicate it is and the desire to know where we come from and who we are.

Gara Elizabeth Photography was formed in 2011. After the passing of my grandparents, memories and images of them were so important. My Banyan Roots Photography was realized. It honors the memory of our elders reminding us all how important it is to know who you are by way of where you come from.

To experience my work - especially my fine art - is to know a piece of me. I invite all to experience Gara Elizabeth Photography and to honor our elders, through My Banyan Roots Photography.
