

WELCOME TO GOOGLE SLIDES

Presentations

NEW SLIDE IS THE "+" SIGN UNDER FILE

The image shows the Google Slides interface. At the top, the title bar reads "Untitled presentation" with a star icon and a folder icon. Below it is the menu bar with options: File, Edit, View, Insert, Slide, Format, Arrange, Tools, Table, Help. A status bar on the right says "All changes saved in Drive". The toolbar contains various icons for editing and navigation. A grey sidebar on the left shows a slide thumbnail labeled "1". A panel is open over the toolbar, displaying a grid of slide templates. The templates are arranged in three rows and three columns:

- Row 1: "Title slide" (title and subtitle), "Section header" (title), "Title and body" (title and main content area).
- Row 2: "Title and two columns" (title and two side-by-side content areas), "Title only" (title), "One column text" (title and a single column of text).
- Row 3: "Main point" (title and a large content area), "Section title and description" (title, subtitle, and a large content area), "Caption" (title and a content area with a caption line below).

Each template has placeholder text like "Click to add title" or "Click to add subtitle".

On the right side of the slide, the text "Welcome to Google Slides" is displayed in a large, bold, black font. Below it, the text "Slide 4 Presentation 2016-2017" is displayed in a smaller, grey font.

GOOGLE SLIDES LOOK SIMILAR TO POWERPOINT

The image shows the Google Slides web interface. At the top, the title bar reads "Untitled presentation" and the user's email "cobrien@cohassetk12.org" is visible. The main menu includes "File", "Edit", "View", "Insert", "Slide", "Format", "Arrange", "Tools", "Table", and "Help". Below the menu is a toolbar with icons for adding, deleting, undo, redo, and other editing functions. The main workspace displays a single slide with a large text box containing "Click to add title" and a smaller text box below it containing "Click to add subtitle". An arrow points from the "Theme..." button in the top toolbar to the "Simple Light" theme in the sidebar. The sidebar, titled "Themes", shows three theme options: "Simple Light" (white background), "Simple Dark" (black background), and "Material" (blue background). The bottom of the slide has a "Click to add notes" area.

TO EDIT TEXT - USE THE MORE BUTTON

The image shows the Google Slides interface. At the top, the title bar reads "Untitled presentation" with a star icon and a folder icon. Below the title bar is a menu bar with options: File, Edit, View, Insert, Slide, Format, Arrange, Tools, Table, Help, and "All changes saved in Drive". A search bar is visible on the right side of the menu bar. The main toolbar contains various icons for editing and inserting elements. A specific toolbar for text formatting is expanded, showing options for Bold (B), Italic (I), Underline (U), Text color (A), Link, Unlink, Bulleted list, Numbered list, Decrease indent, Increase indent, and Clear formatting (Tx). A grey arrow points from the word "MORE" in the title to a "More" button in the text formatting toolbar. The slide content area shows a slide titled "1" with the text "Welcome to Google Slides" and "Grade 4 Presentation 2016-2017". A large text box on the slide contains the text "Welcome to Google Slides" in a large, bold font, with a blue border and handles indicating it is selected for editing.

INSERT - LOTS OF OPTIONS FOR ADDING CONTENT!

SLIDE - TRANSITIONS & ANIMATIONS

The image shows the Google Slides interface. The 'Slide' menu is open, listing various actions such as 'New slide', 'Duplicate slide', 'Delete slide', 'Change background...', 'Apply layout', 'Change theme...', 'Change transition...', 'Edit master', 'Move slide up/down', 'Move slide to beginning/end', 'Next slide', 'Previous slide', 'First slide', and 'Last slide'. The 'Change transition...' option is highlighted. A red arrow points from this option to the 'Animations' panel on the right. The 'Animations' panel shows 'Slide: No transition' selected in a dropdown menu, with an 'Apply to all slides' button below it. Another red arrow points from the 'Change transition...' menu item to the '+ Select an object to animate' button in the Animations panel. The main slide area shows a blue rectangular selection box around a text box containing the word 'TITLE'.
