A message from Mr. Rose

As we approach the end of another school year, it is a time for reflection, celebration, and gratitude. This year, in particular, has been a testament to the power of teamwork and collaboration within our district.

From teachers and staff to students and parents, we have witnessed remarkable displays of unity, resilience, and dedication. Together, we have navigated challenges, embraced opportunities, and continued to prioritize the well-being and success of every member of our educational community. One of the key pillars of our success has been teamwork. Whether it is teachers working tirelessly to create engaging lessons, staff members ensuring our schools are safe and welcoming environments, or parents and guardians supporting their children's learning journey, teamwork has been at the heart of everything we do.

As we reflect on the past academic year, we can't help but feel immense pride in what we have accomplished together. Our students have shown incredible growth and determination, overcoming obstacles and reaching new heights of achievement. Our teachers and staff have gone above and beyond, demonstrating unwavering dedication and creativity in their roles.

Looking ahead, we are excited about the possibilities that the future holds. With a strong foundation of teamwork and collaboration, we are confident that we can continue to innovate, inspire, and empower our students to succeed. 'WE ARE WILSON'

As we bid farewell to another school year, let us carry forward the spirit of teamwork and unity that has defined us. Together, we are stronger, and together, we will continue to make a difference in the lives of our students and our community.

Thank you to each and every member of our district family for your contributions, your passion, and your commitment to excellence. Here's to a successful end of the school year and a bright future ahead!

LAST DAY OF SCHOOL

FRIDAY, MAY 24TH

Wilson Primary School

Can you believe this is the last month of the year? How time flies. As we wrap up this year, it is a great time to reflect on the accomplishments, successes, and challenges that you faced this year. According to the article, "Don't Underestimate the Power of Self-Reflection" it explains self-reflection as follows: "The practice itself is all about learning, looking back on the day (without bias or regret) to contemplate your behavior and its consequences. It requires sitting with yourself, taking an honest moment to think about what transpired, what worked, what didn't, what can be done, and what can't. Reflection requires courage. It's thoughtful and deliberate. Being at the "top of your game" only comes when you extract from your past how to engage the future."

Self-reflection is a powerful tool for personal growth. Take time to jot down your thoughts so that you can capture the moments and remind yourself on the things that went well and things that you would try differently. This is also a great time to have students self-reflect on their accomplishments this year.

Let's finish this year strong! Have a great month.

The Importance Of End Of Year Workplace Celebrations

The Value Of Workplace Celebrations

Teams that celebrate together thrive together – truly! While it is important to celebrate success throughout the year, the end of the year is the perfect time to bring everyone together and look at what you and your team have achieved over the last 12 months.

Here's how workplace celebrations benefit the workplace:

- They motivate – recognition is an organic motivator that inspires people to continue being successful.
- They unify and reinforce company culture and values – celebrations have a way of bringing people together, particularly if they follow times of challenge.
- They build momentum – recognizing the small goals provides momentum to continue and achieve the bigger goals.
- They boost positivity – it is easy to get caught up in everything that is going wrong and forget about what is going right. Workplace celebrations shift the focus back onto the good things.
- They reward – recognition and reward are essential to keep your team engaged and motivated. The end of year celebrations are a lovely reward for hard work after a year of trials and tribulations.

- They encourage team bonding – it's been a year of distancing, which can be hard when working in a team. Coming back together (even virtually) helps rebuild those bonds.
- They provide a timeout – after a tough year, your team need space to breathe and step back from work mode so they can start the new year fresh. A workplace celebration is a great way to farewell the old and welcome the new.
