

Summer Reading Assignment 2024

Class Eight

Welcome to Class Eight!

Listed below are the required books for summer reading. You will read each novel, then answer the accompanying study questions in this packet. Please note that all questions should be answered in neat, cursive handwriting. You will submit these assignments to your English and history teachers on the first day of school.

DUE DATE: Wednesday, August 14, 2024

QUESTIONS? Mrs. Woods, kwoods@pcstx.org; Mr. Sague, esague@pcstx.org

REQUIRED READING

Character Qualities in The Chosen

As you read The Chosen, make observations about the major characters and record them on the chart provided. Look for quotes that indicate strong feelings, show differences of opinion, reveal character qualities, or arouse your curiosity.

Be sure to put quotations in quotation marks, indicate the speaker of a direct quotation, and include the page number for each quote. In the "Commentary" section, offer your own thoughts about what the quote reveals about the person's character and/or your reaction to it. Record a minimum of twelve (12) quotes from the text. Select quotes from various chapters rather than from only one part of the book.

Your first writing assignment and the initial class discussion will be based on this novel; use the chart to prepare yourself to offer insights and reflections during discussion and in your writing.

EXAMPLE:

PAGE	CHARACTER AND QUOTE
31	Reuven: "I felt the anger...for me to hate him"
COMMENTARY
Hate is a strong emotion for a baseball game. Is Reuven overreacting?

Battles and People in 1776

NOTE: PRINT PAGES 8-19 ONLY IF YOU ARE READING 1776.

1776 is not a fictional novel and thus requires a different type of reading. Do not become bogged down in the details; instead, try to keep the big picture in mind. Use the chart provided to keep track of the major characters and events.

For the people, jot down two quotes that strike you about each individual. It may be something the person says or a description the author gives. In the notes section, record significant actions or decisions. The last three names on the chart are those of British generals. For these generals, make note of which battles they were involved in and significant decisions they made.

For the battles, look for quotes that reveal the expectations of the soldiers and generals as they prepared for each battle. Did they expect to win? Were the odds in their favor? In addition, note the hardships and struggles faced by the colonists and soldiers as they fought for independence. At the conclusion of each major section of the book, write a brief summary of the major battle, making note of which side won and a couple of important factors in the loss or victory. It is not necessary to write in complete sentences.

For all entries, be sure to include page numbers to indicate where in the text specific quotes appear or where ideas came from.

Observations in The Killer Angels

NOTE: PRINT PAGES 20-24 ONLY IF YOU ARE READING THE KILLER ANGELS.

The Killer Angels is a fictional account of the Battle of Gettysburg, but the generals and soldiers named were real people, and the events are based on historical accounts of the battle. We will not be studying the Civil War until midway through the academic year, and we will visit the Gettysburg battlefield on our Washington, D.C., trip. You will reap the benefits of reading this novel later in the year.

Before starting the novel, read the opening Forward to understand the context for the battle. Each chapter shifts to a different general's perspective, so it will be important to keep track of which army's point of view the characters have in a given section.

As you read, use the chart to record at least three observations about each of the following characters: Longstreet, Lee, Chamberlain, and Buford. Look for quotes that indicate strong feelings, show differences of opinion, reveal character qualities, or arouse your curiosity. Include the page number for each quote and make note of what it reveals to you about the person and/or your reaction to it.

EXAMPLES:

LONGSTREET

PAGE	QUOTE
10	“He had never believed in this invasion...overruled him.”
NOTES
He disagrees with Lee. Will he obey his commander?
