Good Afternoon, Eagle Families,

As we navigate through another fulfilling week here at Anderson Island Elementary School, I want to take a moment to express my deepest gratitude to our incredible educators. This week marks Teacher Appreciation Week, and I am thrilled to shine a spotlight on three exceptional individuals: Mrs. Kamel, Mrs. Tate, and Mrs. Cunningham. These dedicated professionals go above and beyond every day, shaping the minds and hearts of our students. Anderson Island Elementary is truly blessed to have such outstanding teachers guiding our children on their educational journey.

To Mrs. Kamel, Mrs. Tate, and Mrs. Cunningham: Your passion, dedication, and unwavering commitment to our students do not go unnoticed. Thank you for all that you do.

Additionally, our screening of our second graders will take place next Monday morning. We will commence the screening promptly at 9:15 AM in the Library. Your cooperation and support are greatly appreciated as we ensure our students' well-being and academic progress.

As we head into the weekend, I encourage everyone to take some time to enjoy the beautiful weather and recharge. Whether it's soaking up the sun, spending time with loved ones, or diving into a good book, make sure to make the most of this well-deserved break. Remember, reading is a beautiful way to relax and expand our horizons.

Have a great weekend, everyone. Remember to get outside and enjoy our beautiful weather, get some rest, and keep on reading.

I will see you all next week.

- Mr. Miller
