Word Parade

Thursday, June 6, 2024

Our word of the week culminates into a school-wide Parade of Words. This year, Eisenhower students were introduced to exciting words every week. Some of our fabulous words included persnickety, skedaddle, and compassion. Now it is your child's chance to showcase a word and create a word costume. Words can come from any of the content areas (math, reading, science, social studies, health, physical education) or a word that is interesting.

Students are invited to create a word costume and Vocabulary Parade Card to hold or wear around their neck during the parade. Students are encouraged to participate.

Here is an example of the word card.
