CONFERENCE DETAILS

Join us as we welcome Scott Ervin, Jedd Hafer, and the Behavioral Leadership Team of educators for three days of Behavioral Leadership training! When used cumulatively, the procedures and strategies learned during this training are a comprehensive way of creating a calm, loving, inclusive, equitable environment where students can learn, be engaged, feel safe, and love being in the classroom.

During the first two days, Jedd and Scott will lead participants as they learn procedures for building relationships and sharing control that will allow students to manage their own classrooms and feel safe in a classroom over which they feel ownership.

On the final day, Jedd and the Behavioral Leadership Team will teach the comprehensive set of strategies necessary to prevent negative behaviors, mitigate low-level negative behaviors, and to properly respond to serious or chronic negative behaviors without anger, warnings, lectures, threats, or bribes. Participants will learn to teach positive behaviors just like they teach academic skills!

For more information call 330-799-6842 Option 0.

These methods are simple and get results. They can be used on the very first day of the school year. Make this your best year yet!
