

Zhenying Jiang

My name is Zhenying Jiang, and I am the mother of three lovely daughters, two of whom will become first graders in the coming year. Since moving to this country five years ago, I have been working with children with developmental disabilities. I hold a Master's degree in Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education and am currently pursuing a Doctorate in Special Education at the University of Kentucky. My academic and professional experiences have fueled my passion for advocating for diverse families and promoting inclusive education.

Over the past year, I have served on the executive committee of Kentucky Association for Behavior Analysis, striving to make resources more accessible for children in needs across Kentucky. Representing RPE on the SBDM Council aligns with my commitment to enhancing the educational experiences and lives of children and their families. As a minority and a professional in special education, I believe my unique perspective will be a valuable addition to the Council, helping to ensure that all children and families receive the support and education they deserve.
