SENIOR CLASS

The Senior Class of 1942 first entered the halls of Bellevue High School as freshmen in 1938. Their freshman year was quite successful, with the students decorating for baccalaureate and also sponsoring the freshman dance. Many members of the class that year were in various activities, such as the operetta, and athletics.

The Sophomore year was equally good, with another dance and the decoration of the clubhouse for Commencement as the outstanding activities. As Juniors this class was obligated to take over the candy counter; they also sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet, and were the co-workers of the Junior-Senior Prom, which was held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Seattle.

The final year was successful, despite the fact that war was declared a little less than half way through the school year. "What's Cookin'?" the traditional senior play, was presented under the able guidance of Mrs. Akin and Mr. Osborn, class advisers, to whom is owed much of the success of the class. The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom were again sponsored by the two upper classes, and the Seniors wound up the year at the Commencement exercises which were held May 29 at the Bellevue Gymnasium.

Esther Timson will find no trouble in the course of designing with her good working ability — that is, if she can keep her mind on her work!

Amy Sakaguchi—known as "Sock-a-Golf-Ball" in her grade school "daze" plans a career as a designer.

Viola Swanson, brilliant (?), active, popular, maybe that's why she has two alternatives — one is continuing school to learn more about dressmaking and the other depends upon Bob.

With the determination to do or die, Gilbert Hanson joined the Navy at the outbreak of the war.

Although his senior year was cut short, Bob Younger joined the Navy to do his part in protecting his country and ideals.

Stan McLane, our Alaskan Sourdough, left for Alaska before school was out, but he is expected to join the services of Uncle Sam in the near future.

Wanye Killinger will soon be "swabbin' 'em down", and ought to be good at it. If he can find some way to make an argument out of it.

Virginia Whipple: A champ debator who is plenty handy with the gavel. She's been Mrs. Stevenson since February.

Jewel Osborn — A mid-year grad who has acquired the life long job of chief cook and bottle washer. Congratulations, Mrs. Penner!

Millie Walker, who is waiting for her ship to come in, will make a good "little woman" because she has two rings already.

Dorothy Brown, better known as "Dot" to the guys and gals of B. H. S. Bellevue's losses will be some kitchen's gain.

"How to win friends, and influence people" ought to be Gerald Ibsen's motto. With a sense of humor like his, a person's bound to go a long ways. (I think).

Jack Gale's unswerving steadiness the last three years should benefit him well, with some defense job employer.

As one of the most ardent Future Farmers in Bellevue, Kenji Yoshino looks forward to vast fields of fertile crops, under his management.

Kaz Kamihara, truly an artist at heart, plans to use more practically his skill with the easel and brush.

FUTURES FOR '42

Supposedly shy (but we aren't so sure), the chances are, Priscilla Stevenson will follow in her parents footsteps by wanting to teach school.

Peggy "Red" Dawes is planning to go to the University and take a course in advanced music. I'm sure you'll all agree that she has talent.

Doris "Quiet" Schoning is planning to continue her hard-working attitude at Seattle Pacific College.

Mae Morioka is very much interested in cooking and is thinking seriously of teaching it. As hard a working girl as she is, she is bound to overcome all obstacles in her path.

You will all remember Eugene Johnson as the "gas-station attendant", of Bellevue High School. He will probably own a service station of his own eventually.

Merle Brann intends to put some of that enormous amount of energy to work for Uncle Sam in some war industry.

A good example of a boy who is out for a good steady job is Ken Breidenstein. He is especially versatile in Business Law. (Better check with Miss Ingalls on that).

Don Brown's shy ways and good personality are bound to carry him a long ways.

JUNIORS

Although this year has not been very eventful for the Junior class, it has been very profitable. The class has the sensational feeling of winning the poster contest for Football Home Coming Day for which there was a reward of a quarter-holiday. They also have to their credit the candy counter which has brought profits to the treasury.

The traditional Junior-Senior Prom was sponsored by these two classes in Seattle, on May 2, and was a great success. The annual Banquet, sponsored by the juniors, went over well, too.

The two class advisers, Miss Birchdale and Mr. Hall must have due credit for the wonderful way in which they have guided the class.

SOPHOMORES

Well! Next year the mighty sophomores will be even mightier classmen. They are very grateful to the help given them by their class advisers, Miss Davis and Mr. Green.

Many of the boys and girls in the sophomore class were active in sports — football, basketball, baseball, and tennis — and will undoubtedly become first-teamers in their junior year.

At Christmas time they gave a present of a bathrobe and game to Bob LeGate who was unable to be with his class this year.

According to tradition they decorated the clubhouse for Commencement and wound up the year with their class picnic.

FRESHMEN

A record breaking class enrolled as Freshmen at the beginning of the 1941 school year, seventy-one in all.

Its number, however, was by far excelled by its activities which included making shaker sticks, megaphones and corsages for the football games in order to raise the school spirit. Later in the year the ever-busy freshmen sold magazines in order to put money in the class treasury. They were also given a skating party by the Senior Class in return for the splendid showing they made in ticket sales for the senior play.

As was the custom of the class, the Freshmen decorated for Baccalaureate Services for the Seniors at the end of the year. This class feels that their success was due in large part to their class advisers, Miss Ingalls and Mr. Dick.

ORGANIZATIONS

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

The Associated Student Body, having the greatest percentage of student tickets ever sold to back them, again staged a very successful year by presenting many schoolwide activities. Some of these were monthly movies, vodvil, and assemblies. Money donated to the A. S. B. treasury by the Boys' Club, and the Girls' Club was very much appreciated and was used to a good advantage, by paying for some of next year's athletic equipment.

HONOR SOCIETY

Out of the forty-six members of the '42 Honor Society nine members of the sophomore class received one-bar pins, seventeen members of the junior class were awarded two-bar pins, and twenty seniors were torch bearers.

To carry out the annual tradition, the group presented an hour program for the High School Student Body, in the form of an "All High Assembly". This consisted of student talent only, and was met with approval. For educational purposes, the society made an excursion to Seattle in the spring.

BOYS' CLUB

Facing the club this year were many problems which were taken up with a brave heart to solve. Under the able direction of Mr. Ousley it succeeded with flying colors. The outstanding feat of the year was the Sadie Hawkins Day of which the boys were the originators. Also, the Boys' Club donated a sum of money to the annual from the proceeds of the movie, The Count of Monte Cristo. Although the Girls' Club won the Defense Bond Contest sponsored jointly by the two clubs, it was by a margin of only a few dollars and the total sum of stamps bought was over two hundred dollars. Also sponsored were the Harlem Globe Trotters, several speakers, and ticket selling contests.

GIRLS' CLUB

"Girls' Club to Give Tolo Skate", "Girls' and Boys' Clubs Jointly Sponsor Sadie Hawkins Day" — such have been headlines of the current school year. In addition to sponsoring several activities — the tolo which was held in November, Sadie Hawkins Day, the sale of Defense Stamps, Red Cross work, wool sock dances and movies — the club has helped keep up the morale of the school with its big sister, standard, lost and found, and various other committees. Without doubt, the Girls' Club was one of the most active organizations of 1941-1942.

SECOND: V. Nelson, Muscatell, Bird, Miss Lillquist, T. Lee, C. Murphy. FIRST: Croasdill, D. Brown, Volk, Swanson, Craft, Grundy, Treffinger.

BARQUE

This year's school paper has everything! Especially so under the capable supervision which Miss Birchdale has given her Comp. III class who edit the "Barque" each month.

Margaret Syrett and Doris Treffinger were the "big chiefs" the first semester; then Marjorie Murphy and Edith Benson took over the first edition of the second semester. Tony Aries and Hiroshi Sorakubo finished out the year with flying colors. Due credit is given to each member of both classes for bringing in good material as reporters, and to the typing classes for the manner in which they helped publish the Barque.

BEACON

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Akin and Editors Thelma Lee and Betty Smith, the 1942 Beacon went to press for the nineteenth consecutive year. Although a smaller staff was selected for the year, it proved very efficient.

Sincere thanks is given to the Girls' and Boys' Clubs for their donations which helped to make a bigger and better annual. Special credit goes to Typists, Mary Masunaga and Yoneko Yoshimoto, and Business Manager, Paul Gilmore, who was ably assisted by Edith Volk.

GIRLS' BIG "B"

Eighteen girls who were awarded first team letters for participating in sports were this year's members of the Girls' Big "B". Two new members were admitted into the club, Doris Treffinger and Veve Belote, and the remainder earned their original laurels through former activities. Although it was not organized until late in the year, the club, under the capable leadership of Miss Ingalls, participated in two outstanding features. They entertained the Oak Harbor basketball team on its annual visit here with an after-game dinner. Later in the school year a tea for their mothers was given by the girls. Officers elected by the club were: Viola Swanson, president; Peggy Dawes, vice-president; and Shirley Smith, secretary.

BOYS' BIG "B"

The Boys' Big "B" Club, headed by Coach Harold Dick, completed another year of active duty around school. Members of the club helped in the guidance and refereeing of games and contests in physical education and gym classes. Previous years have shown the Big "B" Club presenting the famous Harlem Globe Trotters, but the sponsorship was turned over to the Boys' Club this year.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra this year was made up of fifteen members under the direction of Miss Lillquist. Three of the members were beginners, and the remaining ones were with two or three years of experience. A good deal of new music was purchased including the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra Folio.

The group was called upon to play for assemblies, vodvil, and graduation exercises.

BACK: Todd, J. Babcock, J. Green, Gilbert, Lloyd, D. Babcock.
FRONT: M. Treadwell, Nation, T. Babcock, F. Jones, M. Stevenson, Dawes, Miss Lillquist.

GLEE CLUB

Students hearing sounds such as mi! mi! mi! from the cracks and crevices of Room B during the last year were not alarmed. They knew far behind that door, 32 girl and 7 boy Glee "Clubbers" were "swingin' it" to the piano accompaniment of Mary Elizabeth Hilton. In front of the room Miss Lillquist directed with great fervor.

Giving out with mostly "the strictly classic" these girls and boys were featured on the Christmas program and the biennial vodvil.

FOURTH: Hennig, Krepelka, Siepmann, Osborn, Rose, P. Allen, LeGate. THIRD: Loughran, I. Kardong, C. Murphy, Bird, V. Lee, L. Smith, Hilton, Miss Lillquist, Fosnes. SECOND: K. Kamihara, B. ## A CAPPELLA

This year A Cappella was composed of both boys and girls, the number totaling about twenty. They sang four and five part harmony, unaccompanied. The wearing apparel for the choir was white sweaters or blouses and dark skirts for the girls and white sweaters or shirts with dark trousers for the boys.

The organization sang a number of times for different groups outside of school, and also the vodvil, assemblies, and other school activities.

SECOND: B. Brown, I. Potts, Dawes, Craft, LeGate, Benson, E. Timson, Boddy, Miss Lillquist, FIRST: Sakaguchi, Stevens, D. Jackson, Younger, K. Nomura, Volk, Croasdill.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Crank, (puff), crank, (kick, ouch). It's the F. F. A. boys cranking that tractor to plow their plot.

This last year has seen an increase in F. F. A. Cooperative projects and community service. Many trees were pruned and several acres of crops have been cooperatively planted.

The basketball team played neighboring F. F. A. chapters and won the majority of the games. Other activities of the year were entering F. F. A. judging contests, and the annual Parent and Son Banquet, F. F. A. softball games, etc.

THIRD: Gibbons (Vice President), Mr. Hall, Hennig. SECOND: M. Brann (President), D. Smith, H. Olsen, T. Babcock (Reporter). FIRST: D. Babcock (Secretary), H. Green, K. Kamihara, G. Olsen, Y. Yoshino (Treasurer), Mason (Watchdog).

MORE "FUTURES"

Mary Masunaga can sure give any teacher plenty of competition in the Commercial Field. If all students were as good, Mrs. Akin would surely "ache" with joy.

Here's a girl who can really go about business -- Thelma Lee will try to land a rich boss. Her future depends on Ken B.'s Chevrolet and his financial position.

Anne Croasdill will be the "little" secretary on her boss's knee — no dead weight there!

Jane Hayashi that wonderful office girl who will continue her career as a secretary — a failure for her is beyond anyone's imagination.

Yoneko Yoshimoto, our speed queen typist can sure pound those keys! She'll land a job, sure — her shorthand is superb, too.

Betty Tucker, popular BHS deb will go on to business college. Her typing ability will insure her success as a secretary.

With the never-ending call for defense workers, Ken LeGate hopes to help out the government by taking part in one of these vital war industries.

After completing 4 years of brilliant work in the scientific department of Bellevue Hi, Roy Matsuzawa plans to carry on still farther in that line.

Keith West plans to go on measuring "bored" feet and driving his lumber truck.

Robert Lange plans to answer the call to the flag by joining the army of working men when school is out.

Jean Berschneider, more commonly known to her friends as "Stinky" is the Mercer Island "babe" who knows her fads and fashions.

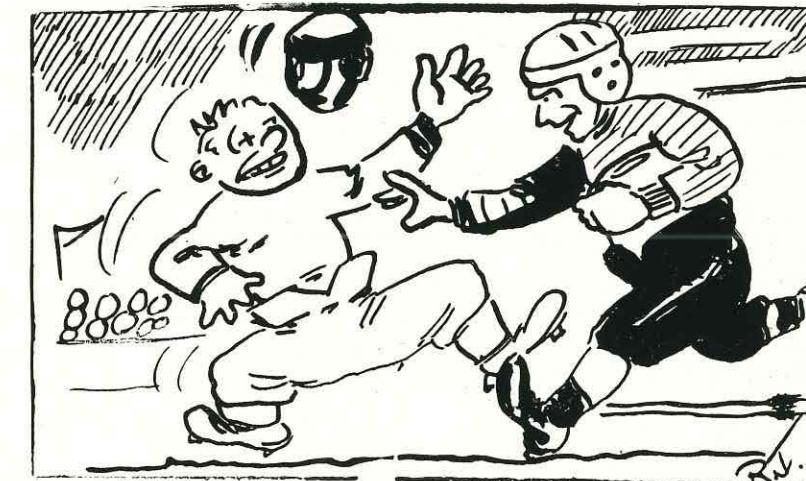

Helen Craft, the "songbird" of Bellevue High, was outstanding in vocal work. Her future depends on Ken.

Rosanne Stevens is a skating star who is a pretty good housekeeper on the side. She'll make a good skating partner for someone — also a good wife.

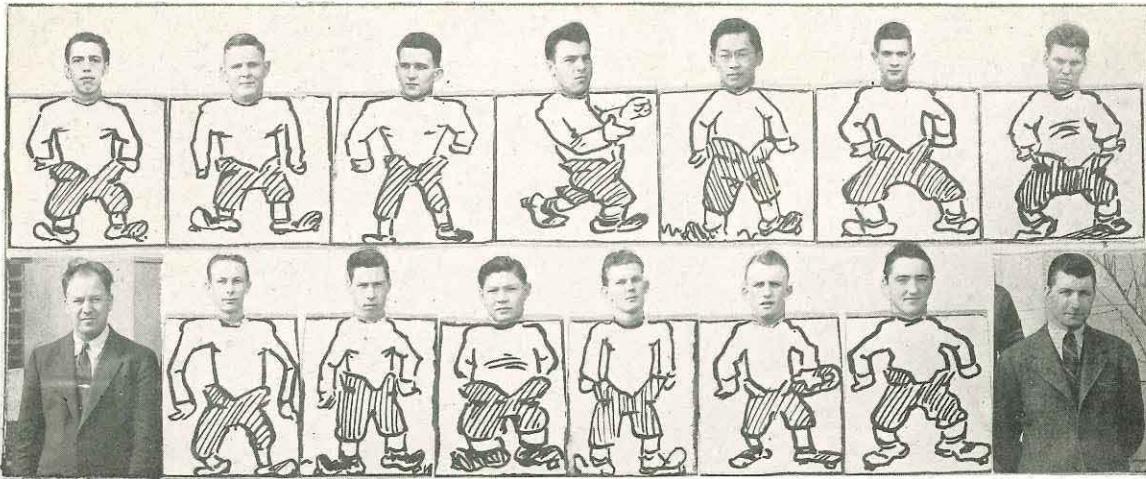

Rosemary Collins — As feminine athletic champ of Bellevue High, probably do her housework in an athletic way too. Isn't that right, Jack?

Fuyuko Kamihara is a very versatile girl whether it be at the kitchen stove or the sewing machine, but will undoubtedly make a good home-keeper.

FOOTBALL

A new record as far as football is concerned was established by the Wolverines of the 1941-42 squad, which, for the first time in the history of Bellevue High School, went undefeated to win the Lakeside League championship. Even though the competition was keen, Bellevue was able to complete the current season with the grand total of six wins and one tie to cinch the top place honors.

Not enough can be said about the splendid coaching that was displayed this year. As it is well known, this was Coach Dick's first year of coaching here, but with his proven knowledge of the game and Mr. "Pop" Green's long coaching experience the skillful tactics of football were transmitted to the players themselves.

As a closing gesture of the football season the Bellevue business men awarded each player and coach with a beautiful silver football to be worn on a watch chain in remembrance of the successful season. Similar pins were also awarded to the team by the coach.

BASEBALL

Baseball, American boyhood's favorite game, was played at Bellevue High School this spring with a zip and snap that made the student body glow with pride. Ozzie's "hickory stickers" and "cowhide snatchers" are well on their way, having won all three of their practice games, trimming Meridian, Black Diamond, and the local Army team under the brilliant pitching of George Knell and Laverne Hill and with splendid cooperation from all the rest of the team.

Several freshmen and other classmen made good showings and increased competition for positions. Our team has shown great strength, both offensively and defensively, having played its first game with no errors and blasting Lakeside for 13 runs. Other teams in this year's league are Issaquah and Bothell.

Although there was no organized girls' team this year due to the lack of competition, turnouts were held during the spring season.

SECOND: V. Lee, Canfield, S. Smith, Benson, P. Stevenson, Rose, B. Schoning. FIRST: Moravec, B. Smith, M. Treadwell, J. McLane, Miss Ingalls, Moore, Belote, Swanson.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

"You can win if you try," is the slogan Coach Dick pounded home. This year was the best season Bellevue has had for quite some time in basketball. Under the brilliant coaching of Mr. Dick and with the sharp shooting of Knell and Brown, and the spectacular defense of the remainder of the team, the Wolverines ended the season with third place in the Lakeside League. The main reason for the team's ending up in the higher brackets is the "consistent scrap" which this year's team possessed. One of the most important additions to the group was Elmer, our Wolverine mascot.

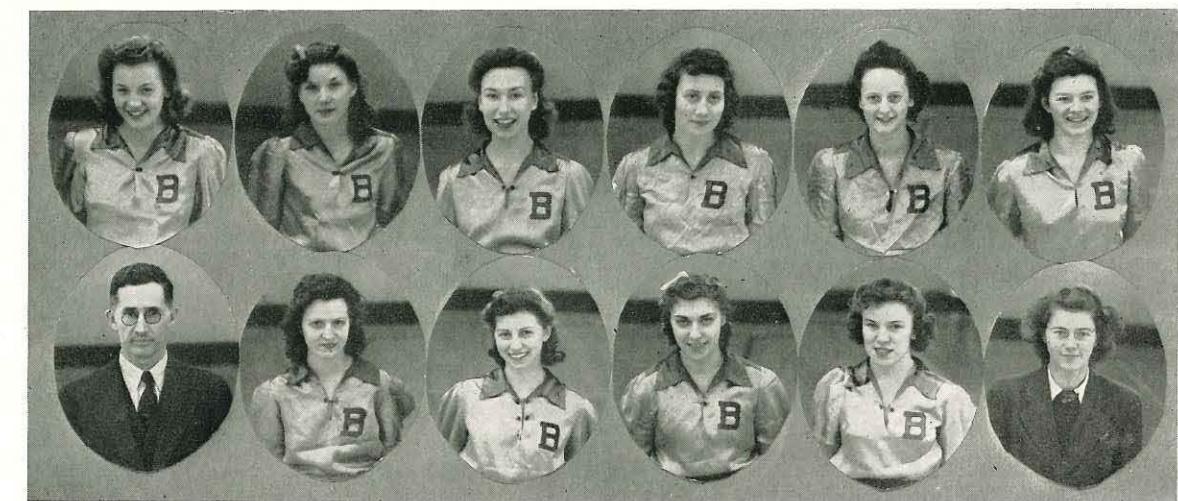

The scores did not do our team justice, because our hard-fighting boys lost four of their games by a total of eight points. These games were lost in the final minutes of play.

Due to the evenness in ability of the first string players, the inspirational trophy, which was awarded to George Knell at the annual basketball banquet, was quite difficult to decide. But there is no doubt in any student's mind that he didn't deserve it.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Monday, March 9, ended another victorious basketball season for the girls. This year, as for many years in the past, they have succeeded in defeating all opposing teams in the YWCA League. Only one defeat marred their marvelous record but this, not being a league game, did not lower their standing.

At the annual basketball banquet first and second team letters were awarded. Those receiving second team letters were: Marjalu McDonough, Eilene Porter, Vasho Blana, Venita Porter, LaLoie Smith, Betty Bird, Martha Treadwell, Irene Kardong, Catherine Murphy, Anna Allen, Agnes Muscatell, Betty Krepelka, Marillyn Stevenson, Dolores Ruby, Jettie McLane, and Mary Masunaga.

Rosemary Collins was chosen by her teammates as the most inspirational player of the year and was presented with the trophy.

TENNIS

Although they were placed at a disadvantage because of frequent winds and rains, the netters gave the school a good showing in the tennis tournament and put a good foot forward during the whole spring season.

Twenty-six students turned out, and under the instruction of Mr. Dick and Miss Ingalls, presented many promising players, the foremost being Bill Takano, Don Boden, Phil Jensen, and Phil Toman for the boys, and Edith Volk, Doris Treffinger, Shirley Grundy, and Janie Henry among the girls.

PRODUCTIONS

SENIOR PLAY

"What's Cookin'?", under the direction of Mrs. Akin and Mr. Osborn was presented by the Senior Class on Friday, March 13. This unlucky date held no fears for the well-prepared cast headed by Gerald Ibsen as Count Stafano of Sardina and Priscilla Stevenson as Phyla Truesdale, the daughter of "the -- er -- Chicago Truesdale's you know". The comedy was a huge success, greatly enjoyed by every member of the audience.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASS PLAY

One of the most exciting stage-productions of the year was presented this winter season by the members of the first semester Public Speaking Class.

This mystery comedy entitled, "The Call of the Banshee", was ably directed by Mr. Elmon Ousley.

The feminine lead was portrayed by Viola Swanson who with the help of her romantic lead, Bill Stevenson, solved the mystery of the weird call of the Banshee. Superior support of the entire cast made this production the hit of the year.

VODVIL

The humorous production, "Who's Boss?", including a cast of eighty members made a very successful vodvil for 1942. It consisted of music, dancing, skits, and dialogues, which were woven into one complete story, written by Miss Gladys Birchdale and Miss Elve Lillquist. The plot centered around a boss who was hen-pecked at home and was planning on retiring but wanted to change circumstances at home before retiring.

The music for this performance was under direction of Miss Lillquist, dramatics, Miss Birchdale, and dancing, Miss Ingalls.

DEBATE

The honor of representing the entire district at the Washington State College Tournament was given to the Bellevue Debate Squad after several practice tournaments. Four of the Bellevue students brought home two second place cups from the C. P. S. Tournament which was next on the schedule. These same four, Edith Volk, Virginia Whipple, Bill Takano, and Jack Floyd, took a new style of debating, and entered the University Debate Contest from which Edith, Bill and Jack won blue ribbons. The team later received an invitation to the National Forensic League Tournaments in Montana and Idaho.

The squad wishes to dedicate its winnings to Bob Younger, who entered the service in December, and also to thank its coach, Mr. Ousley, for his untiring efforts.

Paul Gilmore plans to develop his technique this summer so that next winter when the cold winds begin to blow, he will always have some girls subject to call.

Douglas Babcock is witnessing the quest for further knowledge and therefore hopes to attend Washington State College with the scholarship he has earned for his high scholastic rating which he duly earned.

Phil Toman, the "dry humor" man, hopes to work this summer, and go on to the University of Washington; if Uncle Samuel has no plans by then.

Kenny Carlson, our hero(?) of the gridiron, plans to go on to Washington State College in the hope of accumulating some added bruises and bangs, as well as acquiring some added schooling.

Don Jones, the Physicist of Bellevue, plans to apply himself more extensively for the practical knowledge of the physical elements at the University of Washington.

Edith Volk.—A very popular girl in both sports and extra-curricular. She hopes to take a course in diabetics at the U. of W.

Jean Babcock, with her shy movements, will really make good in child training—she's so quiet she couldn't make a baby cry.

Russell Nelson wishes to become a pharmacist or a musician, and intends to go on to the U. of W.

With the one thought of becoming a commercial airline pilot, Don Boden plans to study aeronautics at the University of Washington.

Bill Stevenson, with the idea of helping Uncle Sam out, intends to take a course at the "U" in Naval Science and Tactics.

With the idea of obtaining a permanent defense job, Bill Berrian is just about through with the grocery store business.

Bill Takano, a true athlete, plans to go on to a University and carry on with his engineering and mathematics work.
